Gordon McConville, 2016-08-16 A Biblical Perspective on What It Means to Be Human This major work by a widely respected Old Testament scholar and theologian unpacks a biblical perspective on fundamental questions of what it means to be human J Gordon McConville explores how a biblical view of humanity provides a foundation for Christian reflection on ethics economics politics and church life and practice The book shows that the Old Testament's view of humanity as earthed and embodied plays an essential part in a well rounded Christian theology and spirituality and applies the theological concept of the image of God to all areas of human existence A Victorian Curate David Yeandle, 2021-05-03 Greatly to be welcomed This meticulously researched and richly documented account provides fresh insights into theological controversy and social prejudice and should be read by all serious students of the Victorian Church Greatly to be welcomed Richard Sharp The Rev Dr John Hunt 1827 1907 was not a typical clergyman in the Victorian Church of England He was Scottish of lowly birth and lacking both social connections and private means He was also a witty and fluent intellectual whose publications stood alongside the most eminent of his peers during a period when theology was being redefined in the light of Darwin's Origin of Species and other radical scientific advances Hunt attracted notoriety and conflict as well as admiration and respect he was the subject of articles in Punch and in the wider press concerning his clandestine dissection of a foetus in the crypt of a City church while his Essay on Pantheism was proscribed by the Roman Catholic Church He had many skirmishes with incumbents both evangelical and catholic and was dismissed from several of his curacies This book analyses his career in London and St Ives Cambs through the lens of his autobiographical narrative Clergymen Made Scarce 1867 David Yeandle has examined a little known copy of the text that includes manuscript annotations by Eliza Hunt the wife of the author which offer unique insight into the many anonymous and pseudonymous references in the text A Victorian Curate A Study of the Life and Career of the Rev Dr John Hunt is an absorbing personal account of the corruption and turmoil in the Church of England at this time It will appeal to anyone interested in this history the relationship between science and religion in the nineteenth century or the role of the curate in Victorian England A Pastoral Theology of Childlessness Emma Nash, 2021-05-31 The experiences of infertility and childlessness while not worse than other griefs and disappointments people experience are nevertheless distinctive in a number of important respects Unlike other griefs they often take place in private with no body no funeral and no public acknowledgement of the loss In her profound and wise theology of childlessness Emma Nash takes her own story as a starting point examining several distinctive features of this painful human experience She asks what biblical and theological resources offer consolation and what liberative action individuals and churches might take to make an appropriate response Weaving trauma theology together with personal experience Nash offers a profound and heartfelt theological reflection which breaks the barriers between pastoral resource and carefully constructed theology Annunciations: Sacred Music for the Twenty-First Century George Corbett, 2019-05-01 Our contemporary culture is communicating ever increasingly through the visual through film and through music This makes it ever more urgent for theologians to explore the resources of art for enriching our understanding and experience of the Judeo Christian tradition Annunciations Sacred Music for the twenty First Century edited by George Corbett answers this need evaluating the relationship between the sacred and the composition performance and appreciation of music Through the theme of annunciations this volume interrogates how when why through and to whom God communicates in the Old and New Testaments In doing so it tackles the intimate relationship between Scriptural reflection and musical practice in the past its present condition and what the future might hold Annunciations comprises three parts Part I sets out flexible theological and compositional frameworks for a constructive relationship between the sacred and music Part II presents the reflections of theologians and composers involved in collaborating on new pieces of sacred choral music alongside the six new scores and links to the recordings Part III considers the reality of programming and performing sacred works today This volume provides an indispensable resource for scholars and artists working at the interface between theology and the arts and for those involved in sacred music However it will also be of interest to anyone concerned with the ways in which the Divine communicates through word and artistry to humanity

Exploring Catholic Faith in Shakespearean Drama David Torevell, Brandon Schneeberger, Luke Taylor, 2025-03-31 This pioneering study investigates the connection between Shakespeare and Catholic education Its authors contend that Shakespeare s plays explore Catholic understandings of human life in ways that remain relevant for Catholic educational institutions today Through chapters focusing on ethical and existential themes love desire the body marriage virginity evil finitude jealousy and lies the authors demonstrate Shakespeare s wide ranging engagement with early modern Catholic belief and practice At the same time they argue that Shakespeare s treatment of Catholic faith through imaginative literature rather than magisterial discourse and dramatically rather than didactically provides a pedagogical model for contemporary teachers The first volume to trace the relationship between a philosophy of Catholic education and Shakespearean drama it will appeal strongly to all those working in Catholic educational settings particularly those tasked with strengthening the mission of their institution as well as to scholars and researchers of literacy education religious education and to those interested in the dynamic between education and drama Creation Care and the Gospel LAUSANNE

Mokokoma Mokhonoana,2017-07-28 Using his wit his rare ability to see through the lies that we sane human beings tell each other in order to hide our selfishness and his courage to call a spade a spade which is without a doubt rarely found in someone who makes a living from speaking or writing Mokokoma Mokhonoana author of Divided Conquered and writer of not a few worldview altering aphorisms lucidly explores the use and misuse of children by human beings and things such as Mother Nature religions and churches countries and companies Among other things Mokokoma using brief and potent sentences touches on the real reason or reasons why you were intentionally brought into this troubled world Or why your mother if you were conceived unintentionally did not order ask or beg someone to end your life way before you had to be pushed or pulled out of her womb Societal Stress and Law Larry D. Barnett,2023-06-14 Societal Stress and Law draws attention to the social side effects of law by developing the sociological concept of society level stress a corollary of the concept of individual level stress in the biological sciences To encourage interest in societal stress the book looks at 1 instances of law adopted by American states that the U S Supreme Court held unconstitutional and 2 actions by American states with regard to a proposal to amend the federal Constitution The Court rulings and the proposed constitutional amendment were capable of producing societal stress because they were seen by a sizeable segment of the U S public as being incompatible with significant American traditions In original studies that apply logistic regression to state level statistical data the book identifies sociological variables that predict state differences in the adoption of this law and state differences in actions on the proposed constitutional amendment Because these variables represent societal agents that affected whether a state experienced social stress from the rulings and proposal the book blends theory with empirical research and illustrates how each can support the other in law focused scholarship On Animals David L. Clough,2018-12-27 This book presents an authoritative and comprehensive survey of human practice in relation to other animals together with a Christian ethical analysis building on the theological account of animals which David Clough developed in On Animals Volume I Systematic Theology 2012 It argues that a Christian understanding of other animals has radical implications for their treatment by humans with the human use and abuse of non human animals for food the most urgent immediate priority Following an introduction examining the task of theological ethics in relation to non human animals and the way it relates to other accounts of animal ethics this book surveys and assess the use humans make of other animals for food for clothing for labour as research subjects for sport and entertainment as pets or companions and human impacts on wild animals The result is both a state of the art account of what humans are doing to other animals and a persuasive argument that Christians in particular have strong faith based reasons to acknowledge the significance of the issues raised and change their practice in response Zombies in Western Culture John Vervaeke,Christopher Mastropietro,Filip Miscevic,2017-06-15 Why has the zombie become such a pervasive figure in twenty first century popular culture John Vervaeke Christopher Mastropietro and Filip Miscevic seek to answer this question by arguing that particular aspects of the zombie common to a variety of media forms reflect a crisis in modern Western culture The authors examine the essential features of the zombie including mindlessness ugliness and homelessness and argue that these reflect the outlook of the contemporary West and its attendant zeitgeists of anxiety alienation disconnection and disenfranchisement They trace the relationship between zombies and the theme of secular apocalypse demonstrating that the zombie draws its power from being a perversion of the Christian mythos of death and resurrection Symbolic of a lost Christian worldview the zombie represents a world that can no longer explain itself nor provide us with instructions for how to live within it The concept of domicide or the destruction of home is developed to describe the modern crisis of meaning that the zombie both represents and reflects This is illustrated using case studies including the relocation of the Anishinaabe of the Grassy Narrows First Nation and the upheaval of population displacement in the Hellenistic period Finally the authors invoke and reformulate symbols of the four horsemen of the apocalypse as rhetorical analogues to frame those aspects of contemporary collapse that elucidate the horror of the zombie Zombies in Western Culture A Twenty First Century Crisis is required reading for anyone interested in the phenomenon of zombies in contemporary culture It will also be of interest to an interdisciplinary audience including students and scholars of culture studies semiotics philosophy religious studies eschatology anthropology Jungian studies and sociology

Un/familiar Theology Susannah Cornwall, 2017-06-15 Through engagement with theologies of adoption pro natalism marriage and queer theology Susannah Cornwall figures developments in models of marriage and family not as distortions of or divergences from the divinely ordained blueprint but as developments already of a piece with these institutions being Much Christian theological discussion of family sex and marriage seems to claim that they are or should be unchanging and immaculate that to celebrate their shifting and developing natures is to reject them as good gifts of God However models of marriage family parenting and reproduction have changed and are still in some cases radically changing These changes are not all a raging tide to be turned back but in continuity with goods deeply embedded in the tradition Alternative forms of marriage and family stand as signs of the hope of the possibility of change Changed institutions such as same sex marriage are new beginnings with the potential to be fruitful and generative in their own right In them humans create new imaginaries which more fully acknowledge the interactive nature of our relationships with the world and the divine
