Jonathan Lethem James Peacock, 2013-07-19 Jonathan Lethem is the first full length study dedicated to the work of an exciting genre busting contemporary writer with an increasingly high profile in American literature Examining all of Lethem's novels as well as a number of his short fictions essays and critical works this study shows how the author's prolific output his restlessness and his desire always to be subverting literary forms and genres are consistent with his interest in subcultural identities The human need to break off into small groupings subcultures or miniature utopias is mirrored in the critical tendency to enforce generic boundaries To break down the boundaries between genres then is partly to make a nonsense of critical distinctions between high and low literature and partly to reflect the wider need to recognise difference to appreciate that other people no matter how outlandish and alien they may appear share similar desires experiences and problems With this in mind James Peacock argues that Lethem's experiments with genre are not merely games or elaborate literary jokes but ethical necessities particularly when viewed in the light of the losses and traumas that shadow all of his writing Jonathan Lethem therefore makes an important contribution not just to Lethem studies but also to debates about genre and its position in postmodern or post postmodern literature It will be of interest to all scholars and students of contemporary American writing as well as those interested in genre fiction and literature's relationship with subcultures

Postmodernism in Pieces Matthew Mullins, 2016 Postmodernism in Pieces performs a postmortem on what is perhaps the most contested paradigm in literary studies breaking postmodernism down into its most fundamental orthodoxies and reassembles it piece by piece in light of recent theoretical developments in Actor Network Theory object oriented philosophy new materialism and posthumanism

Bizarro Worlds Stacie Williams, 2018 As a black woman and a comics geek Stacie Williams identified strongly with one aspect of The Fortress of Solitude its portrayal of gentrification For Jonathan Lethem's characters and for Williams in her own life gentrification is a stand in for racism the Big Bad that affects education policing and housing policy Tracing her experience of living in Chicago Boston Milwaukee Cleveland and Lexington Kentucky Williams tests the limits of how far Lethem's superhero narrative frames the most American of experiences Back cover

Write in Tune: Contemporary Music in Fiction Erich Hertz, Jeffrey Roessner, 2014-05-22 Contemporary popular music

provides the soundtrack for a host of recent novels but little critical attention has been paid to the intersection of these important art forms Write in Tune addresses this gap by offering the first full length study of the relationship between recent music and fiction With essays from an array of international scholars the collection focuses on how writers weave rock punk and jazz into their narratives both to develop characters and themes and to investigate various fan and celebrity cultures surrounding contemporary music Write in Tune covers major writers from America and England including Don DeLillo Jonathan Franzen Zadie Smith and Jim Crace But it also explores how popular music culture is reflected in postcolonial Latino and Australian fiction Ultimately the book brings critical awareness to the power of music in shaping contemporary culture and offers new perspectives on central issues of gender race and national identity Best of Times, Worst of Times Wendy Martin,Cecelia Tichi,2011-04-04 A collection of short stories depicting and analyzing key issues in America s New Gilded Age a phrase that embodies the glitz and glamour of one of the wealthiest countries in the world but also suggests the greed corruption and inequalities teeming just below the surface
