Maths Paper 1 7th November 2014:

The Game Believes in You Greg Toppo, 2025-06-25 What if schools from the wealthiest suburban nursery school to the grittiest urban high school thrummed with the sounds of deep immersion More and more people believe that can happen with the aid of video games Greg Toppo's The Game Believes in You presents the story of a small group of visionaries who for the past 40 years have been pushing to get game controllers into the hands of learners Among the game revolutionaries you'll meet in this book A game designer at the University of Southern California leading a team to design a video game version of Thoreau's Walden Pond A young neuroscientist and game designer whose research on Math Without Words is revolutionizing how the subject is taught especially to students with limited English abilities A Virginia Tech music instructor who is leading a group of high school aged boys through the creation of an original opera staged totally in the online game Minecraft Experts argue that games do truly believe in you They focus inspire and reassure people in ways that many teachers can't Games give people a chance to learn at their own pace take risks cultivate deeper understanding fail and want to try again right away and ultimately succeed in ways that too often elude them in school This book is sure to excite and inspire educators and parents as well as provoke some passionate debate

Integration as Solution for Advanced Smart Urban Transport Systems Grzegorz Sierpiński, 2018-08-25 Methods of advanced data collecting and their analysis models which help with decision problems as well as technical solutions which improve the integrity of contemporary transport systems at urban area are only some of many problems connected with integration in passenger and freight transport which have been discussed in this book The book expresses case study based scientific and practical approach to the problems of contemporary transport systems The proposed methods and models enable a system approach to assess current solutions In turn implementation proposals may support the improvement of the integrity of individual elements of transport systems and thus increase its effectiveness on the global scale With regard to the research results discussed and the selected solutions applied the book primarily addresses the needs of three target groups Scientists and researchers ITS field Local authorities responsible for the transport systems at the urban and regional level Representatives of business traffic strategy management and industry manufacturers of ITS components This book gathers selected papers presented at the 15th Scientific and Technical Conference Transport Systems Theory and Practice organised by the Department of Transport Systems and Traffic Engineering at the Faculty of Transport of the Silesian University of Technology The conference was held in Katowice Poland on September 17-19 2018

Rebirth Jennifer Whitmer Taylor, 2025-04-10 Reimagining both the House Museum and Reconstruction memory for the twenty first century In Rebirth public historian Jennifer Whitmer Taylor provides a compelling account of how to reenvision the historic house museum Using the Museum of the Reconstruction Era known as the Woodrow Wilson Family Home for most of its many years as a house museum as a case study Taylor explores the challenges and possibilities that face public history practitioners and museum professionals who provide complex interpretations of contested public memory Anchored by oral history interviews with docents who interact directly with the visiting public Rebirth considers how a dated and seemingly outmoded venue for interpretation the historic house museum can be reimagined for twenty first century audiences Taylor offers best practices for interpreting issues such as white supremacy and domestic political terrorism for public audiences and she challenges readers to contemplate how historic sites interact with and contribute to vital contemporary political conversations Rebirth is a necessary book for public history practitioners students of museum studies and historic site interpretation and those interested in the history and memory of the Reconstruction era

Numerical and Evolutionary Optimization 2018 Adriana Lara, Marcela Quiroz, Efrén Mezura-Montes, Oliver Schütze, 2019-11-19 This book was established after the 6th International Workshop on Numerical and Evolutionary Optimization NEO representing a collection of papers on the intersection of the two research areas covered at this workshop numerical optimization and evolutionary search techniques While focusing on the design of fast and reliable methods lying across these two paradigms the resulting techniques are strongly applicable to a broad class of real world problems such as pattern recognition routing energy lines of production prediction and modeling among others This volume is intended to serve as a useful reference for mathematicians engineers and computer scientists to explore current issues and solutions emerging from these mathematical and computational methods and their applications

Intelligent Systems for Crisis Management Orhan Altan, Madhu Chandra, Filiz Sunar, Tullio Joseph Tanzi, 2019-02-06 In the past several years there have been significant technological advances in the field of crisis response However many aspects concerning the efficient collection and integration of geo information applied semantics and situation awareness for disaster management remain open Improving crisis response systems and making them intelligent requires extensive collaboration between emergency responders disaster managers system designers and researchers alike To facilitate this process the Gi4DM GeoInformation for Disaster Management conferences have been held regularly since 2005 The events are coordinated by the Joint Board of Geospatial Information Societies JB GIS and ICSU GeoUnions This book presents the outcomes of the Gi4DM 2018 conference which was organised by the ISPRS URSI Joint Working Group ICWG III IVa Disaster Assessment Monitoring and Management and held in Istanbul Turkey on 18-21 March 2018 It includes 12 scientific papers focusing on the intelligent use of geo information semantics and situation awareness

The Psychology of Magic and the Magic of Psychology Amir Raz, Jay A. Olson, Gustav Kuhn, 2016-11-18 Magicians have dazzled audiences for many centuries however few researchers have studied how let alone why most tricks work The psychology of magic is a nascent field of research that examines the underlying mechanisms that conjurers use to achieve enchanting phenomena including sensory illusions misdirection of attention and the appearance of mind control and nuanced persuasion Most studies to date have focused on either the psychological principles involved in watching and performing magic or neuromagic the neural correlates of such phenomena Whereas performers sometimes question the contributions that modern science may offer to the advancement of the magical arts the history of magic reveals that scientific discovery often charts new territories for magicians In this research topic we sketch out the symbiotic relationship between psychological science and the art of magic On the one hand magic can inform psychology with particular benefits for the cognitive social developmental and transcultural components of behavioural science Magicians have a large and robust set of effects that most researchers rarely exploit Incorporating these effects into existing experimental even clinical paradigms paves the road to innovative trajectories in the study of human behaviour For example magic provides an elegant way to study the behaviour of participants who may believe they had made choices that they actually did not make Moreover magic fosters a more ecological approach to experimentation whereby scientists can probe participants in more natural environments compared to the traditional lab based settings Examining how magicians consistently influence spectators for example can elucidate important aspects in the study of persuasion trust decision making and even processes spanning authorship and agency Magic thus offers a largely underused armamentarium for the behavioural scientist and clinician On the other hand psychological science can advance the art of magic The psychology of deception a relatively understudied field explores the intentional creation of false beliefs and how people often go wrong Understanding how to methodically exploit the tenuous twilight zone of human vulnerabilities perceptual logical emotional and temporal becomes all the more revealing when top down influences including expectation symbolic thinking and framing join the fray Over the years science has permitted magicians to concoct increasingly effective routines and to elicit heightened feelings of wonder from audiences Furthermore on occasion science leads to the creation of novel effects or the refinement of existing ones based on systematic methods For example by simulating a specific card routine using a series of computer stimuli researchers have decomposed the effect and reconstructed it into a more effective routine Other magic effects depend on meaningful psychological knowledge such as which type of information is difficult to retain or what changes capture attention Behavioural scientists measure and study these factors By combining analytical findings with performer intuitions psychological science begets effective magic Whereas science strives on parsimony and independent replication of results magic thrives on reproducing the same effect with multiple methods to obscure parsimony and minimise detection This Research Topic explores the seemingly orthogonal approaches of scientists and magicians by highlighting the crosstalk as well as rapprochement between psychological science and the art of deception
