

Graduation Speech – Class of 2015
Saint Xavier High School - May 17, 2015

Graduates:

Welcome to this Day and to the meaning behind the dignity of this ceremony as you join the ranks of Saint Xavier's alumni.

You have been school leaders at an historical time as we concluded the celebration of the school's 150th Anniversary. Reflect for a moment on that history, on those who have gone before you, developing the philosophy, programs and facilities and paving the way for the opportunities you have had and the experiences we have shared. Soon it will be your responsibility to ensure a St. X experience for other students and that such opportunities are there and even better for them.

Then reflect one more time on our theme for the year: Together, we dream, we believe and we achieve. Those who walked the halls, took the classes and were part of the teams and activities before you continued to dream, developing a vision for what St. X has become and achieving in ways that propelled our school forward. And all along the way, they believed faithfully that God would walk with them and provide even more opportunities to learn, know, love and serve.

You have continued the traditions, stretched the vision and walked together in faith in all that we have asked you to do.

Creating Equitable Classrooms Through Action Research Cathy Caro-Bruce, 2007-08 Recognizing the importance of race, class, gender, culture, and ability, the authors provide a window into the difficulties that professional educators grapple with as they face the challenge of teaching all children. This text is both authentic and practical and it demystifies the issues of equity that pervade today's classrooms. Diane Yendol Hoppey, Associate Professor, University of Florida, Gainesville. Action research of this caliber on the subject of equity is critically needed for all children to have access to the same level of rigor and high standards. This is a must read for districts that really want to turn action research into action that affects student learning. Terry Morganti Fisher, Director of Professional Development, Austin Independent School District, TX. Utilize the power of action research to narrow the achievement gap. Despite the best intentions of reform efforts, educational inequity continues to exist in public schools. Creating Equitable Classrooms Through Action Research confronts this challenge head on and shows educators how they can use action research to both raise student achievement and strengthen instructional leadership. Ideal for both a first time action research endeavor or one already in progress, this practical guidebook helps practitioners formulate specific research questions, collect and analyze data, and communicate their findings. Educators will discover Ten action research studies on narrowing the achievement gap. Guidelines for implementing an action research project that supports culturally relevant instruction. Authentic examples for discussion and reflection. Invaluable for school district leaders, teachers, professional development schools, and preservice teachers, this resource for systemwide improvement efforts helps schools provide more equitable learning environments for all children.

Teacher TV Mary M. Dalton, Laura R. Linder, 2008 Teacher TV Sixty Years of Teachers on Television examines some of the most influential teacher characters presented on television from the earliest sitcoms to contemporary dramas and comedies. Both topical and chronological, the book follows a general course across decades and focuses on dominant themes and representations linking some of the most popular shows of the era to larger cultural themes. Some of these include a view of how gender is socially constructed in popular culture and in society, racial tensions throughout the decades, educational privileges for elite students, the mundane and the provocative in teacher depictions on television, the view of gender and sexual orientation through a new lens, life in inner city public schools, the culture of testing and dropping out. Every pre-service and classroom teacher should read this book. It is also a valuable text for upper division undergraduate and graduate level courses in media and education as well.

The Human Rights Imperative in Teacher Education Gloria T. Alter, William R. Fernekes, 2022-10-05

Human rights education (HRE) is a worldwide movement designed to place human rights at the center of K-12 university educational theory and practice, providing a critical foundation for global citizenship education, social justice, and diversity education and equity-based schooling reforms. Readers will learn how:

1. HRE content supports core values of U.S. education, including those focused on liberty, justice, and social equality for all educators and students.
2. HRE concepts and illustrative learning strategies support inclusive education and promote peace, tolerance, and cross-cultural understanding.
3. The theoretical foundations of HRE are compatible with recognized teacher preparation standards and program goals.

Pre-service educators seeking teaching licenses and practicing classroom educators desiring to expand their focus into human rights education will find this book very helpful, as will professors teaching methods courses and courses dealing with social justice, multicultural education, and diversity in education. The book blends theory and practice to help educators make human rights education a central focus of their daily practice, providing sample HRE units concerning the rights of global migrants, Indigenous peoples, and LGBTQ communities. Readers will not only apply what they learn but also become part of a non-partisan movement supporting human rights across the globe.

Teaching on Solid Ground Thomas M. McCann, John V. Knapp, 2019-01-09

To be successful teachers of English in grades 6-12, need more than basic content knowledge and classroom management skills. They need a deep understanding of the goals and principles of teaching literature, writing, oral discourse, and language in order to make sound instructional decisions. This engaging book explores the pedagogical foundations of the discipline and gives novice and future teachers specific guidance for creating effective, interesting learning experiences. The authors consider such questions as: what makes a literary text worth studying? what do students gain from literary analysis? how to make writing meaningful and how to weave listening and speaking into every class meeting. Professional learning and course use are facilitated by end-of-chapter reflection questions, text boxes, and appendices showcasing exemplary learning activities.

Listen: How Child and Student Voice Can Change the World Siobhán Keenan Fitzgerald, 2024-08-01

Article 12 of the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child (UNCRC) 1989 articulates every child's right to have their voice heard in matters that affect them.
