

DIGESTIVE TRACT

Absorption takes place in the stomach, small intestinal tract and the large colon. You can see the absorption veins leading from the tracts and back to the liver. These veins are blue on this diagram.

After food has been filtered by the liver, it moves into the hepatic portal which takes it to the heart to feed your blood cells.

After absorption, the food is taken directly to the liver, via the portal vein, to be cleansed.

The waste product from the liver is sent to the gall bladder for disposal by being stored as bile until new food passes from the stomach to the duodenum.

Once food is detected in the duodenum, bile is added to break food down into a liquid, ready for absorption.

The pancreas also secretes enzymes into the duodenum at the same time that bile is added to help break down food.

Soluble fibre absorbs the waste from the liver as well as cholesterol from new food therefore preventing these undesirables from being re-absorbed in the intestinal tracts..

Insoluble fibre does not break down into a paste until it reaches the large intestinal tract. Here is where it encourages the growth of the colon's natural flora..
