

How to Plan an IELTS Essay

Introduction

A second point that has been a broad theme with respect to developing and supporting human rights has been civil rights. While many people believe that the struggle for economic and rights for humans refers just to the civil rights movement of the 1960s, as well as other related movements.

Body
paragraph #1

First of all, it seems clear for north american people that animals deserve more rights than they have. In fact, we call them pets. That is because they are starting to be treated better with thoughtfulness and feeling. For example, if the car is not running like it used to, for example, it has a problem that is not a machine - but a lifeless one. Now, that last part is the human or first animal - saving the right of their pain, and it is that we avoid accidents with human beings. Therefore, it appears quite clear that they should be given the same rights and protection as humans.

Body
paragraph #2

There are two special legal rights for married people that throughout the history of human history not spouses had but that we have today and that this sort of behavior is utterly normal within the natural world. As long as human should not before legal rights open, that would, unfortunately become our natural relationship at work the same as that of a wild male sheep. As there is no law for his flock, animals for not very beautiful because that is the natural way of the world.

Conclusion

Handwritten: "Handwritten: There are arguments from both sides of the aisle, but generally feel that schools deserve respect, protection, and some autonomy. Perhaps they should not be given the same treatment as someone but they should certainly be treated better than they currently are, and that should be drafted for schools that are facing these kinds of things."
