Reclaiming Early Childhood Literacies Richard J Meyer, Kathryn F. Whitmore, 2016-09-01 At a time when literacy has become more of a political issue than a research or pedagogical one this volume refocuses attention on work with young children that places them at the center of their literacy worlds Drawing on robust and growing knowledge which is often marginalized because of political and legislative forces it explores young children s literacies as inclusive redefined and broadened encompassing technologies the arts multiple modalities and teaching and learning for democracy cultural sustainability and social justice Highlighted themes include children s rights to grow through playful engagements with multiple literacies to interrogate their worlds adults who expand and inspire children s consciousness and awareness of others and the world around them the centrality of meaning making in all aspects of language and literacy development a deep respect for diversities including languages cultures sexual orientation socioeconomic status and more and an expansive understanding of the nature of texts

Art & Design Education in Times of Change Ruth Mateus-Berr, Luise Reitstätter, 2017-05-08 It has always been the case that the teaching of art has had to deal with social changes We are currently facing historic challenges and phenomena which we could never have imagined the global financial crisis the massive migration flows and the ubiquitous spread of new technologies in our everyday life Creative competence is needed for overcoming the disciplinary boundaries and in order to make equal opportunities for education possible in a diverse society This publication takes a critical look at the role of art and design education amidst these social changes using theoretical reflection practical experience and empirical analysis

Implementing Mobile Language Learning Technologies

in Japan Steve McCarty, Hiroyuki Obari, Takeshi Sato, 2016-10-06 This book explores theoretical and practical aspects of implementing mobile language learning in university classrooms for English as a Foreign Language in Japan. The technologies utilized such as smartphones, iPads, and Wi-Fi integrate students' hand-held devices into the campus network infrastructure. The pedagogical aims of ubiquitous mobile learning further incorporate social media, blended learning, and flipped classroom approaches into the curriculum. Chapter 1 defines mobile language learning within dimensions of e-learning and technology-assisted language learning prior to tracing the development of mobile learning in Japan. Chapter 2 documents the sociocultural theory underpinning the authors' humanistic approach to implementation of mobile technologies. The sociocultural pedagogy represents a global consensus of leading educators that also recognizes the agency of Asian learners and brings out their capability for autonomous learning. Case studies of universities, large and small, public and private, are organized similarly in Chapters 3 to 5. Institutional pedagogical and technological context sections are followed by detailed content on the implementation of initiatives, assessment of effectiveness, and recommendations for other institutions. Distinct from a collection of papers, this monograph tells a story in brief book length about theorizing and realizing mobile language learning, describing pioneering and original initiatives of importance to practitioners in other educational contexts.
