Big Data Applications in Geography and Planning Mark Birkin, Graham Clarke, Jonathan Corcoran, Robert Stimson, 2021-05-28 This unique book demonstrates the utility of big data approaches in human geography and planning Offering a carefully curated selection of case studies it reveals how researchers are accessing big data what this data looks like and how such data can offer new and important insights and knowledge

Decolonization and Conflict Martin Thomas, Gareth Curless, 2017-06-15 Insurgency based irregular warfare typifies armed conflict in the post Cold War age For some years now western and other governments have struggled to contend with ideologically driven guerrilla movements religiously inspired militias and systematic targeting of civilian populations Numerous conflicts of this type are rooted in experiences of empire breakdown Yet few multi empire studies of decolonisation s violence exist Decolonization and Conflict brings together expertise on a variety of different cases to offer new perspectives on the colonial conflicts that engulfed Europe s empires after 1945 The contributors analyse multiple forms of colonial counter insurgency from the military engagement of anti colonial movements to the forced removal of civilian populations and the application of new doctrines of psychological warfare Contributors to the collection also show how insurgencies their propaganda and methods of action were inherently transnational and inter connected The resulting study is a vital contribution to our understanding of contested decolonization It emphasises the global connections at work and reveals the contemporary resonances of both anti colonial insurgencies and the means devised to counter them It is essential reading for students and scholars of empire decolonization and asymmetric warfare

America's Moment: Creating Opportunity in the Connected Age Rework America, 2015-06-15 It is time for a new conversation Amid the biggest economic transformation in a century the challenge of our time is to make sure that all Americans benefit from the wave of digital revolutions around the world that have permeated and upended modern life Yet today s economic arguments seem stuck We need a new vision of a hopeful future and a new action agenda So many Americans are uncertain about the future How can there be so many paths to opportunity with so few people traveling them As a nation we have to understand what is required to help Americans succeed now and how to prepare our country for what comes next We have been here before A hundred years ago America experienced the greatest economic transformation and technological revolution in its history The transformation of the past twenty years as the world has moved through the information era into the digital age has turned our life and work upside down once again It is a time of tremendous change but also of tremendous possibility Rework America is a group of American leaders who know from experience the challenges we face and the potential solutions In America s Moment they suggest a practical agenda for an exciting future It is illustrated by people who are already showing the way and includes actions Americans can take today in their own communities preparing people to succeed using the reach of the Internet and data to innovate jobs and to reach new markets all over the world using technology to match employers and workers and transitioning to a no collar working world neither blue collar nor white collar Set against the history of how Americans succeeded once before in remaking their country America's Moment is about the future It describes how the same forces of change technology and a networked world can become tools that can open opportunity to everyone     Dictators Without Borders Alexander A. Cooley, John Heathershaw, 2017-02-07 A penetrating look into the unrecognized and unregulated links between autocratic regimes in Central Asia and centers of power and wealth throughout the West Weak corrupt and politically unstable the former Soviet republics of Kazakhstan Kyrgyzstan Tajikistan and Uzbekistan are dismissed as isolated and irrelevant to the outside world But are they This hard hitting book argues that Central Asia is in reality a globalization leader with extensive involvement in economics politics and security dynamics beyond its borders Yet Central Asia's international activities are mostly hidden from view with disturbing implications for world security Based on years of research and involvement in the region Alexander Cooley and John Heathershaw reveal how business networks elite bank accounts overseas courts third party brokers and Western lawyers connect Central Asia's supposedly isolated leaders with global power centers The authors also uncover widespread Western participation in money laundering bribery foreign lobbying by autocratic governments and the exploiting of legal loopholes within Central Asia Riveting and important this book exposes the global connections of a troubled region that must no longer be ignored     Broadcasting Buildings Shundana Yusaf, 2014-02-28 How the BBC shaped popular perceptions of architecture and placed them at the heart of debates over participatory democracy     Sustainable Railway Futures Becky P.Y. Loo, Claude Comtois, 2016-03-03 Revitalizing railways as a major sustainable transport mode in modern societies faces many issues and challenges This in depth overview places the importance of railways in the wider context of comprehensive sustainability which encompasses sustainable development social and economic equity and community livability Some scholars have described the 21st century as a period of renaissance for railways and suggest this transport mode can fulfil people's desire for high mobility with low negative environmental social economic and financial impacts In light of these new expectations for railways in both passenger and freight transport worldwide this book offers the latest research insights on the renewed interest about railway expansions and their wide ranging environmental socio economic and even political implications     The Middle and Upper Paleolithic Archeology of the Levant and Beyond Yoshihiro Nishiaki, Takeru Akazawa, 2017-12-06 This volume is a compilation of results from sessions of the Second International Conference on the Replacement of Neanderthals by Modern Humans which took place between November 30 and December 6 2014 in Hokkaido Japan Similar to the first conference held in 2012 in Tokyo the 2014 conference RNMH2014 aimed to compile the results of the latest multidisciplinary approaches investigating the issues surrounding the replacement of Neanderthals by modern humans The results of the sessions supplemented by off site contributions center on the archeology of the Middle and Upper Paleolithic of the Levant and beyond The first part of this volume presents recent findings from the Levant while the second part focuses on the neighboring regions namely the Caucasus the Zagros and

South Asia The 13 chapters in this volume highlight the distinct nature of the cultural occurrences during the Middle and Upper Paleolithic periods of the Levant displaying a continuous development as well as a combination of lithic traditions that may have originated in different regions This syncretism which is an unusual occurrence in the regions discussed in this volume reinforces the importance of the Levant as a region for interpreting the RNMH phenomenon in West Asia

Land Grabbing in Africa Fassil Demissie,2017-10-02 The sign that Africa is on Sale has been appearing with regular frequency in major newspaper accounts across the world indicating that large amounts expanses of Africa s rich farmlands are being sold to transnational investors usually on long term leases at a rate not seen in decades indeed not since the colonial period Transnational and national economic actors from various business sectors oil and auto mining and forestry food and chemical bioenergy etc are eagerly acquiring or declaring their intention to acquire large areas of land on which to build maintain or extend large scale extractive and agro industrial enterprises to help secure their own food and energy needs into the future This book provides a critical appraisal of the growing phenomenon of land grabbing in Africa Far from being a technical issue associated good governance the problem of land grabbing by transnational corporation and states is a serious threat for the food security of millions of Africans and is undoubtedly one of the great challenges of our time for development on the continent The case studies illustrate that African states are also complicit in the massive land grabbing by actively participating in isolated development while excluding the local communities The case studies reveal key features that characterize how the global land grab plays out in specific localities in Africa This book was published as a special issue of African Identities

Defence Planning and Uncertainty Stephan Frühling,2014-04-24 How can countries decide what kind of military forces they need if threats are uncertain and history is full of strategic surprises This is a question that is more pertinent than ever as countries across the Asia Pacific are faced with the military and economic rise of China Uncertainty is inherent in defence planning but different types of uncertainty mean that countries need to approach decisions about military force structure in different ways This book examines four different basic frameworks for defence planning and demonstrates how states can make decisions coherently about the structure and posture of their defence forces despite strategic uncertainty It draws on case studies from the United States Australian and New Zealand each of which developed key concepts for their particular circumstances and risk perception in Asia Success as well as failure in developing coherent defence planning frameworks holds lessons for the United States and other countries as they consider how best to structure their military forces for the uncertain challenges of the future

The Center Cannot Hold Jenna N. Hanchey,2023-07-07 In The Center Cannot Hold Jenna N Hanchey examines the decolonial potential emerging from processes of ruination and collapse Drawing on ethnographic fieldwork in rural Tanzania at an internationally funded NGO as it underwent dissolution Hanchey traces the conflicts between local leadership and Western paternalism as well as the unstable subjectivity of Western volunteers including the author who are unable to withstand the contradictions of playing the dual roles of decolonializing ally and white savior She argues that Western institutional and mental structures must be allowed to fall apart to make possible the emergence of decolonial justice Hanchey shows how through ruination privileged subjects come to critical awareness through repeated encounters with their own complicity providing an opportunity to delink from and oppose epistemologies of coloniality After things fall apart Hanchey posits the creation of decolonial futures depends on the labor required to imagine impossible futures into being

A Comparative Political Ecology of Exurbia Laura E. Taylor, Patrick T. Hurley, 2016-05-26 This book is about politics and planning outside of cities where urban political economy and planning theories do not account for the resilience of places that are no longer rural and where local communities work hard to keep from ever becoming urban By examining exurbia as a type of place that is no longer simply rural or only tied to the economies of global resources e g mining forestry and agriculture we explore how changing landscapes are planned and designed not to be urban that is to look function and feel different from cities and suburbs in spite of new home development and real estate speculation The book s authors contend that exurbia is defined by the persistence of rural economies the conservation of rural character and protection of natural ecological systems all of which are critical components of the contentious local politics that seek to limit growth Comparative political ecology is used as an organizing concept throughout the book to describe the nature of exurban areas in the U S and Australia although exurbs are common to many countries The essays each describe distinctive case studies with each chapter using the key concepts of competing rural capitalisms and uneven environmental management to describe the politics of exurban change This systematic analysis makes the processes of exurban change easier to see and understand Based on these case studies seven characteristics of exurban places are identified rural character access local economic change ideologies of nature changes in land management coalition building and land use planning This book will be of interest to those who study planning conservation and land development issues especially in areas of high natural amenity or environmental value There is no political ecology book quite like this neither one solely focused on cases from the developed world in this case the United States and Australia nor one that specifically harnesses different case studies from multiple areas to develop a central organizing perspective of landscape change      Accounting at War Warwick Funnell, Michele Chwastiak, 2015-03-24

Accounting is frequently portrayed as a value free mechanism for allocating resources and ensuring they are employed in the most efficient manner Contrary to this popular opinion the research presented in Accounting at War demonstrates that accounting for military forces is primarily a political practice Throughout history military force has been so pervasive that no community of any degree of complexity has succeeded in Through to the present day for all nation states accounting for the military and its operations has primarily served broader political purposes From the Crimean War to the War on Terror accounting has been used to assert civilian control over the military instill rational business practices on war and create the visibilities and invisibilities necessary to legitimize the use of force Accounting at War emphasizes the significant power that financial and accounting controls gave to political elites and the impact of these controls on military performance Accounting at War examines the effects of these controls in wars such as the Crimean South African and Vietnam wars Accounting at War also emphasizes how accounting has provided the means to rationalize and normalize violence which has often contributed to the acceleration and expansion of war Aimed at researchers and academics in the fields of accounting accounting history political management and sociology Accounting at War represents a unique and critical perspective to this cutting edge research field      Livable Streets 2.0 Bruce Appleyard, 2021-03-22 Livable Streets 2.0 offers a thorough examination of the struggle between automobiles residents pedestrians and other users of streets along with evidence based practical strategies for redesigning city street networks that support urban livability In 1981 when Donald Appleyard's Livable Streets was published it was globally recognized as a groundbreaking work one of the most influential urban design books of its time Unfortunately he was killed a year later by a speeding drunk driver This latest update Livable Streets 2.0 revisited by his son Bruce updates the topic with the latest research new case studies and best human centered practices for creating more livable streets for all It is essential reading for those who influence future directions in city and transportation planning urban design and community regeneration and placemaking Incorporates the most current empirical research on urban transportation and land use practices that support the need for more livable communities Includes recent case studies from around the world on successful projects campaigns programs and other efforts Contains new coverage of vulnerable populations      Land Fictions D. Asher Ghertner, Robert W. Lake, 2021-03-15 Land Fictions explores the common storylines narratives and tales of social betterment that justify and enact land as commodity It interrogates global patterns of property formation the dispossessions property markets enact and the popular movements to halt the growing waves of evictions and land grabs This collection brings together original research on urban rural and peri urban India rapidly urbanizing China and Southeast Asia resource expropriation in Africa and Latin America and the neoliberal urban landscapes of North America and Europe Through a variety of perspectives Land Fictions finds resonances between local stories of land's fictional powers and global visions of landed property's imagined power to automatically create value and advance national development Editors D Asher Ghertner and Robert W Lake unpack the dynamics of land commodification across a broad range of political spatial and temporal settings exposing its simultaneously contingent and collective nature The essays advance understanding of the politics of land while also contributing to current debates on the intersections of local and global urban and rural and general and particular Contributors Erik Harms Michael Watts Sai Balakrishnan Brett Christophers David Ferring Sarah Knuth Meghan Morris Benjamin Teresa Mi Shih Michael Levien Michael L Dwyer Heather Whiteside Sand, Snow, and

Stardust Gretchen Heefner, 2025-05-05 A vivid tour of US military efforts to understand survive and command harsh environments worldwide and beyond Deserts the Arctic outer space these extreme environments are often seen as inhospitable places at the edges of our maps But from the 1940s through the 1960s spurred by the diverse and unfamiliar regions the US military had navigated during World War II the United States defense establishment took a keen interest in these places dispatching troops to the Aleutian Islands North Africa the South Pacific and beyond To preserve the country's status as a superpower after the war to pave runways and build bridges engineers had to understand and then conquer dunes permafrost and even the surface of the moon Sand Snow and Stardust explores how the US military generated a new understanding of these environments and attempted to master them intending to cement America's planetary power Operating in these regions depended as much on scientific and cultural knowledge as on military expertise and technology From General George S Patton learning the hard way that the desert is not always hot to the challenges of constructing a scientific research base under the Arctic ice to the sheer implausibility of modeling Martian environments on Earth Gretchen Heefner takes us on a wry expedition into the extremes and introduces us to the people who have shaped our insight into these extraordinary environments Even decades after the first manned space flight plans for human space exploration and extraplanetary colonization are still based on what we know about stark habitats on Earth An entertaining survey of the relationship between environmental history and military might Sand Snow and Stardust also serves as a warning about the further transformation of the planet whether through desertification melting ice caps or attempts to escape it entirely

Globalization, International Spillovers and Sectoral Changes Charlie Karlsson, Andreas P. Cornett, Tina Wallin, 2018-02-23 As a consequence of globalization news ideas and knowledge are moving quickly across national borders and generating international spillovers So too however are economic and financial crises Combining a variety of methods concepts and interdisciplinary approaches this book provides an in depth examination of these structural changes and their impact Assessing the implications of globalization for businesses and sectors chapters focus on the interdependencies between different economic and political layers and explore topics such as human capital creativity innovation networks and collaboration Sticky Power Daniel Haberly, Dariusz Wójcik, 2022-05-02 This is an open access title available under the terms of a CC BY NC ND 4.0 International licence It is free to read at Oxford Scholarship Online and offered as a free PDF download from OUP and selected open access locations Although modern civilization revolves around money the nature of money is paradoxical It is nothing more than a representation of and medium for decentralized networks of social trust but its production is controlled by highly centralized networks of firms places and governments and there is never enough of it to go around Moreover given that the creation of money as credit is based on expectations money is at its heart an instrument for human agency to change the future However the financial systems that produce money are deeply rooted in the past and perpetuate themselves through history Sticky Power seeks to deepen our understanding of the paradox of money by introducing a novel conceptual lens Global Financial Networks to cast new light on the geography history politics and sociology of finance from the Middle Ages to the global financial crisis and beyond It shows that the power of finance is inherently sticky apparently new innovations such as offshore finance actually date back centuries and global financial networks more broadly have adapted to the rise and fall of empires and the development of new technologies while changing surprisingly little in their basic character or at most changing very slowly Haberly and W jcik argue that a recognition of the mechanics of this durability calls for a new approach to reforming finance one less reactively focused on regulation and more proactively focused on building new institutional systems with a long term sticky power of their own Muslim Fashion

Reina Lewis,2015-10-15 In the shops of London s Oxford Street girls wear patterned scarves over their hair as they cluster around makeup counters Alongside them hip twenty somethings style their head wraps in high black topknots to match their black boot cut trousers Participating in the world of popular mainstream fashion often thought to be the domain of the West these young Muslim women are part of an emergent cross faith transnational youth subculture of modest fashion In treating hijab and other forms of modest clothing as fashion Reina Lewis counters the overuse of images of veiled women as evidence in the prevalent suggestion that Muslims and Islam are incompatible with Western modernity Muslim Fashion contextualizes modest wardrobe styling within Islamic and global consumer cultures interviewing key players including designers bloggers shoppers store clerks and shop owners Focusing on Britain North America and Turkey Lewis provides insights into the ways young Muslim women use multiple fashion systems to negotiate religion identity and ethnicity The Legality and

Accountability of Autonomous Weapon Systems Afonso Seixas-Nunes,2022-05-19 By adopting a multi disciplinary approach this book provides a comprehensive analysis of the legality of the use of autonomous weapons systems under international law It examines different arguments presented by States roboticists and scholars to demonstrate the challenges such systems will create for the laws of war This study examines how technology of warfare seeks to increase the dissociation of risk and communication between weapons and their human operators Furthermore it explains how algorithms might give rise to errors on the battlefield that cannot be directly attributed to human operators Against this backdrop Dr Seixas Nunes examines three distinct legal frameworks the distinction between the legality of weapons and the laws of targeting different mechanisms of individual accountability and the importance of recovering the category of dolus eventualis for programmers and technicians and finally State responsibility for violations of the laws of war caused by weapons software errors
