Grands Chorgraphes Grard Mannoni:

Livres hebdo, 2006 Looking at Men Anthea Callen, 2018-01-01 Beginning in 1800 Looking at Men explores how the modern male body was forged through the intimately linked professions of art and medicine which deployed muscular models and martial arts to renew the beau idéal. This ideal of the virile body derived from the athletic perfection found in the classical male nude. The study of human anatomy and dissection in both art and medicine underpinned a modern gladiatorial ideal its representations setting the parameters not just of normal virile masculinity but also its abject other. Through the shared violence of human dissection and martial arts male artists and medics secured their professional privilege and authority on the bodies of roughs. First and foremost visual this process has literary parallels in Frankenstein and Jekyll and Hyde. While embodying signs of dominant power and signalling differences of race class gender and sexuality the virile masculine ideal contained its shadow the threat of loss of a Darwinian degeneration that required vigilant intervention to ensure the health of nations. Anthea Callen's lively and intelligent study casts a new eye on contributions by many lesser known artists as well as more familiar works by Gérôme Courbet Dalou and Bazille through to Eakins Thornycroft Leighton and Tonks and includes images that draw on photography and the popular visual cultures of boxing wrestling and bodybuilding. Callen reassesses ideas of the modern male body and virile manhood in this exploration of the heteronormative the homosocial and the homoerotic in art anatomy and nascent anthropology Naissance des cinémas militaires (1914-1939) Sébastien Denis, Bénédicte Rochet, Xavier Sené, 2023-01-24 Cet ouvrage est le premier à s'intéresser de manière transnationale à l'apparition des cinémas militaires durant la première guerre mondiale et l'entre-deux guerres Stolen Limelight Margaret E. Gray, 2022-05-15 Who has not in a favored moment stolen the limelight whether inadvertently or by design? The implications of such an act of display its illicitness its verve its vertiginous reversal of power its subversiveness are explored in this book. Narrative crafting and management of such scenarios are studied across canonical novels by Gide Colette Mauriac and Duras as well as by African Francophone writer Oyono and detective novelist Japrisot. As manipulated within narrative acts of display position a viewer or reader from whom response from veneration or desire to repugnance or horror is solicited but this study demonstrates that display can also work subversively destabilising and displacing such a privileged spectator. As strategies of displacement these scenarios ultimately neutralise and even occult the very subject they so energetically appear to solicit. Powered by gendered tensions this dynamic of display as displacement works toward purposes of struggle resistance or repression Life to Those Shadows Noël Burch, 1990-11-21 Noël Burch's new book is a critique of the assumptions underlying classical approaches to film history the assumption that what we call the language of film was a natural organic development that it lay latent from the outset in the basic technology of the camera waiting for the prescient pioneers to bring it into being and the assumption that this language was a universal neutral medium innocent of any social or historical meaning in itself. His major thesis is that on the contrary film language has a social and economic history that it evolved in the way it did because of when and where it was constructed in the capitalist and imperialist west between 1892 and 1929 The book examines the chronology of the emergence of what it defines as cinema s Institutional Mode of Representation and the socio historical circumstances in which this took place It examines the principles of visualisation camera placement and movement lighting editing mise en scene that film makers and audiences came to internalize over the first three decades Special emphasis is laid on the allimportant change that occurred in the imaginary placing of the spectator from a position of exteriority to the film image implicit in both film form and viewing conditions during the primitive era pre 1909 to the imaginary centering of the spectator subject completed only with the generalisation of lip synch sound after 1929 It is the contention of this book that this imaginary centering of a sensorily isolated spectator is the keystone of the cinematic illusion of reality still achieved today by the same means as it was sixty years ago

The Astronomer Jules Janssen Françoise Launay,2011-11-25 A physicist and an inventor Jules Janssen 1824 1907 devoted his life to astronomical research He spent many years traveling around the world to observe total Solar eclipses demonstrating that a new era of science had just come thanks to the use of both spectroscopy and photography and persuading the French Government of the necessity of founding a new observatory near Paris He became its director in 1875 There at Meudon he began routine photographic recordings of the Sun surface and had a big refractor and a big reflector built Meanwhile he also succeeded in building an Observatory at the summit of Mont Blanc The story of this untiring and stubborn globe trotter is enriched by extracts of the unpublished correspondence with his wife One can thus understand why Henriette often complained of the solitude in which she was left by her peripatetic husband There are men who leave their wives for mistresses you do it for journeys Basking in the glow of his success Janssen was able to undertake the construction of the great astrophysical observatory of which he had dreamed It was at Meudon that he had it built
