Geography

Geomorphology – geographical skills and techniques

This support pack for Our Communities provides a range of resources to assist with the preparation for the required practical work in Our Communities for the senior CAPS subject content. Geomorphological investigations conducted in the field will be followed by using the data to create a geomorphological cross-section and profile. Through these investigations and the use of the Senior Practical Factors their data will be used to explain changes in a chosen landscape. These have been prepared as a guide for geographers. This document is intended for use by Grade 11 students as a resource to assist with their fieldwork.

For further advice teachers are encouraged to visit the CAPS support pack for Our Communities at www.education.gov.za.
