A bank manager arrives at work one day to find himself the new employer of his ex-wife. In the middle of a shift, a divorced bus driver abandons his vehicle to search for his estranged son. Two sisters come to terms with their father's disappearance with the help of a skeleton called Indira. The stories in Ellipsis 2 explore the inherent dysfunctionality of almost all relationships, their aftermaths and the lengths people go to to redeem them. From the ingrained resentments of Jane Rogers' parent-child histories to the twisted claustrophobia of Polly Clark's couples and the absence that travels beside each passenger in Zoe Lambert's bus sequence, these stories demonstrate the transforming, often alienating, affect a relationship can have on the individuals in it and remind us that being next of kin isn't always kind. Ellipsis is a unique series presenting linked or themed sequences of short stories by three writers in each volume. All three are previously uncollected as short story authors; two of them in each issue are established as novelists or poets; the third in this case, Zoe Lambert, is previously unpublished. Hitting Trees with Sticks Jane Rogers, 2013-12-03. Long-listed for the 2013 Frank O'Connor International Short Story Prize. Short-listed for the 2013 Edge Hill Short Story Prize. A young textile designer quits Britain to work for a Nigerian women's refuge, confident that this is her one chance to make a difference. A sixteen-year-old uses his first job as a window cleaner to peer into other people's lives and carefully plan his own. A leading scientist spends an evening trying to explain his latest theory to a man who could destroy him. The characters in Jane Rogers' first short story collection are each blessed with an unwavering conviction. Buoyed up on self-belief, they enthusiastically take calculated risks and refuse to be deterred by the odds stacked against them. But just as Rogers' compassion as a writer endears us to their cause, her keen eye shows how fine the balance can be between conviction and self-delusion. At times, her subject seems to be the fallibility of any point of view, the persistence of blind spots, no matter how careful or intelligent the viewer. Hers are not unreliable narrators, merely human ones, diverse, contradictory, imperfect. Indeed, it is often their flaws that beguile us. There is nothing predictable about a Jane Rogers story She has the confidence and skill to inhabit many different voices and different worlds She slides the reader in imagination to a snow bound France to Africa to the Caribbean she takes us into offices and libraries under the sea and into the forest and also into the vast untrodden country of memory that we carry around inside Her observation of our species is tender precise illuminating Hilary Mantel Thrilling ambitious stories that cross continents and soar from cells to stars Maggie Gee Warm wise insightful sharply observed and beautifully written each story is a world in microcosm Marina Lewycka This is her first collection of short stories and it is beautiful The Independent on Sunday
