Graphic Design

Architecture can be defined as the process and production of planning, designing, and constructing the final product ("Architecture"). Within the job of an architect, graphic designers play a major role. One of the first steps to planning out how a piece of architecture will look and where it will be placed is drawing out the details and taking many factors into consideration. Graphic Designers are the first to decide the layout of the building, design what it will look like one built, draw a sketch of even the minor details. For example, if an apartment complex is going to be built, a graphic designer has to first design where pieces will be placed and the unique shapes that the building itself will show after the design is brought to life. Graphic designers not only have a job that requires them to complete many duties for a task, but they also have to be well skilled in different areas such as communication abilities and knowing how to produce interesting layouts.

In order to complete the duties of a graphic designer, there are more qualities in addition to skills that a person needs to obtain to have a successful career. Those qualities include things such as being able to listen to your client's wants and needs, be able to manage your time wisely, be flexible with ideas and times to meet with your clients and be sure to pay attention to not only major details, but also the minor ones. Listening to your clients can be important because you must pay attention to their targeted audience and comprehend what kind of message the client is looking to deliver. Organizing many projects for different people can become time consuming and distracting so being organized can help you manage how long it will take to complete
