Annual Conference; Proceedings - University of East Africa. Social Science Council University of East Africa. Social Science Council,1968 Remembering Turkana Samuel F. Derbyshire,2020-07-30 This book explores aspects of the socio economic and political history of the Turkana of northern Kenya examining the making and remaking of the regional economy via the trajectories of socio material interaction that have structured key practices relationships and livelihoods over the past century Traversing Turkana s constituent livelihoods and examining the historical relationships between them in relation to shifting economic ecological and political factors the book asks what perspective emerges from an in depth understanding of the everyday things that have taken part in processes of substantial socio cultural transformation By setting out a series of new examples established through long term research in the region it offers a

characterisation of Turkana's iterative transformation as the articulation of a set of long term continuities Investigating quotidian personal and community histories it argues that Turkana's complex network of livelihood interactions has on the whole strengthened over time through its continual reformulation as identities livelihood practices and social institutions have been re imagined and reshaped with each new generation in order to reconstruct accumulated memory and knowledges Remembering Turkana provides a wide ranging socio historical overview of the Turkana region and people situating critical contemporary issues within diverse bodies of literature The characterisation of long term change and continuity as articulated and enacted via material culture production use and exchange that it offers will be of significance to a broad array of scholarly disciplines including archaeology history anthropology and political science The Changing Face of Land and Conservation in Post-colonial Africa George Barrett, Shirley Brooks, Jenny Josefsson, Nqobile Zulu, 2016-03-22 The year 2013 marked the 100th anniversary of the 1913 Land Act in South Africa which legalised the violent dispossession and alienation of the African majority from the land It is common cause that the alienation of land for conservation purposes introduced to Africa under colonial rule has continued more or less uninterrupted until today However while nature conservation practices inevitably raise challenging questions relating to land and land use there has thus far been little concentrated effort to bring together scholars working on the land question particularly around issues of land tenure with those whose work focuses on questions of nature construction and the social impacts of conservation in an African context Compiled from research presented at a ground breaking interdisciplinary conference held at Rhodes University in Grahamstown South Africa in 2012 the chapters in this book made their first appearance in a special issue of the Journal of Contemporary African Studies JCAS in July 2013 The book brings critical interdisciplinary analyses of the complex interrelations between contemporary neoliberal conservation practices in post colonial Africa into conversation with the well trodden territory of land use and contested land issues on the continent Anchored by an intellectual curiosity about the extent to which past practices continue into the present and with what consequences the book provides fresh insights into the complex relationship between land and conservation in contemporary Africa Land & Water ,1915 Land and Water ,1915
