Landscape Indicators Assessing And Monitoring Landscape Quality:

Landscape Indicators Claudia Cassatella, Attilia Peano, 2011-01-28 In recent years EU policy towards the landscape has become better defined whereas at the same time the notion of landscape itself remains elusive The need for indicators to evaluate and monitor the effects of landscape policies and plans is urgent What is more landscape is one of the components considered in environmental reporting but unlike air soil or water it is difficult to measure using quantitative methods With studies on landscape indicators being as rare as they are this volume is an attempt to fill the gap dealing as it does with the definition and use of specific indicators for landscape assessment and monitoring To tackle the diverse dimensions of the landscape whose complexity is well known the subject is approached by a multidisciplinary team of experts in landscape ecology landscape history landscape perception regional planning strategic environmental assessment and environmental impact assessment procedures and multi criteria assessment methods Individual chapters include comparative assessments of studies conducted thus far in the EU as well as detailed analyses of ecological historical perceptive land use and economic ways of looking at landscape As well as providing a rich source of references for researchers studying the landscape from a variety of perspectives the book will be required reading for European officials involved at any level in planning or assessing the landscape or environment

Measuring Landscapes Andre Botequilha Leita, Joseph Miller, Jack Ahern, Kevin McGarigal, 2012-09-26 This practical handbook bridges the gap between those scientists who study landscapes and the planners and conservationists who must then decide how best to preserve and build environmentally sound habitats Until now only a small portion of the relevant science has influenced the decision making arenas where the future of our landscapes is debated and decided The authors explain specific tools and concepts to measure a landscape s structure form and change over time Metrics studied include patch richness class area proportion patch number and density mean patch size shape radius of gyration contagion edge contrast nearest neighbor distance and proximity These measures will help planners and conservationists make better land use decisions for the future

Landscape Planning and Rural Development Carlo Rega, 2014-05-20 This book aims to contribute to the current debate on how to integrate rural development policies and landscape planning in rural areas It highlights the key issues at stake and the possibilities for synergies between landscape planning and policies in light of European development policies particularly the EU s Rural Development Policy and the Common Agricultural Policy CAP Case studies from different rural contexts and landscapes are provided illustrating tools and options to make the advocated integration operational Recommendations and guidance to policy making are proposed The case studies presented cover 1 the use of visual assessment techniques to support landscape planning in rural areas 2 participative applications of landscape assessment techniques in peri urban areas 3 multi scale approaches to landscape management in Alpine areas and 4 the application of landscape economic evaluation to foster rural development strategies

book presents a new method for assessing spatial pattern in raster land cover maps based on satellite imagery in a way that incorporates multiple pixel resolutions This is combined with more conventional single resolution measurements of spatial pattern and simple non spatial land cover proportions to assess predictability of both surface water quality and ecological integrity within watersheds of the state of Pennsylvania USA Landscape mosaics Council of Europe,2022-12-01

Landscape protection management and planning entail rights and responsibilities for everyone The Council of Europe Landscape Convention aims to promote the protection management and planning of landscapes and to organise international co operation in this field It applies to the entire territory of the contracting parties and covers natural rural urban and peri urban areas It concerns landscapes considered outstanding as well as everyday or degraded areas This publication presents thoughts and proposals for the implementation of the convention and addresses a mosaic of key issues related to its future It forms part of a process of reflection on major themes concerning the living environment Spatial Planning in the Big and Global Change João C. Azevedo, Ajith H. Perera, M. Alice Pinto, 2014-07-11 Climate change urban sprawl abandonment of agriculture intensification of forestry and agriculture changes in energy generation and use expansion of infrastructure networks habitat destruction and degradation and other drivers of change occur at increasing rates They affect patterns and processes in forest landscapes and modify ecosystem services derived from those ecosystems Consequently rapidly changing landscapes present many new challenges to scientists and managers While it is not uncommon to encounter the terms global change and landscape together in the ecological literature a global analyses of drivers of change in forest landscapes and their ecological consequences have not been addressed adequately That is the goal of this volume an exploration of the state of knowledge of global changes in forested landscapes with emphasis on causes and effects and challenges faced by researchers and land managers Initial chapters identify and describe major agents of landscape change climate fire and human activities The next series of chapters address implications of changes on ecosystem services biodiversity conservation and carbon flux A chapter that describes methodologies of detecting and monitoring landscape changes is presented followed by chapter that highlights the many challenges forest landscape managers face amidst of global change Finally we present a summary and a synthesis of the main points presented in the book Each chapter will contain the individual research experiences of chapter authors augmented by review and synthesis of global scientific literature on relevant topics as well as critical input from multiple peer reviewers The Twenty Needs Report ,2002 Strategic Environmental Assessment:

Integrating Landscape and Urban Planning Fabio Cutaia, 2016-07-20 This book explores the opportunities offered by Strategic Environmental Assessment in the context of guaranteeing the synchronized integration of landscape in all its aspects within urban plans thereby helping to overcome the constraints of rigidly framed sector focused laws and a purely aesthetic concept of landscape In pursuit of this goal various scholars have previously attempted to construct arrays of indicators relating to the different conceptions of landscape This book critically examines the most complete proposals of this nature systematizing and comparing them and finally offering some guidelines with respect to their codification within specific application protocols After opening chapters exploring the origins of the problem and analysing the European normative frame for Strategic Environmental Assessment two case studies are described and discussed A model is then presented for the evaluation of the effects of urban plans on landscape including in cultural and perceptual terms The author demonstrates that when suitably employed Strategic Environmental Assessment can indeed facilitate the integration of environmental economic and social sustainability into urban planning

Landscape Research-I Öner Demirel,Ertan Düzgüneş,2021-08-15 Landscape Research I Landscape Balance and Landscape Assessment Rudolf Krönert,Uta Steinhardt,Martin Volk,2013-03-09 During the last decades landscape ecology has developed tremendously It concerns both the theoretical basis and practical application The authors follow a hierarchical approach that is inherent in landscape structures and processes as well as in planning practice They show first approaches for the inclusion of factors of the landscape balance into planning procedures and new methods GIS coupled modeling remote sensing combined with more classical approaches from the basis of landscape assessment Approaches for multicriterial landscape assessments are also presented The overall target is to give recommendations for sustainable landuse and management Each chapter concludes with a synthesis of the theme under discussion Ideas concerning the state of the art are integrated as well as future trends in research All methodological approaches are explained with examples from differing regions

Urban Landscapes Massimo Sargolini,2012-12-15 Today more than 50% of the world s population lives in cities and is subject to particular environmental and economic impacts against the backdrop of an evolving planetary crisis This book explores the intimate relationship between the quality of life of city dwellers and the quality of urban landscapes including those regenerated through green spaces and environmental networks Starting from the concept of landscape as defined by the European Landscape Convention i e an area perceived by people whose character is the result of the action and interaction of natural and or human factors it expands upon in particular the interactions between the different biotic and abiotic components that contribute to the quality of the landscape and the environment In the first part of the book the author examines fundamental concepts and discusses a variety of relevant topics such as the city under transformation waste spaces smart communities regeneration programs the role of environmental networks and new instruments for decision making The second part is devoted to a case study of the Italian Adriatic city that highlights the need for interdisciplinary interaction among researchers in apparently disparate fields including ecology forest botany chemistry biology geology sociology economics architecture and engineering
