Bandicoots in the Moonlight Avijit Ghosh,2008-08-25 I grew up in a place where every student appearing for tile school finals was accompanied by four experts who wrote the answers outside before they were smuggled In Where buying a train ticket was uber uncool because only cowards paid to travel Where dating a woman was unheard of but mating was commonplace and where the loss of male virginity often had something to do with goats Teenage boy Anirban Roy grows up not a lot wiser in a small town in 70s Bihar where his policeman father is posted to pick up intelligence on the looming Naxalite menace Ganesh Nagar possesses neither village simplicity nor urban slick but observes a line of ethics that defies codification It takes time for Anirban to learn to juggle adolescent angst and ping pong hormones loyal friends and part time criminals a bewildering succession of topsy turvy lessons in life and lust yet manage to keep the balls in the air There are close encounters with animals too Experiments with reptiles the sighting of bandicoots in full flight their sleek coats gleaming in the moonlight the hazards involved in stealing a parrot nestling the part played by a domestic fowl in curing snakebite and predicting death and the unusual role of donkeys in satiating adolescent lust Rites of passage never got so down and dirty as in journalist Avijit Ghosh's earthy account of boy to manhood in fictional Ganesh Nagar an introverted district that could exist in India anytime anywhere
