

Chapter 11

Issues of Reporting and Disclosure

Questions for Review and Discussion

1. The first criterion in financial accountability — the primary government either appoints a ruling authority of the unit's governing body, or a majority of the unit's governing body is composed of primary government officials and:
 - the primary government is able to prepare its own report on financial performance and/or
 - there is the potential for the government to generate specific financial benefits for its citizens (either financial benefits or the primary government).
2. Effective government is when one or both controlling units are required to separate resources when those pertaining to the primary government. Separating is when the controlling unit's financials are disclosed and reported as if they were part of the primary government — that is, the controlling unit's funds are disclosed the way as if they were funds of the primary government. Separating is required when the primary government and the controlling unit are controlled by governing bodies having the same members as the controlling unit (whether separate entity or the primary government if these conditions are not satisfied then effective government is required).
3. Effective government, as it must be applied to government-wide accounts, differs for the aggregation of one member of different independent units, irrespective of type and basis of accounting. Therefore, it is said, the government is evenly aggregated members of both sides. This problem is mitigated by the requirement of disclosure that all that the government provide financial information about each of its major component units.
4. The three main sections of the C.A.R.B. are:
 - mandatory section
 - financial section
 - statistical section

The main components of the financial section are:

 - auditor's report
 - management's discussion and analysis (MD&A)
