Goals And Objectives Examples For Anxiety:

On the Self-Regulation of Behavior Charles S. Carver, Michael F. Scheier, 2001-05-07 This book presents a thorough overview of a model of human functioning based on the idea that behavior is goal directed and regulated by feedback control processes It describes feedback processes and their application to behavior considers goals and the idea that goals are organized hierarchically examines affect as deriving from a different kind of feedback process and analyzes how success expectancies influence whether people keep trying to attain goals or disengage Later sections consider a series of emerging themes including dynamic systems as a model for shifting among goals catastrophe theory as a model for persistence and the question of whether behavior is controlled or instead emerges Three chapters consider the implications of these various ideas for understanding maladaptive behavior and the closing chapter asks whether goals are a necessity of life Throughout theory is presented in the context of diverse issues that link the theory to other literatures

Working with Goals in Psychotherapy and Counselling Mick Cooper, Duncan Law, 2018-01-19 Recent evidence has shown that the successful setting of goals brings about positive outcomes in psychological therapy Goals help to focus and direct clients and therapists attention in therapeutic work They also engender hope and help energise clients No longer are clients victims of their circumstances but through goal setting they become people who have the potential to act towards and achieve their desired futures Through the discussing and setting of goals clients develop a deeper insight into what it is that they really want in life a crucial first step towards being able to get there Recent policies in both child and adult mental health services have supported the use of goals in therapy However the differing cultures histories psychologies and philosophical assumptions of each form of therapy has brought about varying attitudes and approaches to goal setting Working with Goals in Counselling and Psychotherapy brings the attitudes of all the major therapeutic orientations together in one volume With examples from cognitive behaviour therapy psychodynamic therapy humanistic therapy interpersonal therapy and systemic therapy Working with Goals in Counselling and Psychotherapy truly is the definitive guide for therapists seeking to work with goals in any of the psychological therapies

Student and Teacher Writing Motivational Beliefs Steve Graham, Gary A. Troia, Gustaf Bernhard Uno Skar, 2024-06-21 The study of students motivational beliefs about writing and how such beliefs influence writing has increased since the publication of John Hays 1996 model of writing This model emphasized that writers motivational beliefs influence how and what they write Likewise increased attention has been devoted in recent years to how teachers motivational beliefs about writing especially their efficacy to teach writing impact how writing is taught and how students progress as writers As a result there is a need to bring together in a Research Topic studies that examine the role and influence of writing beliefs Historically the psychological study of writing has focused on what students write or the processes they apply when writing Equally important but investigated less often are studies examining how writing is taught and how teachers efforts contribute to students writing What has been less prominent in the psychological study of writing are the underlying motivational beliefs that drive or inhibit students writing or serve as catalysts for teachers actions in the classroom when teaching writing This Research Topic will bring together studies that examine both students and teachers motivational beliefs about teaching writing This will include studies examining the operation of such beliefs how they develop cognitive and affective correlates how writing motivational beliefs can be fostered and how they are related to students writing achievement By focusing on both students and teachers beliefs the Research Topic will provide a more nuanced and broader picture of the role of motivation beliefs in writing and writing instruction This Research Topic includes papers that address students motivational beliefs about writing teachers motivational beliefs about writing or teaching writing Students motivational beliefs about writing include beliefs about the value and utility of writing writing competence attitudes toward writing goal orientation motives for writing identity epistemological underpinnings writing and attributions for success failure as examples Teacher motivational include these same judgements as well as beliefs about their preparation and their students competence and progress as writers to provide additional examples This Research Topic is interested in papers that examine how such beliefs operate develop are related to other cognitive and affective variables how they are impacted by instruction and how they are related to students writing performance Submitted studies can include original research both quantitative qualitative or mixed methods meta analysis and reviews of the literature
