What Every 4th Grade Teacher Needs to Know Mike Anderson, 2010 You're teaching fourth grade this year. What do you need to know? Mike Anderson gives you practical information about daily routines, furniture, and much more. After a concise review of fourth graders' common developmental characteristics, Mike explains how to adjust your classroom and your teaching to fit these common characteristics. The result: students can learn and you can teach with minimum frustration and maximum ease and joy. In clear, plain writing peppered with classroom stories and examples, Mike shares practical know-how on topics like these: Arranging a circle of desks and tables; Choosing and storing supplies; Scheduling a child-centered day and teaching daily routines; Planning special projects and field trips that maximize learning and build community; Understanding the special concerns of fourth graders' parents and finding the best ways to communicate with them. Kids Learn!

Getting Ready for 4th Grade Wendy Conklin, 2022-04-01 4th Grade at Home The Princeton Review, 2020-11 From the education experts at The Princeton Review Cover Effective Early Childhood Education Lotty Eldering, Paul P.M. Leseman, 2002-12-24 In examining child development and early educational intervention strategies from cross-cultural perspectives, this work brings together several recent theoretical insights, the results of empirical research, and experiences with well-evaluated early educational intervention programs. Its purpose is to constructively examine current international strategies of early education and literacy for disadvantaged children. Creating Curriculum in Early Childhood Julie Bullard, 2019-11-25 Creating Curriculum in Early Childhood explores the backward design model of curriculum development, equipping readers with the tools and methods they need to effectively apply backward design in the early childhood classroom. Clear yet comprehensive chapters walk new and veteran educators through an effective method for curriculum design that promotes meeting standards through intentional teaching while engaging children in developmentally appropriate, interest-based education focused on big ideas and conceptual understanding. Featuring desired results, assessment methods, and teaching techniques specific to birth to age eight, this critical guide also includes practical tips for educators new to the method. Designed to help students and practitioners alike, this powerful textbook combines early childhood philosophy and developmental research with highly practical descriptions, rationales, and examples for developing curricular units using backward design. Classroom Assessment Steven R. Banks, 2012-04-13 Building on the success of the popular first edition, the author tackles the latest issues and practices in the field of classroom assessment. The No Child Left Behind Act has transformed the role of educational assessment, requiring annual assessments as part of a federal system of educational accountability. National accreditation organizations such as NCATE have mandated standards-based performance and emphasized specific assessment benchmarks in meeting these standards. The inclusion movement to accommodate special needs students in the regular education classroom also has impacted classroom assessment practices. Teacher assessment, classroom environment, test anxiety, the Race to the Top grants, and many more timely topics receive comprehensive yet accessible treatment Banks provides thorough and well documented discussions of performance assessment essay and multiple choice assessments formative assessment and reliability validity issues as well as invaluable classroom assessment tools that include portfolios rubrics journals and models such as Anderson and Krathwohls revision of Blooms Taxonomy Gender and diversity issues including learning differences and socioeconomic influences on student achievement are given in depth coverage Outstanding features include case studies point counterpoint debates on controversial assessment topics and practices teacher application exercises thought provoking self assessment exercises and end of chapter activities that include review questions and opportunities for directed learning
