Hello World Hannah Fry, 2018-09-18 Shortlisted for the 2018 Baillie Gifford Prize and the 2018 Royal Society Investment Science Book Prize A beautifully accessible guide One of the best books yet written on data and algorithms Times UK If you were accused of a crime who would you rather decide your sentence a mathematically consistent algorithm incapable of empathy or a compassionate human judge prone to bias and error What if you want to buy a driverless car and must choose between one programmed to save as many lives as possible and another that prioritizes the lives of its own passengers And would you agree to share your family s full medical history if you were told that it would help researchers find a cure for cancer These are just some of the dilemmas that we are beginning to face as we approach the age of the algorithm when it feels as if the machines reign supreme Already these lines of code are telling us what to watch where to go whom to date and even whom to send to jail But as we rely on algorithms to automate big important decisions in crime justice healthcare transportation and money they raise questions about what we want our world to look like What matters most Helping doctors with diagnosis or preserving privacy Protecting victims of crime or preventing innocent people being falsely accused Hello World takes us on a tour through the good the bad and the downright ugly of the algorithms that surround us on a daily basis Mathematician Hannah Fry reveals their inner workings showing us how algorithms are written and implemented and demonstrates the ways in which human bias can literally be written into the code By weaving in relatable real world stories with accessible explanations of the underlying mathematics that power algorithms Hello World helps us to determine their power expose their limitations and examine whether they really are improvement on the human systems they replace

The Primacy of PISA Joseph M. Piro, 2019-08-21 Every three years the world awaits the results of the Programme for International Student Assessment or PISA the rankings of school systems overseen by the Organisation for Economic Co operation and Development OECD Nations around the world look eagerly and apprehensively to see where their students rank on these tests of competence in mainly science math and reading This book provides a window into PISA and its power What exactly is PISA How are its tests developed Who takes the test What countries tend to outperform and which underperform What do countries learn from PISA Why is PISA both revered and feared And most importantly does PISA improve education globally The first PISA in 2000 included 32 countries In 2018 nearly eighty nations took part in PISA That number is expected to double by 2030 This may mean that students in over 80% of the world's countries will take the PISA exams This scenario has made PISA more important than ever This book probes topics and themes related to the world's most important exam and why many view a high PISA ranking rightly or wrongly as global education's seal of approval Because of this PISA has been called a disruptor a test which can trigger major reform in school systems around the world But is it the PISA rankings that are the real disruptor or the decisions countries make because of their rankings These decisions often involve systemic changes in teaching and learning which can substantially alter how a country measures and prioritizes its education system
