India's Maritime Strategy Shishir Upadhyaya, 2019-09-05 The first book by a former Indian naval intelligence officer on Sino India relations. India's Maritime Strategy provides a unique insight into the Indian Navy tracing its post independence growth and discussing its transformation and future in the 21st century. In the context of the rise of China's maritime power in the Indian Ocean, this book provides a nuanced view of the extent and scope of India's maritime reach and the effect of this on Sino Indian competition. Challenging the view that by developing a favourable environment alone India could seek to maintain its balance of power with China, it is argued that despite durable bilateral security ties with most regional states, India's maritime aspirations to be the primary net security provider for the region are unsustainable in the long term. This book presents a comprehensive coverage of India's bilateral maritime security engagements with all the Indian Ocean regional states as well as the US, France, UK and Russia. As such, it will be useful to students and scholars of Indian and South Asian politics, international relations and maritime security. The Power of Geographical Thinking Clare Brooks, Graham Butt, Mary Fargher, 2017-03-02 In this book, geography educators from around the globe discuss their research into the power of geographical thinking and consider successful strategies to implement, improve and advance geography education in research and practice. The Great Music City Andrea Baker,2019-03-01 In the 1960s as gentrification took hold of New York City Jane Jacobs predicted that the city would become the true player in the global system Indeed in the 21st century more meaningful comparisons can be made between cities than between nations and states Based on case studies of Melbourne Austin and Berlin this book is the first in depth study to combine academic and industry analysis of the music cities phenomenon Using four distinctly defined algorithms as benchmarks it interrogates Richard Florida s creative cities thesis and applies a much needed synergy of urban sociology and musicology to the concept mediated by a journalism lens Building on seminal work by Robert Park Lewis Mumford and Jane Jacobs it argues that journalists are the cultural branders and street theorists whose ethnographic approach offers critical insights into the urban sociability of music activity

Anti-Corruption and its Discontents Grant W. Walton,2017-08-03 The fight against corruption is now a core part of development policy and practice Some call these efforts a war on corruption What does this so called war mean for developing countries And how do international perspectives on corruption relate to local and national concerns This book examines the relevance of anti corruption discourse in Papua New Guinea PNG one of the most culturally rich and corrupt countries on earth Despite increased international national and local efforts to address corruption over the past two decades many fear that levels of corruption continue to rise largely unabated Some believe that the mismatch between international national and local assumptions regarding the nature of corruption and how it should be addressed is at the heart of the issue International anti corruption initiatives stress zero tolerance and try to strengthen formal state based institutions However many people in PNG are more concerned about maintaining social relationships than following state laws and rules This book critically examines the implications of the anti corruption agenda and the collision of international national and local perspectives In doing so it provides a diagnostic on international assumptions about corruption and how it should be fought in developing countries offering surprising and important lessons This book is essential reading for scholars and students of Development Studies Geography Political Studies and Economics as well as practitioners and policy makers working in development
