Percy Toriro, Innocent Chirisa

Geography Paper 1 Eastern Cape 2013 November:

Making Public in a Privatized World David A. McDonald, 2016-02-15 How do we provide effective public services in a deeply neoliberal world In the wake of the widespread failure of privatisation efforts societies in the global south are increasingly seeking progressive ways of recreating the public sector With contributors ranging from cutting edge scholars to activists working in health water and energy provision and with case studies covering a broad spectrum of localities and actors Making Public in a Privatized World uncovers the radically different ways in which public services are being reshaped from the grassroots up From communities holding the state accountable for public health in rural Guatemala to waste pickers in India and decentralized solar electricity initiatives in Africa the essays in this collection offer probing insights into the complex ways in which people are building genuine alternatives to privatization while also illustrating the challenges which communities face in creating public services which are not subordinated to the logic of the market or to the monolithic state entities of the past

Chinese Migrants and Africa's Development Doctor Ben Lampert, Doctor May Tan-Mullins, Daphne Chang, Giles Mohan, 2014-06-12 China's recent stepping up of relations with Africa is one of the most significant developments on the African continent for decades For some it promises an end to Africa's dependent aid relationships as the Chinese bring expertise technology and a stronger business focus But for others it is no more than a new form of imperialism This book is the first to systematically study the motivations relationships and impact of this migration It focuses not just on the Chinese migrants but also on the perceptions of and linkages to their African hosts By studying this everyday interaction we get a much richer picture of whether this is South South cooperation as political leaders would have us believe or a more complex relationship that can both compromise and encourage African development

Photography and History in Colonial Southern Africa Lorena Rizzo,2019-09-16 This book studies the relationship between photography and history in colonial Southern Africa using a series of encounters with Southern African photographic archives to reflect on photography as a distinct historical form Through use of private and public archives images produced by African itinerant photographers white settlers and colonial state institutions this book explores the relationship between photography and history in colonial Southern Africa Late nineteenth century Cape Colonial prison albums police photographs from German Southwest Africa African studio portraits identity documents travel permits and passports from the 1920s and 1930s visual studies of whiteness and blackness authored by settler photographers South African dompas photographs from the 1950s and 1960s and aerial photography from the Eastern Cape in the mid twentieth century are examined to highlight the ways in which photographic images cut across conventional institutional boundaries and complicate rigid distinctions between the private and the public the political and the aesthetic the colonial and the vernacular or the subject and the object Photography and History in Colonial Southern Africa argues that rather than understanding photographs as a means of preserving and recreating the past in the present we can value them for how they evoke at once the need for and the limits of historical reconstruction This book will be of interest to students and scholars of colonial history photographic history visual media and African studies Practising Empowerment in Post-Apartheid South Africa Agatha Herman,2017-07-28 Despite the promise and optimism surrounding the post apartheid transition South African society continues to be highly racialised in its discourses identities and practices even within the very strategies that aim to change power relations and heal racialised divisions Renowned for its brutal past practices the wine industry in South Africa has long been associated with white power and black exploitation and remains dogged by continuing allegations of poor working conditions and labour abuses Through in depth longitudinal fieldwork this book considers how different ethics interact and draws attention to the positive changes and continuing development challenges faced in South Africa Situating practice at its heart it brings a novel everyday and micro scale dimension to understandings of empowerment in the post apartheid South African wine industry It develops a critical analysis of the interplay between practice as scaled and inherently spatial and discourse to conceptualise how big concepts such as empowerment are articulated materialised and experienced at the ground level Through this it gives voices to the marginalised who experience empowerment setting these within the context of their relations with the other stakeholders who shape this engagement This book contributes to broader critical social science debates around ethical development and questions of power and empowerment in development interventions This is critical to reducing the disconnection between policy aims and realities within development and empowerment initiatives as well as enabling ethical commodities to be strategic in retaining their appeal throughout their networks Routledge Handbook of Tourism in Africa Marina Novelli,Emmanuel Akwasi Adu-Ampong,Manuel Alector Ribeiro,2020-11-29 This book provides a comprehensive and readable overview of the critical debates and controversies around tourism in Africa and the major factors that are affecting tourism development now and in the future Drawing upon research emerging from collaborations between a growing number of African academics and practitioners based in the continent and in the African diaspora as well as international colleagues the Handbook offers key critical insights into the issues challenges and trends that Africa and African tourism is facing Part I covers continent wide issues such as climate change ICT heritage and development The remaining parts are organised along geographic lines with each chapter covering the development of tourism current trends and discussion of critical issues such as community participation gender backpacking urban tourism wildlife tourism and conservation Combining an overview of key theories concepts contemporary issues and debates this book will be a valuable resource for students academics and practitioners investigating the role of tourism in Africa Manipulating Political Decentralisation Lovise Aalen,Ragnhild L.

Muriaas,2017-10-12 Can autocrats establish representative subnational governments And which strategies of manipulation are available if they would like to reduce the uncertainty caused by introducing political decentralisation In the wake of local government reforms several states across the world have introduced legislation that provides for subnational elections This does not mean that representative subnational governments in these countries are all of a certain standard Political decentralisation should not be confused with democratisation as the process is likely to be manipulated in ways that do not produce meaningful avenues for political participation and contestation locally Using examples from Africa Lovise Aalen and Ragnhild L Muriaas propose five requirements for representative subnational governments and four strategies that national governments might use to manipulate the outcome of political decentralisation The case studies of Ethiopia Malawi South Africa and Uganda illustrate why autocrats sometimes are more open to competition at the subnational level than democrats Manipulating Political Decentralisation provides a new conceptual tool to assess representative subnational governments quality aiding us in building theories on the consequences of political decentralisation on democratisation Climate Change 2014 - Impacts, Adaptation and Vulnerability: Part B: Regional Aspects: Volume 2, Regional Aspects Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change (IPCC),2014-12-29 This latest Fifth Assessment Report of the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change IPCC will again form the standard reference for all those concerned with climate change and its consequences including students researchers and policy makers in environmental science meteorology climatology biology ecology atmospheric chemistry and environmental policy Climate Change 2014 - Impacts, Adaptation and Vulnerability: Regional Aspects Christopher B. Field,Vicente R. Barros,2014-12-29 This latest Fifth Assessment Report of the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change IPCC will again form the standard reference for all those concerned with climate change and its consequences including students researchers and policy makers in environmental science meteorology climatology biology ecology atmospheric chemistry and environmental policy The Thika Highway Improvement Project Renard Teipelke,2013-12-04 Theory and practice of high capacity infrastructure projects are the major focus in the development of countries in the Global South Aiming at a more fine grained understanding of such projects Renard Teipelke studies the Thika Highway Improvement Project THIP and its outcomes in the peri urban Northern Nairobi Metropolitan Region The THIP is a large transportation infrastructure project that expanded the dual carriageway Thika Road into an eight lane highway from 2008 until 2012 Based on a strategic mix of methodological approaches such as interviews with experts in Kenya literature research and field visits the black box THIP is opened up In the empirical analysis the project s idea its design and its implementation are studied It is concluded that the project s outcomes are ambivalent partly living up to the expectations of THIP proponents but not resulting in shared benefits for all concerned stakeholders due to flaws in managing the development in this peri urban transport corridor area thereby fitting into the Kenyan context of politics and planning Physical Geography Joseph A. Mason,Peter O. Muller,Harm J. De Blij,2016 H J de Blij is listed as the first author of the fourth edition Environmental Resilience Percy Toriro, Innocent Chirisa, 2021-05-21 This book discusses the production distribution regulatory and management frameworks that affect food in urban settings It plugs a gap in knowledge especially in the sub Saharan Africa region where food despite its critical importance has been ignored as a determinant of success in the planning and management of cities and towns The various chapters in the book demonstrate how urban populations in Zimbabwe and elsewhere have often devised ways to produce own food to supplement on their incomes Food is produced largely by way of urban agriculture or imported from the countryside and sold in both formal and informal stores and stalls The book shows how in spite of the important space food occupies in the lives of all city residents the planning and regulatory framework does not facilitate the better performance of food systems A Global Idea Maysoun Sukarieh, 2023-08-15 A Global Idea outlines how youth as shown by the Arab Spring uprisings and subsequent state responses became a prominent social and political category during the first two decades of the twenty first century in the Middle East Drawing on ethnographic fieldwork interview data and textual analysis Maysoun Sukarieh explains that the spread of youth as an important category is linked to the operation of a global youth development complex a diverse transnational network of state private sector civil society and international development aid organizations that worked through key urban areas such as Washington DC Amman and Dubai In its analysis of the arrival extension and embedding of the youth development complex in the Middle East during this period A Global Idea addresses a broader question that is of global and not just regional concern How are certain ideas that are central to the working and reproduction of global capitalism able to travel the world so that they are found virtually everywhere Handbook of BRICS and Emerging Economies P. B. Anand, Shailaja Fennell, Flavio Comim, 2021 Ever since Jim O Neill at Goldman Sachs coined the term BRICS in 2001 there have been many different assessments of these major emerging economies with some even proclaiming that the promise of the BRICS comprising Brazil Russia India China and South Africa is over However the so called arranged marriage still seems to be working well with the club having become a formal international forum with summit declarations ministerial meetings and numerous BRICS wide fora Is this euphoria misplaced Is there a BRICS model of economic and human development Are inequalities increasing and is this the denouncement of the economic successes The Handbook of BRICS and Emerging Economies presents a comprehensive and multi faceted analysis of the BRICS countries and other emerging economies exploring their economic social environmental and governance dimensions and other challenges It brings together multi disciplinary perspectives from more than fifty authors to examine how education contributed to the emergence of BRICS how BRICS are impacting African economies and how other emerging economies including Chile Mexico Turkey and others in Africa and Central Asia compare It observes the impact of governance challenges both within individual countries and in the forum for co operation amongst them what issues related to gender and identity based violence are prevalent and what the security implications are and the role of BRICS is in contributing to peace keeping

Economics of Land Degradation and Improvement - A Global Assessment for Sustainable Development Ephraim Nkonya, Alisher Mirzabaev, Joachim von Braun, 2015-11-11 This volume deals with land degradation which is occurring in almost all terrestrial biomes and agro ecologies in both low and high income countries and is stretching to about 30% of the total global land area About three billion people reside in these degraded lands However the impact of land degradation is especially severe on livelihoods of the poor who heavily depend on natural resources The annual global cost of land degradation due to land use and cover change LUCC and lower cropland and rangeland productivity is estimated to be about 300 billion USD Sub Saharan Africa SSA accounts for the largest share 22% of the total global cost of land degradation Only about 38% of the cost of land degradation due to LUCC which accounts for 78% of the US 300 billion loss is borne by land users and the remaining share 62% is borne by consumers of ecosystem services off the farm The results in this volume indicate that reversing land degradation trends makes both economic sense and has multiple social and environmental benefits On average one US dollar investment into restoration of degraded land returns five US dollars The findings of the country case studies call for increased investments into the rehabilitation and restoration of degraded lands including through such institutional and policy measures as strengthening community participation for sustainable land management enhancing government effectiveness and rule of law improving access to markets and rural services and securing land tenure The assessment in this volume has been conducted at a time when there is an elevated interest in private land investments and when global efforts to achieve sustainable development objectives have intensified In this regard the results of this volume can contribute significantly to the ongoing policy debate and efforts to design strategies for achieving sustainable development goals and related efforts to address land degradation and halt biodiversity loss

Planning and Design for Sustainable Urban Mobility

Un-Habitat, 2013-10-30 Urban transport systems worldwide are faced by a multitude of challenges Among the most visible of these are the traffic gridlocks experienced on city roads and highways all over the world The prescribed solution to transport problems in most cities has thus been to build more infrastructures for cars with a limited number of cities improving public transport systems in a sustainable manner However a number of challenges faced by urban transport systems such as greenhouse gas emissions noise and air pollution and road traffic accidents do not necessarily get solved by the construction of new infrastructure Planning and Design for Sustainable Urban Mobility argues that the development of sustainable urban transport systems requires a conceptual leap The purpose of transportation and mobility is to gain access to destinations activities services and goods Thus access is the ultimate objective of transportation As a result urban planning and design should focus on how to bring people and places together by creating cities that focus on accessibility rather than simply increasing the length of urban transport infrastructure or increasing the movement of people or goods Urban form and the functionality of the city are therefore a major focus of this report which highlights the importance of integrated land use and transport planning This new report of the United Nations Human Settlements Programme UN Habitat the world s leading authority on urban issues provides some thought provoking insights and policy recommendations on how to plan and design sustainable urban mobility systems The Global Report on Human Settlements is the most authoritative and up to date global assessment of human settlements conditions and trends Preceding issues of the report have addressed such topics as Cities in a Globalizing World The Challenge of Slums Financing Urban Shelter Enhancing Urban Safety and Security Planning Sustainable Cities and Cities and Climate Change
