Culture Wars Christopher Clark, Wolfram Kaiser, 2003-08-14 Across nineteenth century Europe the emergence of constitutional and democratic nation states was accompanied by intense conflict between Catholics and anticlerical forces At its peak this conflict touched virtually every sphere of social life schools universities the press marriage and gender relations burial rites associational culture the control of public space folk memory and the symbols of nationhood In short these conflicts were culture wars in which the values and collective practices of modern life were at stake These culture wars have generally been seen as a chapter in the history of specific nation states Yet it has recently become increasingly clear that the Europe of the mid and later nineteenth century should also be seen as a common politico cultural space This book breaks with the conventional approach by setting developments in specific states within an all European and comparative context offering a fresh and revealing perspective on one of modernity's formative conflicts

The Dog and his Philosopher

Martin Balluch, 2017-10-16 The dog Kuksi lives together with his human friend Martin Balluch on an equal footing Especially on their long excursions into the wild they can only survive if they communicate cooperate and help each other Indeed Kuksi turns out to be someone not something who is acting responsibly and with reason These experiences recounted at the beginning of the book are supported by findings in behavioural science and ethology detailed in the following chapters It leads the author a learnt philosopher to conclude that his dog friend must be considered as a person with free will over and above any genetic drive and operant conditioning Usually the ethics of animal welfare and even animal rights are supported by arguments based on the capacity to suffer In his book The Dog and His Philosopher the author Martin Balluch uses a different approach He observes that even if animals are considered capable of suffering as in animal welfare laws they are not considered as self aware beings with their own view of the world wanting to run their lives in their own way In other words beings with their own will to autonomy Using his experiences with his dog friend Kuksi he claims that dogs and hence other sufficiently similar animals must be seen as beings with reason in the sense of Immanuel Kant a central philosopher of the enlightenment on whose work the idea of fundamental human rights as a means to protecting human freedom is based Reformulating Kant with an evolutionary understanding of reason the author concludes that nonhuman animals are also capable of what Kant considers freedom and autonomy and hence must be protected by rights too
