records and organizes all surviving documentary evidence pertinent to each evening's entertainments derived from all known sources but especially from playbills and newspaper advertisements. Each theatre's daily entry includes all preludes, mainpieces, interludes, and afterpieces with casts and assigned roles followed by singing and singers, dancing and dancers, and specialty entertainments. Financial data, program changes, rehearsal notices, authorship, and premiere information are included in each component's entry as is the text of contemporary correspondence and editorial contextualization and commentary followed by other additional commentary such as the many hundreds of printed puffs, notices, and performance reviews. In the cases of the programs of music halls, pleasure gardens, and circuses, the playbills have generally been transcribed verbatim. The calendar for each season is preceded by an analytical headnote that presents several categories of information including, among other things, an alphabetical listing of all members of each company, whether actors, musicians, specialty artists, or house servants, who are known to have been employed at each venue. Limited biographical commentary is included, particularly about performers of Irish origin who had significant stage careers but who did not perform in London. Each headnote presents the season's offerings of entertainments of each theatrical type: prelude, mainpiece, interlude, afterpiece, analyzed according to genre, including a list of the number of plays in each genre and according to period in which they were first performed. The headnote also notes the number of different plays by Shakespeare staged during each season and gives particular attention to entertainments of special Irish interest. The various kinds of benefit performance and command performances are also noted. Finally, this Calendar of Performances contains an appendix that furnishes a season-by-season listing of the plays that were new to the London patent theatres and later of the important minors. This information is provided in order for us to understand the interrelatedness of the London and Dublin repertories.
