Red, White, and Black Robert L. Woodson, Sr., 2021-05-11 In the rush to redefine the place of black Americans in contemporary society many radical activists and academics have mounted a campaign to destroy traditional American history and replace it with a politicized version that few would recognize According to the new radical orthodoxy the United States was founded as a racist nation and everything that has happened throughout our history must be viewed through the lens of the systemic oppression of black people Rejecting this false narrative a collection of the most prominent and respected black scholars and thinkers has come together to correct the record and tell the true story of black Americans in all its complexity diversity of experience and poignancy Collectively they paint a vivid picture of black people living the grand American experience however bumpy the road may be along the way But rather than a people apart blacks are woven into the united whole that makes this nation unique in history Featuring Essays by John Sibley Butler Jason D Hill Coleman Cruz Hughes John McWhorter Clarence Page Wilfred Reilly Shelby Steele Carol M Swain Dean Nelson Charles Love Rev Corey Brook Stephen L Harris Harold A Black Stephanie Deutsch Yaya J Fanusie Ian Rowe John Wood Jr Joshua Mitchell Robert Cherry Rev DeForest Black Soaries Jr

The Geography of Injustice Barak Kushner, 2024-03-15 In The Geography of Injustice Barak Kushner argues that the war crimes tribunals in East Asia formed and cemented national divides that persist into the present day In 1946 the Allies convened the Tokyo Trial to prosecute Japanese wartime atrocities and Japan's empire At its conclusion one of the judges voiced dissent claiming that the justice found at Tokyo was only the sham employment of a legal process for the satisfaction of a thirst for revenge War crimes tribunals Kushner shows allow for the history of the defeated to be heard In contemporary East Asia a fierce battle between memory and history has consolidated political camps across this debate The Tokyo Trial courtroom as well as the thousands of other war crimes tribunals opened in about fifty venues across Asia were legal stages where prosecution and defense curated facts and evidence to craft their story about World War Two These narratives and counter narratives form the basis of postwar memory concerning Japan's imperial aims across the region The archival record and the interpretation of court testimony together shape a competing set of histories for public consumption The Geography of Injustice offers compelling evidence that despite the passage of seven decades since the end of the war East Asia is more divided than united by history

White, 2016-03-31 Memorializing Pearl Harbor examines the challenge of representing history at the site of the attack that brought America into World War II Analyzing moments in which history is re presented in commemorative events documentary films museum design and educational programming Geoffrey M White shows that the memorial to the Pearl Harbor bombing is not a fixed or singular institution Rather it has become a site in which many histories are performed validated and challenged In addition to valorizing military service and sacrifice the memorial has become a place where Japanese veterans have come to seek recognition and reconciliation where Japanese Americans have sought to correct narratives of racial mistrust and where Native Hawaiians have challenged their ongoing erasure from their own land Drawing on extended ethnographic fieldwork White maps these struggles onto larger controversies about public history museum practices and national memory

China and Its Small Neighbors Sung Chull Kim, 2023-03-01 In China and Its Small Neighbors Sung Chull Kim examines the political implications of the economic asymmetry between China and its small neighbors part of wider changes in international relations brought about by the rise of China While being critical of the current trend that focuses on the China U S rivalry alone Kim argues that a microanalysis of China's advances toward its neighbors is a guide to understanding the trajectory of China's expanding influence and transitions in world politics more broadly Economic asymmetry as seen in trade concentration non transparency and reliance on bilateral aid has made China's small neighbors vulnerable on the political front thus generating potential threats to their sovereignty and independence Because China has the upper hand in the bilateral relationships these weak states practice dual core hedging as a strategy for survival They hedge on China for expected economic benefits and at the same time hedge against their powerful neighbor to mitigate the risks involved in that hedging on Each small state's mode of hedging depends on its degree of vulnerability and its availability of policy instruments such as multilateral institutions and bilateral partnerships with extra regional powers

Handbook on the Green New Deal Kyla Tienhaara, Joanna Robinson, 2022-08-26 In recent years the Green New Deal has moved from relative obscurity to front and centre of policy discussions and public debates about how to respond to the climate crisis It has been credited with radically changing the nature of the conversation on climate change and with reenergizing the environmental movement at a critical time All Green New Deal proposals share an emphasis on the need for governments rather than markets to lead the energy transition However they differ in other respects This Handbook analyses the fundamentals underlying all Green New Deals as well as exploring national and regional variations It is divided into three parts The first part examines the political economy of the Green New Deal focussing not just on how proposals will be costed but also on opportunities for a fundamental transformation of both national economies and the global economic system The second part explores issues of justice which are central to many Green New Deal proposals including Indigenous rights racial and gender equity and justice for the Global South In the third part authors detail case studies of Green New Deal proposals and plans at the local national and regional level This book will be an invaluable research and reference volume for students and scholars in economics politics sociology geography and environmental studies It should also be of interest to those actively involved in climate and environmental policymaking Conflict Resolution in De Facto States Sebastian Relitz, 2022-07-22

This book explores the challenges of conflict resolution in protracted conflicts and conceptualises and analyses the practice of engagement without recognition in de facto states Increasingly engagement without recognition is seen as a promising approach to conflict resolution in de facto states but little is known about its implementation and results This book addresses that lacuna and develops an analytical model to assess international engagement focusing on implementation on the ground This model enables a comprehensive analysis of international engagement's scope areas and methods Further the book also explores the context of engagement in de facto states which has a significant impact on its implementation and results In this way the book also advances our understanding of the opportunities obstacles and limitations of engagement without recognition The analysis is based on the current EU engagement in Abkhazia and draws from other cases in the Caucasus Eastern Europe and beyond and finds that international engagement with de facto states is more comprehensive and multifaceted than previously known However it also faces some distinct challenges and produces modest results Finally the book provides practical recommendations on how to better utilise the peacebuilding potential of engagement without recognition This book will be of much interest to students of conflict resolution statehood peace and conflict studies and international relations
