Cultural Diplomacy: Beyond the National Interest? Ien Ang, Yudhishtir Isar, Phillip Mar, 2018-02-02 Cultural Diplomacy Beyond the National Interest is the first book bringing together from the perspective of the cultural disciplines scholarship that locates contemporary cultural diplomacy practices within their social political and ideological contexts while examining the different forces that drive them The contributions to this book have two methodologies the first to deconstruct and demystify cultural diplomacy notably the hype that accompanies it especially when it is yoked to the notion of soft power the second to better understand how contemporary cultural diplomacy actually operates In applying a cultural lens to the question this book probes whether there can be such a thing as a cultural diplomacy beyond the national interest This book was originally published as a special issue of the International Journal of Cultural Policy Islamic State Michael Griffin, 2015-10-20 This book takes the long view by analysing Islamic State's beginnings in Iraq to their involvement in the Arab Spring and through to the present day The world is watching IS's advance through the Middle East The US risks being drawn into another war in the region despite its experiences in Afghanistan and Iraq IS are creating catastrophic waves across the region but it is still unclear what lies behind its success Michael Griffin uncovers the nature of IS through investigating the myriad of regional players engaged in a seemingly endless power game Saudi Arabia Qatar Turkey and Iraq which have all contributed to the success of IS by supplying arms and funds He foregrounds the story of the uprising against President Assad of Syria the role played by the Free Syrian Army Islamist groups Iran Hezbollah and Russia the chemical weapons attacks in 2013 and the House of Commons vote not to impose a no fly zone over the country Dynamics of Transformation, Elite Change and New Social Mobilization Muriel Asseburg, Heiko Wimmen, 2018-02-02 The political transformations initiated by the so called Arab Spring in Egypt Libya Tunisia and Yemen have been marked by strong political contention continued social mobilization and albeit to different degrees weak central state institutions This book proposes that rather than agreed roadmaps of institutional change e.g. elections drawing up new constitutions and centrally crafted transition processes it has been the competition of key political actors for resources of political power and control that has set the pace and influenced the direction and depth of the transformation processes Hence the contributions in this volume use an actor centred approach Two perspectives are assumed first key political actors referring to the Politically Relevant Elite PRE are identified and their motivations as well as their strategies and capacities to steer the transformation process Secondly the authors investigate the capacity of politically Mobilized Publics to exert influence on agenda setting and decision making ask to what extent popular and social movements have emerged as political actors in their own right and to what extent such forms of bottom up participation have constituted a fundamental change to the political culture of these countries Both avenues of inquiry analyze how the elites are constrained by continued social mobilization how they engage with mobilized publics to promote their own agendas and whether the extended scope of popular participation contributes to the legitimacy and stability of the emerging political orders or causes disruption fragmentation and conflict This book was previously published as a special issue of Mediterranean Politics      Moving the AEC Beyond 2015 Tham Siew Yean, 2018-02-14 The ten Southeast Asian economies reached a milestone on 31 December 2015 when they announced the formation of an ASEAN Community Although this includes three pillars ASEAN Political Security Community ASEAN Economic Community AEC and the ASEAN Socio Cultural Community it is the economic pillar that generates immense debate due to its expected quantifiable benefits to member countries This book thus focuses on the ASEAN Economic Community and seeks to explain the need for building domestic consensus within the member countries It starts with an overview chapter describing the current achievements of the AEC It then explores possible explanations for the achievements non achievements and offers a hypothesis on conflicting economic interests in a country as one possible explanation for gaps in implementation This is because any form of economic liberalisation brings with it the winners and losers thereby raising resistance to liberalization measures and slowing down the implementation process The book includes six country chapters Indonesia Malaysia the Philippines Singapore Thailand and Vietnam that examine sources of domestic conflict s in greater detail and depth It also includes a regional chapter co authored by the ex Secretary General of ASEAN Mr Rodolfo Severino that brings out the political nature of ASEAN economic cooperation since its inception in 1976 For ASEAN beyond 2015 the book articulates the need to obtain a strong domestic consensus that supports the integration initiatives of the AEC This can be viewed as a way forward to accelerate and deepen integration within ASEAN The book concludes with some suggestions on how each country can move towards achieving domestic consensus based on the respective country level analysis

State Renaissance for Peace Emmanuel De Groof, 2020-08-27 Explores how international law applies to transitional governance from a multi actor perspective in conflict riven countries      Prestige in Academic Life Paul Blackmore, 2015-11-19 The achievement of academic excellence is inherently competitive Deliberate government policies globalisation and changes in communication technologies mean that competitiveness in the academic world is sharper than ever before At the centre of this is the seeking of prestige at all levels from the national system to the individual Prestige in Academic Life aims to increase understanding of motivation in universities by exploring the part that prestige plays for good and ill The book s focus on motivation and prestige helps to answer fundamental questions that run through much discussion on universities such as why some problems are never solved why change can be so difficult to achieve and how individuals and groups can enable it to happen Issues explored include What role does prestige play in academic life How does prestige play out in the working lives of academics students administrators and institutional leaders How can the positive aspects of prestige be encouraged and the negative ones diminished University leaders and managers academics administrators and students indeed all who are interested in universities will find this valuable reading It will help those in leadership positions to enhance the efficiency effectiveness and wellbeing of their institutions and will support academic staff in negotiating their career path Paul Blackmore is Professor of Higher Education in the International Centre for University Policy Research Policy Institute at King's College London

The Moral Economy of Welfare and Migration Lydia Morris, 2021-08-15

Britain's coalition government of 2010-2015 ushered in an enduring age of austerity and a moral mission of welfare reform as part of a drive for deficit reduction. Stricter controls were applied to both domestic welfare and international migration and asylum, which were presented as two sides of the same coin. Policy in both areas has engaged a moral message of earned entitlement and invites a sociological approach that examines such policies in combination alongside their underpinning moral economy. Exploring the idea of a moral economy from its original focus on popular rebellion at the rising price of corn to more contemporary analysis of measures that seek to impose moral values from above, Lydia Morris examines Britain's reconfigured pattern of rights in the fields of domestic welfare and migration. Those in power have claimed that heightened conditions and sanctions for the benefit-dependent domestic population, both in and out of work, will promote labour market change and reduce demand for low-skilled migrant workers. Often EU citizens whose own access to benefits was curtailed prior to Brexit, Morris traces related political discourse through to the design and implementation of concrete policy measures and maps the diminished access to rights that has emerged, paying particular attention to the boundaries drawn in defining target groups and the resistance this has provoked. The Moral Economy of Welfare and Migration considers the topology of the whole system to highlight cross-cutting devices of control that have far-reaching implications for how we are governed as a total population.

Sport Management: The Basics Rob Wilson, Mark Piekartz, 2015-09-16

Sport Management: The Basics is an engaging and accessible introduction to sport management which considers a range of contemporary philosophical, social, cultural and political matters as they impact on this growing field. Drawing links between academic theory and practice, it explores the current challenges facing managers in the sport industry, addressing topics including the history of sport management, the role of the manager, levels of management, the public, private and voluntary sectors, sport management in the global marketplace. With suggestions for further reading throughout the text, a comprehensive chapter on employment and employability, and case studies which explore both theory and practice, Sport Management: The Basics offers a clear and concise introduction for anyone seeking to study or work in sport management.

Handbook on Green Infrastructure Danielle Sinnett, Nick Smith, Sarah Burgess, 2015-11-27

Green infrastructure encompasses many features in the built environment. It is widely recognised as a valuable resource in our towns and cities, and it is therefore crucial to understand, create, protect and manage this resource. This Handbook sets the context for green infrastructure as a means to make urban environments more resilient, sustainable, liveable and equitable. Including state-of-the-art reviews that summarise the existing knowledge, as well as research findings, this Handbook provides current evidence for the beneficial impact of green infrastructure on health, environmental quality and the economy. It discusses the planning and design of green infrastructure as a strategic network, down to the individual features in a neighbourhood, and looks at the process of green infrastructure implementation emphasising the importance of collaboration across multiple professions and sectors This comprehensive volume operates at multiple spatial scales from strategic networks at the regional level to individual features in neighbourhoods with international case studies used throughout to illustrate key examples of good practice This collection of expert contributions will be invaluable to students and academics in the fields of planning urban studies and geography Practitioners and policy makers will also find the policy discussion and examples enlightening

How Global Migration Changes the Workforce Diversity Equation Anthony Forsyth, Hina Sheikh, Francesca Sperotti, 2015-06-18 This volume explores some of the ways that a dialogue between diversity researchers and migration researchers can deepen the understanding of both It moves across economics sociology political science labour relations and legal studies demonstrating that the value of this dialogue cuts across disciplines The book particularly underlines the challenges faced in host societies including exclusion to the point of hyper precarity anti migrant attitudes and the widespread organizational Self-determination in Health Care Leroy C. Edozien, 2016-03-03 It is generally accepted in legal and bioethical discourse that the patient has a right to self determination In practice though this is often not the case Paternalism is waning and it is increasingly recognised that there are values other than medical factors which determine the choices that patients make Unfortunately these developments have not resulted in huge advances for patient self determination which is largely because the consent model has fundamental flaws that constrain its effectiveness This book sets out to offer an alternative model to consent In the property model proposed here the patient s bodily integrity is protected from unauthorised invasion and their legitimate expectation to be provided with the relevant information to make an informed decision is taken to be a proprietary right It is argued that the property model potentially overcomes the limitations of the consent model including the obstacle caused by the requirement to prove causation in consent cases The author proposes that this model could in the future provide an alternative or complementary approach for the courts to consider when dealing with cases relating to self determination in health care Child, Adolescent and Woman Nutrition in India Sheila C. Vir, 2023-10-13 In the last decade addressing the persistent problem of maternal infant young child and adolescent malnutrition in India has gained significant attention With the well established serious implications of malnutrition on mortality and morbidity mental health and cognitive development activity and productivity and overall economic development today there is an unprecedented political commitment to improving the grave woman and child nutrition scenario in the country POSHAN ABHIYAAN Nutrition Mission was launched in a Mission mode by the Honourable Prime Minister of India on March 8 2018 followed by measures for an effective implementation of an integrated nutrition strategy through POSHAN 2.0 in 2022 The book with 15 chapters tracks the history of evolution of public nutrition policies and strategies presents an update on the nutrition scenario analyses the experiences and synthesises emerging lessons in the prevention and control of malnutrition Additionally the book includes chapters with details of each of the various government systems such as Health ICDS NRLM PDS Education MDM Water Sanitation that provide lead in mainstreaming nutrition actions that directly or indirectly impact on accelerating the improvement of the nutrition situation of women adolescents and children The book is intended to be an indispensable reference for teachers and students of nutrition community medicine public health and development as well as professionals involved in the formulation and implementation of the nutrition policies and programmes Print edition not for sale in South Asia India Sri Lanka Nepal Bangladesh Pakistan and Bhutan Rethinking Learning in an Age of Digital Fluency Maggi Savin-Baden, 2015-03-05 This is a book that I am going to have to own and will work to find contexts in which to recommend It cuts obliquely through so many important domains of evidence and scholarship that it cannot but be a valuable stimulus Hamish Macleod University of Edinburgh Digital connectivity is a phenomenon of the 21st century and while many have debated its impact on society few have researched relationship between the changes taking place and the actual impact on learning Rethinking Learning in an Age of Digital Fluency examines what kind of impact an increasingly connected environment is having on learning and what kind of culture it is creating within learning settings Engagement with digital media and navigating through digital spaces with ease is something that many young people appear to do well although the tangible benefits of this are unclear This book

therefore will present an overview of current research and practice in the area of digital tethering whilst examining how it could be used to harness new learning and engagement practices that are fit for the modern age Questions that the book also addresses include Is being digital tethered a new learning nexus Are social networking sites spaces for co production of knowledge and spaces of inclusive learning Are students who are digitally tethered creating new learning maps and pedagogies Does digital tethering enable students to use digital media to create new learning spaces This fascinating and at times controversial text engages with numerous aspects of digital learning amongst undergraduate students including mobile learning individual and collaborative learning viral networking self publication and identity dissemination It will be of enormous interest to researchers and students in education and educational psychology
