main sources for the reconstruction of the events of Byzantine history Whatever can be called literary in these works has been considered as external and detachable from the facts The classical tradition inherited by Byzantine writers the features that Byzantine authors imitated and absorbed are regarded as standing in the way of understanding the true meaning of the text and furthermore of contaminating the reliability of the history Chronicles whose language and style are anything but classicizing have been held in low esteem for they are seen as providing a mere chronological exposition of events This book presents a set of articles by an international cast of contributors deriving from papers delivered at the 40th annual Spring Symposium of Byzantine Studies They are concerned with historical and visual narratives that date from the sixth to the fourteenth century and aim to show that literary analyses and the study of pictorial devices far from being tangential to the study of historical texts are preliminary to their further study exposing the deeper structures and purposes of these texts
