Wanner, 2012-12-06 This study has grown out of an interest in French education and cul ture that dates from fondly remembered student days in France Specifically it is an attempt to explain the educational thought of Claude Fleury a literate responsible homme de

leUres who analyzed the historical origins of public education as it existed in seventeenth cen tury France and on that basis proposed what he considered to be a more generally useful program of studies Generous space has been devoted to historical social and pedagogical background in an effort to place Fleury's thought in its proper cultural context namely that of the decline of the Classical Age and the dawn of the Age of Reason This background material represents also an attempt to explain at times in detail the origin of Fleury's Traite du Choix et de la Methode des Etudes and his rise to scholarly and pedagogical prominence at court It is possible that Fleury's thought while of most immediate interest to students of seventeenth century cultural history will be of interest also to a more general audience In particular those charged with providing education that must respond to the ever increasing practical needs of society and at the same time give to contemporary man a of his cultural heritage may find in Fleury's thought some useful sense historical perspective It is a pleasure to acknowledge that this study would not have been possible without the encouragement and guidance of Dr William W Rewriting the Renaissance Margaret W. avoiding its difficulties giving the fight for climate justice real mobilising power The author analyses how capitalism prevents climate transition assessing in detail why the climate cause is not more widely embraced by the working classes when they are infinitely less responsible and suffer far more from the effects of environmental degradation than their wealthier counterparts He argues that faced with the supporters of green capitalism who promise us that we will be able to continue current lifestyles unhindered thanks to new technologies the left seems disarmed Globally we face an immense challenge in the span of one generation we must decarbonise our planet by 2050 We must make huge changes but a successful transition could bring huge benefits This book tackles the root cause of the problem inequalities and the hyper concentration of wealth which are driving forces behind the continued increase in greenhouse gas emissions and the loss of biodiversity Denouncing the liberal mythologies of green growth and decoupling the author frames climate justice as an authentic social struggle uniting the underclasses of the world and arguing for the need to develop essential communal services to put an end to insecurity and protect the planet The intention is that a full life and sustainable environment are no longer the privilege of a few but the reality of all This book will appeal to students and scholars of political science and environment and sustainability as well as all those concerned with climate justice and the current ecological crisis
