Gericault Delacroix Bruno Chenique:

Theodore Gericault, Painting Black Bodies Albert Alhadeff, 2020-04-07 This book examines Theodore Gericault's images of black men, women, and children who suffered slavery's transatlantic passage in the late eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries including his 1819 painting The Raft of the Medusa. The book focuses on Gericault's depiction of black people, his approach towards slavery, and the voices that advanced or denigrated them. By turning to documents, essays, and critiques both before and after Waterloo 1815 and most importantly Gericault's own oeuvre, this study explores the fetters of slavery that Gericault challenged alongside a growing number of abolitionists, overtly or covertly. This book will be of interest to scholars in art history, race, and ethnic studies, and students of modernism.

Myth and Menagerie Katie Hornstein, 2024 An innovative examination of encounters between humans and lions and representations of these charismatic animals in the visual culture of postrevolutionary France. In artistic traditions that stretch back to antiquity, lions have been associated with strength and authority. The figure of the lion in nineteenth-century France stood at a crossroads between these historical meanings and contemporary developments that recast the animal's significance, such as the literal presence of lions in public menageries. In this highly original study, Katie Hornstein explores the relationships among animals, spectatorship, and visual production. She examines the fascinating encounters between artists, viewers, and lions that took place in menageries and circuses on canvases and on the pages of books, and out of which she argues new perceptions of power, empire, and the natural world emerged. Myth and Menagerie considers a range of visual objects bringing into dialogue photographs of circus animals, hunting manuals, and zoo guidebooks with sculptures, drawings, and paintings by artists such as Theodore Gericault, Eugène Delacroix, Édouard Manet, and Rosa Bonheur. Illuminating the lives of individual lions against the backdrop of societal change and colonial expansion, Hornstein constructs a fresh theoretical framework for thinking about animals as more than symbols or passive subjects and for acknowledging a history in which both humans and animals had a stake.

margin 0 0px 0 0px 0 0px 0 0px font 14 0px Verdana Eugène Delacroix 1798-1863 was one of the towering figures to emerge in France in the wake of Napoleon. No other artist of the nineteenth century balanced a reverence for the past with such a strong ambition and spirit of innovation. Distinguishing himself from many other talented young artists in Paris, he gained renown in the 1820s for his novel subject matter, theatrical sense of composition, vibrant palette, and vigorous painterly technique. His vast production, including some eight hundred paintings, prints in a variety of media, and thousands of drawings and pages of writing, won the admiration of countless writers and artists, including Charles Baudelaire, Paul Cézanne, and Pablo Picasso. This comprehensive monograph closely examines the full breadth of Delacroix's career, including his engagement with the work of his predecessors, his fascination with the natural world, his interest in Lord Byron and the Greek War of Independence, and the profound influence of his voyage to North Africa in 1832. It brings to life his relationships with his contemporaries ranging from the painters Pierre Narcisse Guérin and Antoine Jean Gros to Gustave Courbet as well as his exploration of literary historical and biblical themes his writing in personal journals and his triumphant exhibition at the Exposition Universelle of 1855 Richly illustrated and encompassing the entire range and diversity of his art from grand paintings to intimate drawings Delacroix illuminates how this intrepid figure changed the course of European painting by heeding a call for the liberty of art

Blacks and Blackness in European Art of the Long Nineteenth Century

Adrienne L. Childs, 2017-07-05 Compelling and troubling colorful and dark black figures served as the quintessential image of difference in nineteenth century European art the essays in this volume further the investigation of constructions of blackness during this period This collection marks a phase in the scholarship on images of blacks that moves beyond undifferentiated binaries like negative and positive that fail to reveal complexities contradictions and ambiguities Essays that cover the late eighteenth through the early twentieth century explore the visibility of blackness in anti slavery imagery black women in Orientalist art race and beauty in fin de siècle photography the French brand of blackface minstrelsy and a set of little known images of an African model by Edvard Munch In spite of the difficulty of resurrecting black lives in nineteenth century Europe one essay chronicles the rare instance of an American artist of color in mid nineteenth century Europe With analyses of works ranging from Géricault's Raft of the Medusa to portraits of the American actor Ira Aldridge this volume provides new interpretations of nineteenth century representations of blacks

Unfinished Kelly Baum, Andrea

Bayer, Sheena Wagstaff, 2016-03-01 This groundbreaking book explores the evolving concept of unfinishedness as essential to understanding art movements from the Renaissance to the present day Unfinished features more than 200 works created in a variety of media by artists ranging from Leonardo Titian Rembrandt Turner and Cézanne to Picasso Warhol Twombly Freud Richter and Nauman What unites these works across centuries and media is that each one displays some aspect of being unfinished Essays and case studies by major contemporary scholars address this key concept from the perspective of both the creator and the viewer probing the impact that this long artistic trajectory which can be traced back to the first century has had on modern and contemporary art The book investigates the degrees to which instances of incompleteness were accidental or intentional experimental or conceptual Also included are illuminating interviews with contemporary artists including Tuymans Celmins and Marden and parallel considerations of the unfinished in literature and film The result is a multidisciplinary approach and thought provoking analysis that provide valuable insight into the making meaning and critical reception of the unfinished in art
