influenced national politics During Reconstruction black Washingtonians were first to exercise their new franchise But when congressmen abolished local governance in the 1870s they set the precedent for southern disfranchisement In the aftermath of this process memories of voting and citizenship rights inspired a new generation of Washingtonians to restore local government in their city and lay the foundation for black equality across the nation And women were at the forefront of this effort Here Mary Elizabeth B Murphy tells the story of how African American women in D C transformed civil rights politics in their freedom struggles between 1920 and 1945 Even though no resident of the nation's capital could vote black women seized on their conspicuous location to testify in Congress lobby politicians and stage protests to secure racial justice both in Washington and across the nation Women crafted a broad vision of citizenship rights that put economic justice physical safety and legal equality at the forefront of their political campaigns Black women s civil rights tactics and victories in Washington D C shaped the national postwar black freedom struggle in ways that still resonate today

Literacies, Learning, and the Body Grace Enriquez, Elisabeth Johnson, Stavroula Kontovourki, Christine A. Mallozzi, 2015-10-16 The essays research studies and pedagogical examples in this book provide a window into the embodied dimensions of literacy and a toolbox for interpreting building on and inquiring into the range of ways people communicate and express themselves as literate beings The contributors investigate and reflect on the complexities of embodied literacies honoring literacy learners and teachers as they holistically engage with texts in complex sociopolitical historical and cultural contexts Considering these issues within a multiplicity of education spaces and literacy events inside and outside of institutional contexts the book offers a fresh lens and rhetoric with which to address literacy education policies giving readers a discursive repertoire necessary to develop and defend responsive curricula within an increasingly high stakes standardized schooling climate
