

Use the information on this page to help you write the proposal on the template provided on page two. Please email me if you have any questions. Remember – college class assignments should be typed unless the instructor tells you otherwise.

Your proposal should be brief and to the point. Don't make it any more complicated than it really is. Relax and think about how this assignment will help you learn how to write better papers in the future. ☺

Research Paper Proposal

Date:

To: Professor Debbie Vallejo

From:

Subject of my paper: This is the broad topic your paper will fall under. Example – “Short Term Memory Loss” is a broad topic. The thesis statement will narrow down the discussion of your paper.

My Major and why writing this paper about this topic will be beneficial to me: This is a personal discussion about why you chose the topic and how this information will benefit you.

My thesis statement: Should be one or two sentences, and is a statement of your belief, not a question. Is a specific statement that says where you stand on the topic you are discussing. Example – Short term memory loss is a result of lack of retrieval, not a loss of information.

Approach to the subject of my paper: Try to envision a logical way in which to present your material. In what order will you present your material to best address the issues? Will you have to define any terms? If so, which ones? Will you show opposing viewpoints? Will you be comparing and contrasting? Will you be categorizing some information? Are there examples you can use from your sources to make the paper more interesting?

Intended audience: Who would be interested in reading your paper?

Documentation Style: MLA (Modern Language Association)

Kinds of sources I will use and why they will benefit my paper: You need to have at least three other sources outside of your textbook. Only one internet source allowed.

Handbook of Demonstrations and Activities in the Teaching of Psychology Mark E. Ware, David E. Johnson, 2013-11-26 For those who teach students in psychology education and the social sciences, the Handbook of Demonstrations and Activities in the Teaching of Psychology Second Edition provides practical applications and rich sources of ideas. Revised to include a wealth of new material, 56% of the articles are new. These invaluable reference books contain the collective experience of teachers who have successfully dealt with students' difficulty in mastering important concepts about human behavior. Each volume features a table that lists the articles and identifies the primary and secondary courses in which readers can use each demonstration. Additionally, the subject index facilitates retrieval of articles according to topical headings, and the appendix notes the source as it originally appeared in Teaching of Psychology, the official journal of the Society for the Teaching of Psychology, Division Two of the American Psychological Association. Volume I consists of 97 articles about strategies for teaching introductory psychology, statistics, research methods, and the history of psychology classes. Divided into four sections, one for each specialty, the book suggests ways to stimulate interest, promote participation, grasp psychological terminology, and master necessary scientific skills.

Introduction to Art Therapy Research Lynn Kapitan, 2025-04-11 Thoroughly updated with references to newly published research and engaging first person reflections from art therapist researchers working throughout the world, the third edition of Introduction to Art Therapy Research places art therapy research within a socially complex world of compelling questions and emerging trends while guiding readers through basic research design. First published in 2010, this seminal textbook fulfills the need for a pragmatic educational text that broadly surveys the purpose and role of art therapy research, guides students and practitioners in becoming knowledgeable of their field's research literature and ethical principles, and instructs them into the kinds of projects, questions, and methods they might undertake. Written by a prominent figure in the world of art therapy, this pragmatic text is organized into three parts. Part I provides an overview of the basic steps in conceptualizing an art therapy research study with an emphasis on perspectives that are intrinsic to art therapy. Chapters in Part II cover an inclusive methodological framework from quantitative and outcomes research to qualitative, practitioner-based field research, critical participatory orientations, phenomenological and narrative approaches, and the growing influence of art-based research in art therapy. Part III offers up-to-date ethical guidelines and valuable tools for understanding and evaluating research reports, as well as practical guidance for publication in scholarly journals based on the author's long experience as the editor of the field's leading scholarly publication. Also included are added coverage on cross-cultural research, as well as high-quality examples from published, peer-reviewed art therapy research studies that illustrate material throughout the text. This landmark text will continue to educate and inform new and emerging art therapists.
