

Gender and identity

- Discourse analysis approaches the issue of gender in various ways. They fall broadly into four types of approach:
- The way language itself is gendered – or has become gendered; e.g. the way male pronouns can be used to refer to either males or females;
- The way women and men, girls and boys are stereotypically represented in discourse;
- the way men and women interact in discourse and whether or not there are differences in their style of talk;
- The way language is used by males or females in specific discourse.
