With practical guidance on writing scholarly critiques of your own work and a glossary of terms for ease of reference, this book is an essential manual for any introductory creative writing course and a practical companion for more advanced writers.

Perspectives Joanna Gibson, 2002. Introducing students to writing from sources through the use of case studies, this text offers writing instruction and serves as a guide. This text's case studies illustrate rhetorical situations on the same topic, serve as models of narrowed topics, and stress the connection between reading and writing skills.

Subversive Spirituality L. Paul Jensen, 2009-08-01. Subversive Spirituality links the practice and study of Christian spirituality with Christian mission. It develops a twofold thesis: grace, spiritual disciplines, and mission practices are inseparably linked in the mission of Jesus of the early church and of several historical renewal movements, as well as in a contemporary field research sample. Amidst the collapse of space and time evidenced by our culture's increasingly hurried pace of life, more time and space are needed for regular, solitary and communal spiritual practices in church mission and leadership structures if Christian mission is to transform people and culture in our time. This requires a subversion of the collapsed spatial and temporal codes that have infected our Christian institutions. Jensen employs methods and approaches from a variety of academic disciplines to explore both spirituality in terms of space and time and mission in terms of deed and word. Specifically, Jensen examines the spirituality and mission of Jesus, the early church, the apostolic fathers, Origen, the Devotio Moderna, the early Jesuits, David Brainerd, and several women in 19th-century Protestant missions. He considers the spirituality and mission that have arisen within the postmodern generations born after 1960. Based on the theological, historical, cultural, and field analyses of this study, a model for spirituality and mission is proposed. The model addresses the contemporary collapse of space and time and appears to have widespread applicability to diverse cultures and eras. Jensen's model is applied to the pluralistic and postmodern milieu of North America, with recommendations for spirituality and mission in church mission and educational structures. A derivative model for teaching and practicing spirituality and mission in the academy, which also has application for non-formal leadership development structures, is also proposed.

Theoretical Issues in Reading Comprehension Rand J. Spiro, Bertram C. Bruce, William F. Brewer, 2017-11-03. Research in cognitive psychology, linguistics, and artificial intelligence the three disciplines that have the most direct application to an understanding of the mental processes in reading is presented in this multilevel work originally published in 1980 that attempts to provide a systematic and scientific basis for understanding and building a comprehensive theory of reading comprehension The major focus is on understanding the processes involved in the comprehension of written text Underlying most of the contributions is the assumption that skilled reading comprehension requires a coordination of text with context in a way that goes far beyond simply chaining together the meanings of a string of decoded words The topics discussed are divided into five general areas Global Issues Text Structure Language Knowledge of the World and Inference Effects of Prior Language Experience and Comprehension Strategies and Facilitators and represent a broad base of methodology and data that should be of interest not only to those concerned with the reading process but also to basic science researchers in psychology linguistics artificial intelligence and related disciplines A Collaborative Approach to Transition Planning for Students With Disabilities JoAnn M.

Rae, 2025-05-14 The book's framework is specially designed to advance students involvement and participation in their lives not only in the presence of the most severe sensory and intellectual disabilities but also in the case of multiple disabilities Unique scenarios not typically seen in other textbooks such as IEP team disagreements students with terminal illnesses students with ill or overworked parents or students living in poverty are also explored This updated edition also includes Descriptions of research based practices to maximize students self determination autonomy goal setting and ability to have successful life experiences Opportunities to integrate knowledge with practice by providing strategies that relate to the real life difficulties students and transition planning specialists may encounter Easy to replicate communication tools such as letters to students and parents as examples to enhance collaboration Methods for teachers to effectively promote and increase student involvement and collaboration by using structured and interactive interviews Guidance aligned with the most up to date special education law A Collaborative Approach to Transition Planning for Students with Disabilities reflects the universal challenges that teachers families and finally the students themselves face as they progress through school with a disability For students with disabilities the key component to successful transition planning is creating a collaborative atmosphere that allows them to be successful This book promises to serve as an essential resource to all who are dedicated to that goal
