Photography Jordan Bear, Kate Palmer Albers, 2020-09-25 The before and after trope in photography has long paired images to represent change whether affirmatively as in the results of makeovers social reforms or medical interventions or negatively in the destruction of the environment by the impacts of war or natural disasters This interdisciplinary multi-authored volume examines the central but almost unspoken position of before and after photography found in a wide range of contexts from the 19th century through to the present Packed with case studies that explore the conceptual implications of these images the book's rich language of evidence documentation and persuasion present both historical material and the work of practicing photographers who have deployed and challenged the conventions of the before and after pairing Touching on issues including sexuality race environmental change and criminality Before and After Photography examines major topics of current debate in the critique of photography in an accessible way to allow students and scholars to explore the rich conceptual issues around photography's relationship with time and imagination Formulations Andrew

Witt, 2022-01-11 An investigation of mathematics as it was drawn encoded imagined and interpreted by architects on the eve of digitization in the mid twentieth century In Formulations Andrew Witt examines the visual methodological and cultural intersections between architecture and mathematics The linkages Witt explores involve not the mystic transcendence of numbers invoked throughout architectural history but rather architecture's encounters with a range of calculational systems techniques that architects inventively retooled for design Witt offers a catalog of mid twentieth century practices of mathematical drawing and calculation in design that preceded and anticipated digitization as well as an account of the formal compendia that became a cultural currency shared between modern mathematicians and modern architects Witt presents a series of extensively illustrated biographies of method episodes that chart the myriad ways in which mathematics particularly the mathematical notion of modeling and drawing was spliced into the creative practice of design. These include early drawing machines that mechanized curvature, the incorporation of geometric maquettes, theorems made flesh into the toolbox of design, the virtualization of buildings and landscapes through surveyed triangulation and photogrammetry, formal and functional topology, stereoscopic drawing, the economic implications of cubic matrices, and a strange synthesis of the technological, mineral, and biological. Crystallographic design. Trained in both architecture and mathematics, Witt uses mathematics as a lens through which to understand the relationship between architecture and a much broader set of sciences and visual techniques. Through an intercultural exchange with other disciplines, he argues architecture adapted not only the shapes and surfaces of mathematics but also its values and epistemic ideals. The Mysteries Of Light: Illumination, Intention and Desire In Photobooks Robert Dunn, 2023-05-01. The Mysteries of Light is an original literary meditation on the significance and meaning of photobooks. Written by a photographer and novelist, the book brings a strong new light to the photobook phenomenon. It's a mix of personal stories and examinations of such great artists as Robert Frank, Daido Moriyama, Saul Leiter, Alec Soth, Masahisa Fukase, and Christer Strömholm, as well as newcomers Daisuke Yokota, Laura El Tantawy, and Jason Eskenazi. The Mysteries of Light is personal and passionate, fun, lively, informative, inspiring, and will help you understand photobooks and get you jazzed about them in a whole new way. Lost Days, Endless Nights Andrew Witt, 2025-01-14. A critical study and artist's book on the history of photography and film from Los Angeles, Lost Days, Endless Nights tells a history from below, an account of the lives of the forgotten and dispossessed of Los Angeles: the unemployed, the precariously employed, the evicted, the alienated, the unhoused, the anxious, the exhausted. Through an analysis of abandoned archival works, experimental films, and other projects, Andrew Witt offers an expansive account of the artists who have lived or worked in Los Angeles, delving into the region's history and geography, highlighting its racial, gender, and class conflicts. Presented as a series of nine case studies, Witt explores how artists as diverse as Agnès Varda, Dana Lixenberg, Allan Sekula, Catherine Opie, John Divola, Gregory Halpern, Paul Sepuya, and Guadalupe Rosales have reimagined and reshaped our understanding of contemporary Los Angeles. The book features portraits of those who struggle and attempt to get by in the city: dock workers, students, bus riders, petty criminals, office workers, immigrants, queer and trans activists. Set against the landscape of economic turmoil and environmental crises that shadowed the 1970s, Witt highlights the urgent need for a historical perspective of cultural retrieval and counternarrative. Extending into the present, Lost Days, Endless Nights advocates for an approach that actively embraces the works and projects that have been overlooked and evicted from the historical imaginary. Mapping Jewish Identities Laurence J. Silberstein, 2000-07. In his opening remarks, Silberstein, Jewish studies, Lehigh U, reflects on the current trend of viewing identity as a mapping process of becoming rather than a fixed construct to be traced. Essays by 13 other US and Israeli contributors further advance this non-essentialist perspective in regard to Jewish identity viewed through personal narratives, photographs, Spiegelman's Holocaust Maus comic books, the
