Annual Index* ,1972 Science and Technical Education United States. Congress. House. Committee on Science, Space, and Technology. Subcommittee on Science, Research, and Technology,1990 How a City Learned to Improve Its Schools Anthony S. Bryk, Sharon Greenberg, Albert Bertani, Penny Sebring, Steven E. Tozer, Timothy Knowles, 2023-04-18 A comprehensive analysis of the astonishing changes that elevated the Chicago public school system from one of the worst in the nation to one of the most improved How a City Learned to Improve Its Schools tells the story of the extraordinary thirty year school reform effort that changed the landscape of public education in Chicago Acclaimed educational researcher Anthony S Bryk joins five coauthors directly involved in Chicago s education reform efforts Sharon Greenberg Albert Bertani Penny Sebring Steven E Tozer and Timothy Knowles to illuminate the many factors that led to this transformation of the Chicago Public Schools Beginning in 1987 Bryk and colleagues lay out the civic context for reform outlining the systemic challenges such as segregation institutional racism and income and resource disparities that reformers grappled with as well as the social conflicts they faced Next they describe how fundamental changes occurred at every level of schooling enhancing classroom instruction organizing more engaged and effective local school communities strengthening the preparation recruitment and support of teachers and school leaders and sustaining an ambitious evidence based campaign to keep the public informed on the progress of key reform initiatives and the challenges still ahead The power of this capacity building is validated by unprecedented increases in benchmarks such as graduation rates and college matriculation This riveting account introduces key actors within the schools city government and business community and the partnerships they forged It also reveals the surprising yet essential role of Chicago s innovative information infrastructure in aligning disparate initiatives In making clear how elements such as advocacy civic capacity improvement research and strong democracy contributed to large scale progress in the system s 600 plus schools the book highlights the greater lessons that the Chicago story offers for system improvement overall

Enhancing the Value and Sustainability of Field Stations and Marine Laboratories in the 21st Century National Research

Council, Division on Earth and Life Studies, Board on Life Sciences, Committee on Value and Sustainability of Biological Field Stations, Marine Laboratories, and Nature Reserves in the 21st Century Science, Education, and Public Outreach, 2014-09-11

For over a century field stations have been important entryways for scientists to study and make important discoveries about the natural world. They are centers of research, conservation, education, and public outreach, often embedded in natural environments that range from remote to densely populated urban locations. Because they lack traditional university departmental boundaries, researchers at field stations have the opportunity to converge their science disciplines in ways that can change careers and entire fields of inquiry. Field stations provide physical space for immersive research, hands-on learning, and new collaborations that are otherwise hard to achieve in the everyday bustle of research and teaching lives on campus. But the separation from university campuses that allows creativity to flourish also creates challenges. Sometimes field stations are viewed as remote outposts and are overlooked because they tend to be away from population centers and their home institutions. This view is exacerbated by the lack of empirical evidence that can be used to demonstrate their value to science and society. Enhancing the Value and Sustainability of Field Stations and Marine Laboratories in the 21st Century summarizes field stations' value to science, education, and outreach and evaluates their contributions to research, innovation, and education. This report suggests strategies to meet future research, education, outreach, infrastructure, and logistical needs of field stations. Today's technologies, such as streaming data, remote sensing, robot-driven monitoring, automated DNA sequencing, and nanoparticle environmental sensors, provide means for field stations to retain their special connection to nature and still interact with the rest of the world in ways that can fuel breakthroughs in the environmental, physical, natural, and social sciences. The intellectual and natural capital of today's field stations present a solid platform, but many need enhancements of infrastructure and dynamic leadership if they are to meet the challenges of the complex problems facing the world. This report focuses on the capability of field stations to address societal needs today and in the future.
