Francesca Haig Book:

The Forever Ship Francesca Haig, 2017-12-05 Book Three in the critically acclaimed The Fire Sermon trilogy The Hunger Games meets Cormac McCarthy's The Road in this richly imagined post apocalyptic series by award winning poet Francesca Haig The apocalypse has come and gone and now every person is born a twin one a strong Alpha one a mutated Omega The Omegas live in segregation cast out by their families as soon as their mutation becomes clear Forced to live apart they are ruthlessly oppressed by their Alpha counterparts The only thing that keeps the Alphas at bay is the fact that whenever one twin dies so does the other In this thrilling conclusion to The Fire Sermon trilogy Cass Piper and Zoe have discovered that Elsewhere exists and it's more real and more complicated than any of them could have imagined Now they must race to prevent the Alphas from destroying what might be the only salvation for the Omegas The end to their lifelong discrimination is in sight but before she can be free Cass must overcome her loyalty to her Alpha twin Zach her most dangerous enemy But if they're not careful both will die in the struggle for power

The Map of Bones Francesca Haig, 2016-12-06 Book Two in the critically acclaimed The Fire Sermon trilogy The Hunger Games meets Cormac McCarthy's The Road in this richly imagined post apocalyptic series by award winning poet Francesca Haig Four hundred years in the future the Earth has turned primitive following a nuclear fire that has laid waste to civilization and nature Though the radiation fallout has ended for some unknowable reason every person is born with a twin Of each pair one is an Alpha physically perfect in every way and the other an Omega burdened with deformity small or large With the Council ruling an apartheid like society Omegas are branded and ostracized while the Alphas have gathered the world's sparse resources for themselves Though proclaiming their superiority for all their effort Alphas cannot escape one harsh fact whenever one twin dies so does the other Cass is a rare Omega one burdened with psychic foresight While her twin Zach gains power on the Alpha Council she dares to dream the most dangerous dream of all equality For daring to envision a world in which Alphas and Omegas live side by side as equals both the Council and the Resistance have her in their sights

The Fire Sermon Francesca Haig, 2015-02 Cass and Zach were born a perfect pair no missing limbs no Omega mutation but Cass has a secret In her dreams she has seen the day they will be separated She has felt the searing heat of the Omega brand as it is burned into her forehead marking her fate for all to see For years Cass hides her power of foresight from her family and brother as the eyes of the community bear down upon them waiting for the day the Omega mutation appears When Zach discovers Cass's secret he will stop at nothing to expose her and take his rightful place as an Alpha

Women and Personal Property in the Victorian Novel Deborah Wynne, 2016-02-17 How key changes to the married women's property laws contributed to new ways of viewing women in society are revealed in Deborah Wynne's study of literary representations of women and portable property during the period 1850 to 1900 While critical explorations of Victorian women's connections to the material world have tended to focus on their relationships to commodity culture Wynne argues that modern paradigms of consumerism cannot be applied across the board to the Victorian period Until the passing of the 1882 Married Women's Property Act many women lacked full property rights evidence suggests that for women objects often functioned not as disposable consumer products but as cherished personal property Focusing particularly on representations of women and material culture in Charles Dickens George Eliot and Henry James Wynne shows how novelists engaged with the vexed question of women's relationships to property Suggesting that many of the apparently insignificant items that clutter the Victorian realist novel take on new meaning when viewed through the lens of women's access to material culture and the vagaries of property law her study opens up new possibilities for interpreting female characters in Victorian fiction and reveals the complex work of thing culture in literary texts

Pedagogies for the Post-Anthropocene Esther

Priyadharshini, 2021-11-25 This book draws on posthumanist critique and post qualitative approaches to research to examine the pedagogies offered by imaginaries of the future Starting with the question of how education can be a process for imagining and desiring better futures that can shorten the Anthropocene it speaks to concerns that are relevant to the fields of education youth and futures studies This book explores lessons from the imaginaries of apocalypse revolution and utopia drawing on research from youthful perspectives in a context when the narrative of youth despair about the future is becoming persistent It investigates how the imaginary of Apocalypse acts as a frame of intelligibility a way of making sense of the monstrosities of the present and also instigates desires to act in different ways Studying the School Climate Strikes of 2019 as Revolution moves us away from the teleologies of capitalist consumption and endless growth to newer aesthetics The strikes function as a public pedagogy that creates new publics that include life beyond the human Finally the book explores how the Utopias of Afrofuturist fiction provides us with a kind of investable utopia because the starting point is in racial economic and ecological injustice If the Apocalypse teaches us to recognize what needs to go and Revolution accepts that living with less than is necessary then this kind of Utopia shows us how becoming more than human may be the future

Apocalyptic Chic Barbara Brodman, James E. Doan, 2017-10-10 This book deals with legends and images of the apocalypse and post apocalypse in film and graphic arts literature and lore from early to modern times and from peoples and cultures around the world It reflects an increasingly popular leitmotif in literature and visual arts of the 21st century humanity's fear of extinction and its quest for survival in revenant supernatural or living human form It is the logical continuation of a series of collected essays examining the origins and evolution of myths and legends of the supernatural in Western and non Western tradition and popular culture The first two volumes of the series The Universal Vampire Origins and Evolution of a Legend Fairleigh Dickinson University Press 2013 and Images of the Modern Vampire The Hip and the Atavistic Fairleigh Dickinson University Press 2013 focused on the vampire legend The third The Supernatural Revamped From Timeworn Legends to Twenty First Century Chic 2016 focused on a range of supernatural beings in literature film and other forms of popular culture

Screening Twilight Wickham Clayton, Sarah Harman, 2014-06-19 The Twilight saga a series of five films adapted from Stephanie Meyer s four vampire novels has been a sensation both at the box office and through the attention it has won from its predominantly teenaged fans This series has also been the subject of criticism and sometimes derision often from critics and on occasion even from fans However it also offers rich opportunities for analytic and critical attention which the contributors to Screening Twilight demonstrate with energy and style Through examining Twilight the book unpacks how this popular group of films work as cinematic texts what they have to say about cinema and culture today and how fans may seek to re read or subvert these messages The chapters address Twilight in the context of the vampire and myth in terms of genre and reception identity gender and sexuality and through re viewing the series fandom Screening Twilight is also a revelation of how a popular cinematic phenomenon like Twilight rewards close attention from contemporary critical scholars of cinema and culture

Apocalyptic Discourse in Contemporary Culture Monica Germana, Aris Mousoutzanis, 2014-09-15 This interdisciplinary collection of essays focuses on critical and theoretical responses to the apocalypse of the late twentieth and early twenty first century cultural production Examining the ways in which apocalyptic discourses have had an impact on how we read the world s globalised space the traumatic burden of history and the mutual relationship between language and eschatological belief fifteen original essays by a group of internationally established and emerging critics reflect on the apocalypse its past tradition pervasive present and future legacy The collection seeks to offer a new reading of the apocalypse understood as a complex and frequently paradoxical paradigm of contemporary Western culture The majority of published collections on the subject have been published prior to the year 2000 and in their majority of cases locate the apocalypse in the future and envision it as something imminent This collection offers a post millennial perspective that perceives the end as immanent and simultaneously rooted in the past tradition

Docu-Fictions of War Tatiana Prorokova, 2019-05-01 Historical writing and fiction are not the same thing though historians often creatively manipulate material in imposing plot structures selecting starting and ending points and fashioning compelling literary characters from historical figures In Docu Fictions of War Tatiana Prorokova argues that the opposite is also true war fiction offers a kind of history that both documents its subjects and provides a snapshot of the cultural representation of the United States most recent military involvements She covers a largely neglected body of cinematic and literary texts about the First Gulf War the Balkan War the Afghanistan War and the Iraq War to open a fresh analysis of cultural texts on war Prorokova contends that these texts are not pure fiction but docu fictions works of imagination that can document their subjects while disclosing the social political and historical link between war and culture during the last three decades Docu Fictions of War analyzes how these representational narratives have highlighted a humanitarian rationale behind American involvement in each war whether the stated goals were to free the oppressed from tyranny stop genocide or rid the world of terrorism The book explores the gap between history what allegedly happened and the cultural mythology that is both true and inexact tangible and sensed recognized and undocumented Mapping Smallville Cory Barker,Chris Ryan,Myc Wiatrowski,2014-07-16
