Collaborative, Trusted and Privacy-Aware e/m-Services Christos Douligeris, Nineta Polemi, Athanasios Karantjias, Winfried Lamersdorf, 2013-04-20 This book constitutes the refereed conference proceedings of the 12th IFIP WG 6.11 Conference on e-Business, e-Services and e-Society I3E 2013 held in Athens Greece in April 2013. The 25 revised papers presented together with a keynote speech were carefully reviewed and selected from numerous submissions. They are organized in the following topical sections: trust and privacy; security; access control and legal requirements in cloud systems; protocols; regulation and social networking; adoption issues in e-m services; new services; adoption and ecological behavior; knowledge management and business processes and management policies and technologies in e-m services. Assembling Policy Sebastian

Ureta, 2015-11-20 An examination of how human beings are brought into the planning of complex infrastructure projects through analysis of a controversial public transportation project. Policymakers are regularly confronted by complaints that ordinary people are left out of the planning and managing of complex infrastructure projects. In this book, Sebastian Ureta argues that humans both individually and collectively are always at the heart of infrastructure policy; the issue is how they are brought into it. Ureta develops his argument through the case of Transantiago, a massive public transportation project in the city of Santiago proposed in 2000, launched in 2007, and in 2012 called the worst public policy ever implemented in our country by a Chilean government spokesman. Ureta examines Transantiago as a policy assemblage formed by an array of heterogeneous elements including crucially human devices or artifacts and practices through which humans were brought into infrastructure planning and implementation. Ureta traces the design and operation of Transantiago through four configurations: crisis, infrastructuration, disruption, and normalization. In the crisis phase, humans were enacted both as consumers and as participants in the transformation of Santiago into a world-class city, but during infrastructuration, the active citizen went missing. The launch of Transantiago caused huge disruptions in part because users challenged their role as mere consumers and instead enacted unexpected human devices. Resisting calls for radical reform, policymakers insisted on normalizing Transantiago, transforming it into a permanent failing system. Drawing on Chile's experience, Ureta argues that if we understand policy as a series of heterogeneous assemblages, infrastructure policymaking would be more inclusive, reflexive, and responsible.
