Annual Review of Information Science & Technology Blaise Cronin, 2006-10 ARIST published annually since 1966 is a landmark publication within the information science community. It surveys the landscape of information science and technology providing an analytical, authoritative and accessible overview of recent trends and significant developments. The range of topics varies considerably reflecting the dynamism of the discipline and the diversity of theoretical and applied perspectives. The Economics of Open Access Thomas Eger, Marc Scheufen, 2018-06-29 Addressing the recent debate on how the future of academic publishing might look in a purely digital environment, this book analyzes the experiences of researchers with as well as attitudes towards Open Access (OA) publishing. Drawing on a unique in-depth survey with more than 10 000 respondents from 25 countries, Thomas Eger and Marc Scheufen discuss their findings in the light of recent policy attempts which have been trying to foster OA, revealing considerable shortcomings and lack of knowledge on fundamental features of the academic publishing market.

Multidimensional Journal Evaluation Stefanie Haustein, 2012-04-26 Scientific communication depends primarily on publishing in journals. The most important indicator to determine the influence of a journal is the Impact Factor. Since this factor only measures the average number of citations per article in a certain time window, it can be argued that it does not reflect the actual value of a periodical. This book defines five dimensions which build a framework for a multidimensional method of journal evaluation. The author is winner of the Eugene Garfield Doctoral Dissertation Scholarship 2011.
