Education in a Federal UK John Furlong, Ingrid Lunt, 2019-10-23 Britain s two recent referenda on Brexit 2016 and on Scottish independence 2014 have raised in the public mind fundamental questions about the future of the UK It seems that for the first time the public the media and the political elite have woken up to the fact that in different parts of the UK there are different histories different aspirations and different imagined futures in relation to a whole range of vitally important political issues But what the public debate often fails to recognise is that in many areas of public life perhaps especially education the UK is already a federal state and in key respects has been so for many years The aim of this volume is therefore to take stock to try and capture what the current state of educational policy and practice is across the whole of the UK This has been achieved by commissioning two different papers from each of the four countries Wales Scotland Northern Ireland and England The first is an overview exploring the distinctive history principles and current policies of each country The second paper has been specifically chosen as a case study of a key policy that highlights the distinctiveness of each country the Foundation Phase for Wales assessment policy in Scotland shared education initiatives in Northern Ireland and higher education policy in England Taken together these eight papers give an important insight into the complexities of educational policy and practice across the whole of the UK today This volume was originally published as a special issue of Oxford Review of Education

Globalizing Citizens Rajesh Tandon, John Gaventa, 2010-08-12 Globalization has given rise to new meanings of citizenship Just as they are tied together by global production trade and finance citizens in every nation are linked by the institutions of global governance bringing new dynamics of inclusion and exclusion For some globalization provides a sense of solidarity that inspires them to join transnational movements to claim rights from global authorities for others globalization has meant greater exposure to the power of global corporations bureaucracies and scientific experts thus adding new layers of exclusion to already fragile meanings of citizenship Globalizing Citizens presents expert analysis from cities and villages in India South Africa Nigeria the Philippines Kenya the Gambia and Brazil to explore how forms of global authority shape and build new meanings and practices of citizenship across local national and global arenas Teacher Involvement in High-Stakes Language Testing Daniel Xerri, Patricia Vella Briffa, 2018-04-27 This book advocates that teachers should play an active role in high stakes language testing and that more weight should be given to teacher judgement This is likely to increase the formative potential of high stakes tests and provide teachers with a sense of ownership The implication is that the knowledge and skills they develop by being involved in these tests will feed into their own classroom practices The book also considers the arguments against teacher involvement e g the contention that teacher involvement might entrench the practice of teaching to the test or that teachers should not be actively involved in high stakes language testing because their judgement is insufficiently reliable Using contributions from a wide range of international educational contexts the book proposes that a lack of reliability in teacher judgement is best addressed by means of training and not by barring educators from participating in high stakes language testing It also argues that their involvement in testing helps teachers to bolster confidence in their own judgement and develop their assessment literacy Moreover teacher involvement empowers them to play a role in reforming high stakes language testing so that it is more equitable and more likely to enhance classroom practices High stakes language tests that adopt such an inclusive approach facilitate more effective learning on the part of teachers which ultimately benefits all their students A Companion to Literary Evaluation Richard Bradford, Madelena Gonzalez, Kevin De Ornellas, 2024-03-21 The first critical survey of its kind devoted solely to literary evaluation Companion to Literary Evaluation bridges the gap between the non academic literary world where evaluation is deeply ingrained and the world of academia where evaluation is rarely considered Encouraging readers to formulate and articulate arguments that balance instinctive judgment and reasoned assessment this unique volume addresses key issues regarding literary values from the perspective of analytical aesthetics and the philosophy of literature Bringing together a diverse panel of contributors the Companion explores competing theories of literary evaluation the reasons for evaluating theater and lyric poetry in performance the question of value in literary theory debates over Modernism s negative impact on literature the possibility of evaluating aesthetic beauty through scientific and formalist methods the nature and status of literary evaluation as a branch of criticism aesthetics in applied and community theater evaluation outside academia the perils of extreme relativism and subjectivism in literary evaluation evaluation in schools and much more Contributors question and reassess the reputations of authors across the canon from Shakespeare and James Shirley to T S Eliot Kathleen Raine Virginia Woolf Joyce and Beckett amongst others The Companion Illustrates how seemingly divergent perspectives on the artistic qualities and value of literature can sometimes overlap Covers the standard range of literary genres while including others such as unfinished novels freelance journalism and lyric poetry in performance Offers methodologies that demonstrate why literature can be treated as something different from other forms of language and therefore assessed as art Explores the importance of maintaining clarity and specificity in the evaluation of literary works Companion to Literary Evaluation is a must read for undergraduates research students lecturers and academics in search of fresh perspectives on standard literary critical issues
