Geography Paper Memorandum November 2013:

The Changing Practices of International Law Tanja Aalberts, Thomas Gammeltoft-Hansen, 2018-04-05 With more than 158 000 treaties and some 125 judicial organisations international law has become an inescapable factor in world politics since the Second World War In recent years however international law has also been increasingly challenged as states are voicing concerns that it is producing unintended effects and accuse international courts of judicial activism This book provides an important corrective to existing theories of international law by focusing on how states respond to increased legalisation and rely on legal expertise to manoeuvre within and against international law Through a number of case studies covering a wide range of topical issues such as surveillance environmental regulation migration and foreign investments the book argues that the expansion and increased institutionalisation of international law itself have created the structural premise for this type of politics of international law More international law paradoxically increases states political room of manoeuvre in world society

Decolonization and Conflict Martin Thomas, Gareth Curless, 2017-06-15 Insurgency based irregular warfare typifies armed conflict in the post Cold War age For some years now western and other governments have struggled to contend with ideologically driven guerrilla movements religiously inspired militias and systematic targeting of civilian populations Numerous conflicts of this type are rooted in experiences of empire breakdown Yet few multi empire studies of decolonisation s violence exist Decolonization and Conflict brings together expertise on a variety of different cases to offer new perspectives on the colonial conflicts that engulfed Europe s empires after 1945 The contributors analyse multiple forms of colonial counter insurgency from the military engagement of anti colonial movements to the forced removal of civilian populations and the application of new doctrines of psychological warfare Contributors to the collection also show how insurgencies their propaganda and methods of action were inherently transnational and inter connected The resulting study is a vital contribution to our understanding of contested decolonization It emphasises the global connections at work and reveals the contemporary resonances of both anti colonial insurgencies and the means devised to counter them It is essential reading for students and scholars of empire decolonization and asymmetric warfare

Islam and the Liberal State Stephen H. Jones, 2020-11-26 National identity and liberal democracy are recurrent themes in debates about Muslim minorities in the West Britain is no exception with politicians responding to claims about Muslims lack of integration by mandating the promotion of fundamental British values including democracy and individual liberty This book engages with both these themes addressing the lack of understanding about the character of British Islam and its relationship to the liberal state It charts a gradual but decisive shift in British institutions concerned with Islamic education Islamic law and Muslim representation since Muslims settled in the UK in large numbers in the 1950s Based on empirical research including interviews undertaken over a ten year period with Muslims and analysis of public events organized by Islamic institutions Stephen Jones challenges claims about the isolation of British Islamic organizations and shows that they have decisively shaped themselves around British public and institutional norms He argues that this amounts to the building of a distinctive British Islam Using this narrative the book makes the case for a variety of liberalism that is open to the expression of religious arguments in public and to associations between religious groups and the state It also offers a powerful challenge to claims about the insularity of British Islamic institutions by showing how the national orientation of Islam called for by British policymakers is in fact already happening Tigary: The Panarchy of War Mirjam Van Reisen, Munyaradzi

Mawere, 2024-11-17 The Tigray War 2020 2022 left a deep and lasting impact not only on Tigray but also on the wider Horn of Africa In this second book in a three part series the authors examine the devastation wrought by the war on Tigray s cultural heritage and identity The deliberate destruction of ancient cultural sites and the assault on the Tigrayan people s identity have fueled a desire for greater autonomy among the people of Tigray to protect their future Through the lens of Panarchy this book explores how the war s effects extend far beyond Tigray reshaping the dynamics of the entire region Crucially it uncovers Eritrea s secret role in the conflict which was deliberately concealed by Ethiopia Eritrean forces were implicated not only in atrocities but also in the use of particularly cruel and inhumane sexual violence intended to break the spirit of the Tigrayan people and erase Tigray as an ethnic and cultural group This ethnographic research conducted in collaboration with universities inside and outside Ethiopia reveals the profound transformations caused by the war with consequences that will reverberate for years to come It sheds light on the war s long term impact and highlights the urgent need for international attention on the challenges faced by Tigray and the wider region The Struggle for Jerusalem's Holy Places Wendy Pullan, Maximilian Sternberg, Lefkos Kyriacou, Craig Larkin, Michael Dumper, 2013-11-20 The Struggle for Jerusalem s Holy Places investigates the role of architecture and urban identity in relation to the political economy of the city and its wider state context seen through the lens of the holy places Reflecting the broad disciplinary backgrounds of the authors this book provides perspectives from architecture urbanism and politics and provides in depth investigations of historical ethnographic and policy related case studies The research is substantiated by fieldwork carried out in Jerusalem over the past ten years as part of the ESRC Large Grants project Conflict in Cities By analysing new dynamics of radicalisation through land seizure the politicisation of parklands and tourism the strategic manipulation of archaeological and historical narratives and material culture and through examination of general appropriation of Jerusalem s varied rituals memories and symbolism for factional uses the book reveals how possibilities of co existence are seriously threatened in Jerusalem Shedding new light on the key role played by everyday urban life and its spatial settings for any future political agreements about the city and its religious sites this book is a useful reference work for students and scholars of Middle East Studies Architecture Religion and Urban Studies The Oxford Companion to the Economics of China Shenggen Fan, Ravi Kanbur, Shang-Jin Wei, Xiaobo Zhang, 2014-10-30 China s rise as an economic powerhouse raises a number of questions that are the subject of lively debate How did the country do it How applicable are the lessons of China s economic reform of the past thirty years to the challenges it faces in the next three decades What does the detailed pattern of China's success and challenges look like at the sub sectoral and sub national levels and what does this mean for future policy How will China's role as a global economic player evolve The Oxford Companion to the Economics of China presents an original collection of perspectives on the Chinese economy's past present and future 99 entries written by the leading China analysts of our time The topics covered include the China model future prospects for China China and the global economy trade and the Chinese economy macroeconomics and finance urbanisation industry and markets agriculture and rural development land infrastructure and environment population and labour dimensions of wellbeing and inequality health and education gender equity regional divergence in China and a selection of perspectives on some of China's provinces The Editors are four global leaders in Chinese economic analysis and policy who between them have held or hold the following positions Director General International Food Policy Research Institute Co Editor China Economic Review President Chinese Economists Society Assistant Director of Research at the IMF Principal Adviser to the Chief Economist of the World Bank and Professors of Economics at Ivy League Universities

Tin and Global Capitalism, 1850-2000 Mats Ingulstad, Andrew Perchard, Espen Storli, 2014-09-04 For most of the twentieth century tin was fundamental for both warfare and welfare The importance of tin is most powerfully represented by the tin can an invention which created a revolution in food preservation and helped feed both the armies of the great powers and the masses of the new urban society The trouble with tin was that economically viable deposits of the metal could only be found in a few regions of the world predominantly in the southern hemisphere while the main centers of consumption were in the industrialized north The tin trade was therefore a highly politically charged economy in which states and private enterprise competed and cooperated to assert control over deposits smelters and markets Tin provides a particularly telling illustration of how the interactions of business and governments shape the evolution of the global economic trade the tin industry has experienced extensive state intervention during times of war encompasses intense competition and cartelization and has seen industry centers both thrive and fail in the wake of decolonization The history of the international tin industry reveals the complex interactions and interdependencies between local actors and international networks decolonization and globalization as well as government foreign policies and entrepreneurial tactics By highlighting the global struggles for control and the constantly shifting economic geographical and political constellations within one specific industry this collection of essays brings the state back into business history and the firm into the history of international relations

Educational Reconstruction Gary McCulloch, 2013-09-05 This book presents a clear overview of the debates that surrounded the making of the 1944 Act which affected every aspect of education in this country It gives a detailed account of the tripartite divisions into three types of child that were sanctioned in the reforms of the 1940s At the same time it also emphasises the idea of education as a civic project which underlay the reforms and which was such an important part of their lasting authority The education policies of the past decade and the current attempts to shape a new education settlement need to be interpreted in a long term historical framework and in particular in relation to the aims and problems of the last great cycle of reform in the 1940s This book makes an important contribution to the development of such a framework and the social history of education policy in this country Mosley and British Politics 1918-32 D. Howell, 2014-10-21 Oswald Mosley has been reviled as a fascist and lamented as the lost leader of both Conservative and Labour Parties Concerned to articulate the demands of the war generation and to pursue an agenda for economic and political modernization his ultimate rejection of existing institutions and practices led him to fascism Brexit and After Kumiko Haba, Martin Holland, 2020-12-12 This book makes a new departure from others on the subject Not only does it analyze Brexit from the domestic point of view in the UK democracy social analysis and construction of new institutionalization with the EU it extends the analysis externally and reconsiders the EU and UK relationship with Asia and the implications for international relations and a new world order From this foundation this book presents a broad and diverse spectrum of views concerning Brexit and the EU For these reasons it serves as an original and excellent textbook for undergraduate and graduate students as well as for researchers of the EU and international relations Contributions to this volume are from the European Union Studies Association EUSA Asia Pacific Tokyo Conference and affiliated conferences at the following universities between 2017 19 Aoyama Gakuin University Tokyo Taiwan National University Taipei and Fudan University Shanghai Almost all of the authors have engaged in interdisciplinary research on the EU are members of the EUSA Asia Pacific and have made public presentations on Brexit and how it relates to the EU Asia international relations economics and institutions Therefore this book presents various aspects of Brexit and its aftermath from the perspectives of the disciplines of political science economics and international relations in its analysis of the UK the EU Asia and the future world order The EUSA Presidents and executive committee members participated in the Asia Pacific Conference postgraduate student workshops were organized and their presentations moderated thereby guaranteeing both the quality of the contributions to this book as well as encouraging young talented scholars to write about Brexit and the EU While many books on Brexit have been published this book offers many new and perspectives that provide suggestions for possible solutions to the problems facing the UK and the EU after Brexit Deepening Neoliberalism, Austerity, and Crisis Julien Mercille, Enda Murphy, 2015-07-07 From bank bailouts to austerity Europe's and Ireland's response to the economic crisis has been engineered specifically to shift the burden of paying for the crisis onto ordinary citizens while investors financiers bankers and the privileged are protected The authors expose the class based nature of Ireland's crisis resolution

Innovation and Modernisation in Contemporary Russia Imogen Sophie Kristin Wade, 2022-07-29 This book examines how technological modernisation and innovation policies have been implemented in Russia from the Soviet era to the present day It discusses how since about 2000 the Russian state has attempted to address the country's excessive dependence on natural resources by implementing an ambitious programme of economic modernisation including giving innovation more policy prominence boosting state funding for research and development and innovation and emphasising science towns and technology parks as key instruments for stimulating innovation Based on extensive original research taking a multidisciplinary approach and including detailed case studies the book explains why despite these efforts Russia is performing comparatively poorly in innovation outcomes It argues that a key factor is the country's political economy model in which science technology and innovation policies are mainly controlled and funded by the federal centre of power and led by domestic political and economic elites Economic Report of the President Transmitted to the Congress United States.

President,2014 Life of Permafrost Pey-Yi Chu,2021-01-04 By tracing the English word permafrost back to its Russian roots this unique intellectual history uncovers the multiple contested meanings of permafrost as a scientific idea and environmental phenomenon Russia's Arctic Strategies and the Future of the Far North Marlene

Laruelle,2015-01-28 This book offers the first comprehensive examination of Russia's Arctic strategy ranging from climate change issues and territorial disputes to energy policy and domestic challenges As the receding polar ice increases the accessibility of the Arctic region rival powers have been manoeuvring for geopolitical and resource security Geographically Russia controls half of the Arctic coastline 40 percent of the land area beyond the Circumpolar North and three quarters of the Arctic population In total the sea and land surface area of the Russian Arctic is about 6 million square kilometres Economically as much as 20 percent of Russia's GDP and its total exports is generated north of the Arctic Circle In terms of resources about 95 percent of its gas 75 percent of its oil 96 percent of its platinum 90 percent of its nickel and cobalt and 60 percent of its copper reserves are found in Arctic and Sub Arctic regions Add to this the riches of the continental shelf seabed and waters ranging from rare earth minerals to fish stocks After a spike of aggressive rhetoric when Russia planted its flag in the Arctic seabed in 2007 Moscow has attempted to strengthen its position as a key factor in developing an international consensus concerning a region where its relative advantages are manifest despite its diminishing military technological and human capacities The State of African Cities, 2014 United Nations Human Settlements

Programme,2013 Nairobi UN Habitat c2014 9789211325980 Assembling Bus Rapid Transit in the Global South

Malve Jacobsen,2020-12-13 This book explores the mobile ethnography of Dar es Salaam where consultants and politicians have planned and implemented a bus rapid transit BRT system for two decades It analyses the dual processes of assembling BRT in the Tanzanian metropolis and establishing BRT as a policy model of and for the Global South The book elucidates how policy models are constructed and circulated around the globe and depicts the processes by which they are translated between and materialise within specific contexts It presents the case of BRT to demonstrate how technocrats shape these processes through persuasive work aimed at disseminating and stabilising this transport model and how local actors influence its adaptation in Dar es Salaam The book adopts a double mobility approach to show how this ethnography follows travelling consultants circulating policies and moving buses to explore the fluidity of the BRT model Linking key debates in policy mobility studies and Science and Technology Studies enriched with postcolonial perspectives and geographies of transport and infrastructure it offers new insights into the technopolitics of planning and implementing infrastructure systems This book will appeal to academics and students of human geography transport studies science and technology studies and African and development studies interested in the technopolitics of transport planning National Uniform Legislation Guzyal Hill,2022-08-11 This book aims to develop a conceptual framework upon which to draw for analysis of new and existing national reforms in Australia Due to growth in the volume and complexity of national uniform legislation law reform agencies the Commonwealth state and territory governments and policy institutions have more rather than less to do This book explores how they are required to respond to debates among actors from divergent geographical commercial and ideological backgrounds who sometimes demonstrate irreconcilable differences in values and perspectives From a policy implication perspective this book summarises a vast quantity of original and complex data so that it can be applied in the field among policymakers reformers legislative drafters students and the wider audience of legal practitioners working with harmonised legislation in federations This book acknowledges that uniform legislation is not a panacea for all legal challenges currently faced by federations However this book takes a step towards demystifying the many confusing factors that have obscured the underlying general principles A working theory of federal harmonisation enables the art of the impossible to become a practical reality This book condenses data on legislation in models The models enable transparent evidence based decisions in the process of a federation s harmonisation to progress regulatory best practices and achieve more reliable sustainable results Core-Periphery Patterns across the European Union Adelaide Duarte,Gabriela Carmen Pascariu,2017-08-25 In this new work Pascariu and Duarte along with an international group of acclaimed scholars delve into key challenges currently facing the European Union They Analyze the effect of peripherality across the EU regions which will be of great interest to those countries and regions facing a process of integration European Products Gisela Welz,2015-09-01 On the Mediterranean island of Cyprus rural villages traditional artefacts even atmospheres and experiences are considered heritage Heritage making not only protects but also produces things people and places Since the Republic of Cyprus joined the European Union in 2004 heritage making and Europeanization are increasingly intertwined in Greek Cypriot society Against the backdrop of a long term ethnographic engagement the author argues that heritage emerges as an increasingly standardized economic resource a European product Implemented in historic preservation rural tourism culinary traditions nature protection and urban restoration projects heritage policy has become infused with transnational market regulations and neoliberal property regimes
