Geography Theory Paper 1 March 2014:

Walking Inside Out Tina Richardson, 2015-07-07 Walking Inside Out is the first text that attempts to merge the work of literary and artist practitioners with academics to critically explore the state of psychogeography today. The collection explores contemporary psychogeographical practices, shows how a critical form of walking can highlight easily overlooked urban phenomenon, and examines the impact that everyday life in the city has on the individual. Through a variety of case studies, it offers a British perspective of international spaces from the British metropolis to the post communist European city. By situating the current strand of psychogeography within its historical, political, and creative context, along with careful consideration of the challenges it faces, Walking Inside Out offers a vision for the future of the discipline.

Handbook of Research on Educational Design and Cloud Computing in Modern Classroom Settings Koutsopoulos, K.C., Doukas, Konstantinos, Kotsanis, Yannis, 2017-12-30 In the digital age, the integration of technology has become a ubiquitous aspect of modern society. These advancements have significantly enhanced the field of education, allowing students to receive a better learning experience. The Handbook of Research on Educational Design and Cloud Computing in Modern Classroom Settings is a pivotal reference source for the latest research findings on the strategic role of cloud computing in education, teaching, and the learning process. Featuring extensive coverage on relevant areas such as personal learning environment, cloud-based learning, and educational models, this publication is an ideal resource for educators, professionals, school administrators, researchers, and practitioners in the field of education.

Inessential Colors Basile Baudez, 2021-12-21 The first comprehensive account of how and why architects learned to communicate through color. Architectural drawings of the Italian Renaissance were largely devoid of color, but from the seventeenth century through the nineteenth, polychromy in architectural representation grew and flourished. Basile Baudez argues that colors appeared on paper when architects adapted the pictorial tools of imitation, cartographers, natural signs, military engineers, conventions, and finally, painters' affective goals in an attempt to communicate with a broad public. Inessential Colors traces the use of color in European architectural drawings and prints, revealing how this phenomenon reflected the professional anxieties of an emerging professional practice that was simultaneously art and science. Traversing national borders, the book addresses color as a key player in the long history of rivalry and exchange between European traditions in architectural representation and practice. Featuring a wealth of previously unpublished drawings, Inessential Colors challenges the long-standing misreading of architectural drawings as illustrations rather than representations, pointing instead to their inherent qualities as independent objects whose beauty paved the way for the visual system architects use today.

Routledge Handbook of Policy Design Michael Howlett, Ishani Mukherjee, 2018-07-17 Uniting theoretical bases and advancements in practice, the Routledge Handbook of Policy Design brings together leading experts in the academic field of policy design in a pioneering effort of scholarship. Each chapter provides a multi-topic overview of the state of knowledge on how, why, where, or when policies are designed and how such designs can be improved These experts address how a new emphasis on effective policy design has re emerged in public policy studies in recent years and clarify the role of historical policy decisions policy capacities and government intentions in promoting a design orientation towards policy formulation and policy making more generally They examine many previously unexplored aspects of policy designs and designing activities which focus upon analyzing and improving the sets of policy tools adopted by governments to correct policy problems Ranging from the fundamentals of policy design and its place in greater policy studies to new questions regarding policy design content and effectiveness to contemporary design trends such as the use of digital tools and big data the Routledge Handbook of Policy Design is a comprehensive reference for students and scholars of public policy public administration and public management government and business

The Routledge Companion to Global Value Chains Renu Agarwal, Christopher Bajada, Roy Green, Katrina Skellern, 2021-09-30 This Companion provides a review of global value chains GVCs and the megatrends that are shaping them and will continue to reshape them in deep set trajectories of change over the next few decades Megatrends herald both challenges and opportunities With the growing interest among business leaders and researchers in GVCs this is a reference work which fills a gap in current literature by focusing on the new features of GVCs including the shift of global purchasing power towards developing economies the significance of emerging technologies and data analytics the increasing tensions between globalisation and de globalisation and the role of micro multinationals start up entrepreneurs the public sector and middle markets in a fast changing global economy The early chapters are essentially intradisciplinary in character with the first seeking to explore some historical aspects of GVCs Subsequent chapters cover the theory and practice of operations and supply chain management emerging supply chain technologies and the impact of inter firm collaboration across sectors and economies The final chapters take a more interdisciplinary approach and examine topics at the interface of GVCs with the economy society culture and politics This comprehensive handbook provides a timely analysis of leading edge global megatrends and practices in one volume

Vulnerability in Resistance Judith Butler, Zeynep Gambetti, Leticia Sabsay, 2016-10-13 Vulnerability and resistance have often been seen as opposites with the assumption that vulnerability requires protection and the strengthening of paternalistic power at the expense of collective resistance Focusing on political movements and cultural practices in different global locations including Turkey Palestine France and the former Yugoslavia the contributors to Vulnerability in Resistance articulate an understanding of the role of vulnerability in practices of resistance They consider how vulnerability is constructed invoked and mobilized within neoliberal discourse the politics of war resistance to authoritarian and securitarian power in LGBTQI struggles and in the resistance to occupation and colonial violence The essays offer a feminist account of political agency by exploring occupy movements and street politics informal groups at checkpoints and barricades practices of self defense hunger strikes transgressive enactments of solidarity and mourning infrastructural mobilizations and aesthetic and erotic interventions into public space that mobilize memory and expose forms of power Pointing to possible strategies for a feminist politics of transversal engagements and suggesting a politics of bodily resistance that does not disavow forms of vulnerability the contributors develop a new conception of embodiment and sociality within fields of contemporary power Contributors Meltem Ahiska Athena Athanasiou Sarah Bracke Judith Butler Elsa Dorlin Bak Ert r Zeynep Gambetti Rema Hammami Marianne Hirsch Elena Loizidou Leticia Sabsay Nkhet Sirman Elena Tzelepis

Urbanization with Chinese Characteristics: The Hukou System and Migration Kam Wing Chan, 2018-04-19 Many agree that rapid urbanization in China in the late 20th and early 21st centuries is a mega process significantly reshaping China and the global economy China s urbanization also carries a certain mystique which has long fascinated generations of scholars and journalists alike As it has turned out many of the asserted Chinese feats are mostly fancied claims or gross misinterpretations of statistics for example There does exist however an urbanization that displays rather uncommon Chinese characteristics that remain to inadequately understood Building on his three decades of careful research Professor Kam Wing Chan expertly dissects the complexity of China s hukou system migration urbanization and their interrelationships in this set of journal articles published in the last ten years These works range from seminal papers on Chinese urban definitions and statistics and broad perspective analysis of the hukou system of its first semi centennial to examinations of migration trends and geography and critical evaluations of China s 2014 urbanization blueprint and hukou reform plan This convenient assemblage contains many of Chan s recent important works Together they also form a relatively coherent set on this topic They are essential readings to anyone serious about gaining a true understanding of the prodigious urbanization in contemporary China Spatialonomy Vít Pászto, Carsten Jürgens, Polona Tominc, Jaroslav Burian, 2019-11-06 This open access book is based on Spatialonomy Spatial Exploration of Economic Data an interdisciplinary and international project in the frame of ERASMUS funded by the European Union The project aims to exchange interdisciplinary knowledge in the fields of economics and geomatics For the newly introduced courses interdisciplinary learning materials have been developed by a team of lecturers from four different universities in three countries In a first study block students were taught methods from the two main research fields Afterwards the knowledge gained had to be applied in a project For this international project teams were formed consisting of one student from each university participating in the project The achieved results were presented in a summer school a few months later At this event more methodological knowledge was imparted to prepare students for a final simulation game about spatial and economic decision making In a broader sense the chapters will present the methodological background of the project give case studies and show how visualisation and the simulation game works Handbook on the Geographies of Money and Finance Ron Martin, Jane Pollard, 2017-03-31 The aim of this timely work which appears in the wake of the worst global financial crisis since the late 1920s is to bring together high quality research based contributions from leading international scholars involved in constructing a geographical perspective on money Topics covered include the crisis the spatial circuits of finance regulation mainstream financial markets banking equity etc through to the various alternative and disruptive forms of money that have arisen in recent years It will be of interest to geographers political scientists sociologists economists planners and all those interested in how money shapes and reshapes socio economic space and conditions local and regional development

The Routledge Handbook of Second Home Tourism and Mobilities C. Michael Hall, Dieter Müller, 2018-04-17 Second homes have become an increasingly important component of both tourism and housing studies They can directly and indirectly contribute a significant number of domestic and international visitors to destinations and may be part of longer term retirement lifestyle and amenity migration that can have significant economic and social effects on communities and destination development This volume offers an overview of different disciplinary and methodological approaches to second homes while simultaneously providing a broad geographical reach Divided into four parts exploring governance development community and mobile second homes the book provides a contemporary account of the major issues in an area of growing international interest This timely handbook covers a wide range of dimensions from planning to the role of second homes in development and the management of their impact The international and cross disciplinary nature of the contributions will be of interest to numerous academic fields in the social sciences as well as urban and regional planners Globalization Development and Social Justice Ann El Khoury, 2015-03-27 Are there existing alternatives to corporate globalization What are the prospects for and commonalities between communities and movements such as Occupy the World Social Forum and alternative economies Globalization Development and Social Justice advances the proposition that another globalization is not only possible but already exists It demonstrates that there are multiple pathways towards development with social justice and argues that enabling propositional agency rather than oppositional agency such as resistance is a more effective alternative to neoliberal globalization El Khoury develops a theory of infraglobalization that emphasizes creative constitution not just contestation of global and local processes The book features case studies and examples of diverse economic practice and innovative emergent political forms from the Global South and North These case studies are located in the informal social economy and community development as well as everyday practices from prefigurative politics to community cooperatives and participatory planning This book makes an important contribution to debates about the prospects for and practices of a transformative grassroots globalization and to critical debates about globalization and development strategies It will be of interest to students and scholars of international relations globalization social movement studies political and economic geography sociology anthropology and development studies Second Rank Cities in Europe Roberto

Camagni,Roberta Capello,2017-10-02 Second rank cities are back on the academic scene capturing the interest of scholars with their unexpected recent performance with respect to first rank cities Looking at the data on average urban GDP growth in 139 European cities since 1996 the relatively strong position of large cities over 1 5 million inhabitants on national growth coincides with the periods of fastest expansion while at times of slowdown second rank cities prevail Especially in the recent period of economic downturn second rank cities have recorded annual GDP growth rates much less negative than those of capital cities and in some European countries like Austria and Germany all cities have outperformed their capitals In explaining this phenomenon linking urban dynamics to agglomeration theories seems the most interesting approach However merely to link agglomeration economies to urban size in order to interpret urban performance is neither convincing nor sufficient and it calls for additional investigation into how agglomeration economies work This volume claims that interpretation of the current dynamics in European urban systems especially in the western part of Europe would benefit from exploitation of the traditional concept of agglomeration economies However necessary for this purpose are more in depth considerations on the nature scope intensity and causes of agglomeration economies which do not relate their existence solely to urban size And this is where the main challenge for scholars lies in the interpretation of the missing link between agglomeration economies and urban dynamics This book was originally published as a special issue of European Planning Studies The Evolution of Economic Development in Africa Francis K. Mbroh,2021-07-11 Within the theoretical framework of the trade growth and structural transformation growth nexuses the book examines the evolution of African goods and service trade in terms of value and share of global commerce relative to other regions during the period 1948 2017 It also identifies and discusses discernible changes in the composition and structure of African exports and imports between 1995 and 2015 and their implications for economic development in Africa The study attributes Africa s laggard trade performance during the period primarily to sub optimal macroeconomic policies and lack of bold export development policies and initiatives among other factors It also offers an incisive discussion of several inhibitions to the structural transformation of African exports and imports including lack of finance globalization tariff and non tariff measures in global markets The discussion of the evolution of African trade during the period 1948 2017 based on statistics and publications of international organizations including the UNCTAD the World Bank and the African Development Bank among others is the first of its kind in terms of scope and depth of review of African trade The analyses of cross border trade during 1948 2017 and their implications for Africa s economic development prospects constitute a useful reference material for academics and students of African and development studies and African and international policymakers Handbook of

Megacities and Megacity-Regions Danielle Labbé, André Sorensen, 2020-09-25 Exploring the importance of megacities and megacity regions as one of the defining features of the 21st century this Handbook provides a clear and comprehensive overview of current thinking and debates from leading scholars in the field Highlighting major current challenges and dimensions of megaurbanization chapters form a thematic focus on governance planning history and environmental and social issues supported by case studies from every continent Re-thinking Mobility Poverty Tobias Kuttler, Massimo

Moraglio, 2020-12-17 This book seeks to better conceptualise and define mobility poverty addressing both its geographies and socio economic landscapes It moves beyond the analysis of transport poverty and innovatively explores mobility inequalities and social construction of mobility disadvantages The debate on mobility poverty is gaining momentum due to its role in triggering social exclusion and economic deprivation In this light this book examines the social construction of mobility poverty by delving into mobility patterns and needs as they are differently experienced by social groups in different geographical situations It considers factors such as the role of transport regimes and their social value when analysing the social construction of individual s mobility needs Furthermore the gaps between articulated and unarticulated needs are identified by observing actual travel patterns of individuals The book offers a comparison of the global phenomenon through fieldwork conducted in six different European countries Greece Portugal Italy Luxembourg Romania and Germany This book will be useful reading for planners sociologists geographers mobility transport researchers mobility advocates policy makers and transport practitioners The Open Access version of this book available at <https://doi.org/10.4324/9780367333317> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 license Deepening the EU-China Partnership Mario Telò, Ding

Chun, Zhang Xiaotong, 2017-11-14 The China EC EU relationship started in 1975 is a highly institutionalized multidimensional and complex but to some extent controversial international partnership It is also challenged within the current unstable world This book addresses the convergences and the differences ideational political institutional and interests related between China and the EU by a collective interaction between Chinese and European scholars Among other things the book assesses sectoral bilateral dialogue and focuses on the interplay between internal complexity and external policies discusses ideational divergences in international law and rule of law and in many relevant policy fields Furthermore it compares sustainable growth policies explores trade and investment controversies and negotiations human rights dialogue and addresses environment and climate change policies This text will be of key interest to EU studies and politics China studies and more broadly to area Asian studies and international relations global governance

Shifting Power in Asia-Pacific?
Enrico Fels, 2016-11-03 This book investigates whether a power shift has taken place in the Asia Pacific region since the end of the Cold War By systematically examining the development of power dynamics in Asia Pacific it challenges the notion that a wealthier and militarily more powerful China is automatically turning the regional tides in its favour With a special emphasis on Sino US competition the book explores the alleged linkage between the regional distribution of relevant material and immaterial capabilities national power and the much cited regional power shift The book presents a novel concept for measuring power in international relations by outlining a composite index on aggregated power CIAP that includes 55 variables for 44 regional countries and covers a period of twenty years Moreover it develops a middle power theory that outlines the significance of middle powers in times of major power shifts By addressing political military and economic cooperation via a structured focused comparison and by applying a comparative historical analysis the book analyses in depth the bilateral relations of six regional middle powers to Washington and Beijing
