

The Industrial Revolution Begins: Section 3

Progress Monitoring Transparency

Use the excerpt to answer the following questions.

Factories and mines also hired many boys and girls. These children often started working at age seven or eight, a few as young as five. Nimble-fingered and quick-moving, they changed spools in the hot and humid textile mills where sometimes they could not see because of all the dust. . . . Conditions were even worse for children who worked in the mines. . . . Because children had helped with work on the farm, parents accepted the idea of child labor. The wages the children earned were needed to keep their families from starving.
