Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists ,1983-03      Beyond the North Wind Christopher McIntosh,2019-05-01 The North is simultaneously a location a direction and a mystical concept Although this concept has ancient roots in mythology folklore and fairy tales it continues to resonate today within modern culture McIntosh leads readers chapter by chapter through the magical and spiritual history of the North as well as its modern manifestations as documented through physical records such as runestones and megaliths but also through mythology and lore This mythic conception of a unique powerful and mysterious Northern civilization was known to the Greeks as Hyberborea the Land Beyond the North Wind which they considered to be the true origin place of their god Apollo bringer of civilization Through the Greeks this concept of the mythic North would spread throughout Western civilization In addition McIntosh discusses Russian Hyperboreanism which he describes as among the most influential of the new religions and quasi religious movements that have sprung up in Russia since the fall of Communism and which is currently almost unknown in the West      Visions of Global Environmental Justice Alexander Huezo,2025 Focusing on the lived experiences of Afro Colombians processing and resisting violence against their ecological communities Visions of Global Environmental Justice employs accounts of the supernatural narratively and analytically to frame a contemporary struggle for environmental justice The book applies Achille Mbemb s theorization of necropolitics to the environmental racism of the US War on Drugs in Colombia specifically the aerial eradication of coca in the comunidades negras of the Pacific Coast Through critical examination and deconstruction of transnational mythmaking and local oral tradition Visions of Global Environmental Justice illustrates that non humans rendered expendable by US driven drug necro politics are indispensable to both the conceptualization and the realization of environmental justice globally Far from being a study singularly focused on the symptoms of environmental issues this book creatively guides us toward a broader conceptualization of environmental racism and justice across geographic scales and non human agencies
