

NURSING ADMISSIONS INTERVIEWS

How you present yourself during your nursing school admissions interview will influence your chance of being accepted. In the first few minutes of an interview, the interviewer will develop an instant impression of how you look, speak, and act so it is important to dress professionally and be very well prepared. There are no absolutes with admissions interviews; however, there are ways to increase your chances for success through preparation, reflection and evaluation.

There are basically three steps to the interview process: Before, During, and After.

I. BEFORE THE INTERVIEW: PREPARE AND PRACTICE

Evaluate and know yourself.

- Practice describing your background, accomplishments, experience, education, skills, goals...
- Review your written application and personal statement.
- Practice answering interview questions out loud with someone else or in front of a mirror.
- Answering practice questions is critical to help you to be ready for other questions.
- Mock interviews are available through Career Services – call 520.621.2546 for counseling appts.
- Prepare to sell yourself. Ask yourself: Who am I? What are my skills and abilities?
What makes me qualified and prepared? What do I have to offer to a nursing program?

Research nursing, healthcare, current issues, and the nursing schools.

- Read up on the fields of nursing of interest to you.
- Practice discussing current topics and issues in healthcare.
- Research nursing schools you are applying to (curriculum, history, reputation, resources, size, faculty, facilities, location, rankings, costs, student services, specializations...)
- Develop questions you will ask about the school during your interview
- Be prepared to articulate your specific reasons for why you want to attend a particular school.
- Talk to nurses, faculty, nursing students, and admissions staff.
- What criteria do schools use to evaluate candidates? What are the profiles of typical candidates?

Dress professionally.

- Dress conservatively in a professional suit.
- It is always better to be over-dressed than under-dressed.
- Men should wear a white button-down shirt with a t-shirt underneath, conservative tie, socks that cover their calves and shined shoes that match the color of their belt.
- Women should wear closed toe shoes with hose. (low heels with skirts or flats with slacks)
- Everyone should have neat hair, minimal jewelry, and skip the cologne or perfume.
