Justice at Work Marc Doussard, Greg Schrock, 2022-05-17 A pathbreaking look at how progressive policy change for economic justice has swept U S cities In the 2010s cities and counties across the United States witnessed long overdue change as they engaged more than ever before with questions of social economic and racial justice After decades of urban economic restructuring that intensified class divides and institutional and systemic racism dozens of local governments countered the conventional wisdom that cities couldn't address inequality enacting progressive labor market policies from 15 minimum wages to paid sick leave Justice at Work examines the mutually reinforcing roles of economic and racial justice organizing and policy entrepreneurship in building power and support for policy changes Bridging urban social movement and urban politics studies it demonstrates how economic and racial justice coalitions are collectively the critical institution underpinning progressive change It also shows that urban policy change is driven by urban policy entrepreneurs who use public space and the intangible resources of the city to open agenda windows for progressive policy proposals incubated through national networks Through case studies of organizing and policy change efforts in cities including Chicago Seattle and New Orleans around minimum wages targeted hiring paid time off fair scheduling and anti austerity Marc Doussard and Greg Schrock show that the contemporary wave of successful progressive organizing efforts is likely to endure Yet they caution that success is dependent on skillful organizing that builds and sustains power at the grassroots and skillful policy work inside City Hall By promoting justice at and increasingly beyond work these movements hold the potential to unlock a new model for inclusive economic development in cities

Book of Majors 2014 College Entrance Examination Board, The College Board, 2013-07-02 The only book that describes majors in depth and lists the colleges that offer them

The Rotarian: April 2014, Geography, Technology and Instruments of Exploration Fraser MacDonald, Charles W.J. Withers, 2016-04-22 Focusing on aspects of the functioning of technology and by looking at instruments and at instrumental performance this book addresses the epistemological questions arising from examining the technological bases to geographical exploration and knowledge claims Questions of geography and exploration and technology are addressed in historical and contemporary context and in different geographical locations and intellectual cultures The collection brings together scholars in the history of geographical exploration historians of science historians of technology and importantly experts with curatorial responsibilities for and museological expertise in major instrument collections Ranging in their focus from studies of astronomical practice to seismography meteorological instruments and rockets from radar to the hand held barometer the chapters of this book examine the ways in which instruments and questions of technology too often overlooked hitherto offer insight into the connections between geography and exploration Human Geography Mark Boyle,2014-12-03

Using the story of the West and the world as its backdrop this book provides for beginning students a clear and concise introduction to Human Geography including its key concepts seminal thinkers and their theories contemporary debates and celebrated case studies Introduces and applies the basic concepts of human geography in clear concise and engaging prose Explores the significance of the rise reign and faltering of the West from around the fifteenth century in the shaping of the key demographic environmental social economic political and cultural processes active in the world today Addresses important thinkers debates and theories in an accessible manner with a focus on discerning the inherent Western bias in human geographical ideas Incorporates case studies that explore human geographies which are being made in both Western and non Western regions including Latin America Africa and Asia Is written so as to be accessible to students and contains chapter learning objectives checklists of key ideas chapter essay questions zoom in boxes guidance for further reading and a book glossary Accompanied by a website at www.wiley.com/go/boyle featuring for students tutorial exercises bonus zoom in boxes links to further learning resources and biographies of key thinkers and for instructors further essay questions multiple choice exam questions and ppt lecture slides for each chapter The Geography of Injustice Barak Kushner,2024-03-15

In The Geography of Injustice Barak Kushner argues that the war crimes tribunals in East Asia formed and cemented national divides that persist into the present day In 1946 the Allies convened the Tokyo Trial to prosecute Japanese wartime atrocities and Japan's empire At its conclusion one of the judges voiced dissent claiming that the justice found at Tokyo was only the sham employment of a legal process for the satisfaction of a thirst for revenge War crimes tribunals Kushner shows allow for the history of the defeated to be heard In contemporary East Asia a fierce battle between memory and history has consolidated political camps across this debate The Tokyo Trial courtroom as well as the thousands of other war crimes tribunals opened in about fifty venues across Asia were legal stages where prosecution and defense curated facts and evidence to craft their story about World War Two These narratives and counter narratives form the basis of postwar memory concerning Japan's imperial aims across the region The archival record and the interpretation of court testimony together shape a competing set of histories for public consumption The Geography of Injustice offers compelling evidence that despite the passage of seven decades since the end of the war East Asia is more divided than united by history 2024-25

Sand, Snow, and Stardust Gretchen Heefner,2025-05-05 A vivid tour of US military efforts to understand survive and command harsh environments worldwide and beyond Deserts the Arctic outer space these extreme environments are often seen as inhospitable places at the edges of our maps But from the 1940s through the 1960s spurred by the diverse and unfamiliar regions the US military had navigated during World War II the United States defense establishment took a keen interest in these places dispatching troops to the Aleutian Islands North Africa the South Pacific and beyond To preserve the country s status as a superpower after the war to pave runways and build bridges engineers had to understand and then conquer dunes permafrost and even the surface of the moon Sand Snow and Stardust explores how the US military generated a new understanding of these environments and attempted to master them intending to cement America's planetary power Operating in these regions depended as much on scientific and cultural knowledge as on military expertise and technology From General George S Patton learning the hard way that the desert is not always hot to the challenges of constructing a scientific research base under the Arctic ice to the sheer implausibility of modeling Martian environments on Earth Gretchen Heefner takes us on a wry expedition into the extremes and introduces us to the people who have shaped our insight into these extraordinary environments Even decades after the first manned space flight plans for human space exploration and extraplanetary colonization are still based on what we know about stark habitats on Earth An entertaining survey of the relationship between environmental history and military might Sand Snow and Stardust also serves as a warning about the further transformation of the planet whether through desertification melting ice caps or attempts to escape it entirely
