THE NEW PRIMARY CURRICULUM

THE DIFFERENCE

The existing curriculum include content overload and an inability of the assessment system to provide sufficient data to help fashion improvement in teaching and learning. In the new curriculum, there a shift away from the overloaded subject curriculum towards a reduced overload by promoting conceptual understanding.

Junior Graphic Mavis Kitcher (Mrs), 2014-07-30 Meeting the Challenges of Education in the 21st Century
Ghana. President's Committee on Review of Education Reforms in Ghana, 2002 Virtual Sites as Learning Spaces
Sangeeta Bagga-Gupta, Giulia Messina Dahlberg, Ylva Lindberg, 2019-11-25 This volume fills a gap in the literature between the domains of Communication Studies and Educational Sciences across physical virtual spaces as they intersect in the 21st century The chapters focus on languaging communicative practices in the making and its intersection with analogue and virtual learning spaces bringing together studies that highlight the constant movement between analogue virtual dimensions that continuously re shape participants identity positionings Languaging is understood as the deployment of one or more than one language variety modality embodiment etc in human meaning making across spaces Languaging activities are explored through a multitude of literary artefacts genres media and modes produced in and across sites The authors go beyond best practice approaches and instead present how to explore communicative practices for researchers learners and teachers This book will be of interest to readers situated in the areas of literacy literature bi multilingualism multimodality linguistic anthropology applied linguistics and related fields Chapters 2 5 8 and 12 are open access under a CC BY 4 0 license at link springer com Primary Mathematics Pedagogy at the Intersection of Education Reform, Policy, and Culture Sarah Murray, Princess Allotey, 2021-11-29 This volume provides an in depth comparative examination of how primary mathematics education is influenced by national education reform policy local resources and culture in three different countries By drawing on first hand observations and interviews as well as analysis of policy documents and learning resources the book considers the viability of transferring best practices in primary mathematics education across global contexts Three diverse countries Ghana the US and Singapore are explored Similarities and differences are highlighted and the influence of national and regional initiatives related to pedagogical strategies teacher education and cultural expectations are considered to offer an insightful examination of how best practices might be shared across borders This book will benefit researchers academics and postgraduate scholars with an interest in international and comparative education mathematics and educational policy Those with a specialization in primary mathematics education including pedagogy and teacher preparation will also benefit from this book Cross-National Information and Communication Technology Policies and Practices in Education Tjeerd Plomp, Ronald E. Anderson, Nancy Law, Andreas Quale, 2009-04-01 This compendium of papers documents educational ICT policies and practices in 37 countries making it a valuable resource for understanding and comparing ICT related national policy developments in education We believe that this work offers a unique in depth examination of the trends within major education systems and how they have adapted to and taken advantage of the challenges and opportunities posed by the new information and communication technologies A special feature of this edition is that it allows for interesting comparative analyses of sub groups of countries as many Asian European Union and former eastern European countries as well as the United States and Canada among others are included in the book But it allows also for other than regional comparisons given that a number of newly industrialized countries such as Brazil Chile Malaysia and South Africa are represented in this book together with many OECD countries This book is the result of the effort and hard work of the contributing authors many of whom are the NRCs for IEA SITES in their respective countries Special thanks must go to the Norwegian Royal Ministry of Education and Research and the Netherlands Kennisnet ICT OP School Foundation both of which provided generous support for the preparation and dissemination of the book to the Center for Information Technology in Education CITE of the University of Hong Kong which assisted in the technical preparation of the manuscript and to the IEA Secretariat which facilitated the copyediting of the chapters We want to acknowledge especially the professional contribution of Paula Wagemaker who has copyedited the entire volume This copyediting work is especially critical and challenging as many of the chapters were written by authors for whom English is a foreign language We also want to express our appreciation to David Robitaille chair of the IEA Publications and Editorial Committee and his committee for the critical and constructive review of the manuscript

Abolishing School Fees in Africa ,2009 Progress in literacy and learning especially through universal primary education has done more to advance human conditions than perhaps any other policy. Our generation has the possibility of becoming the first generation ever to offer all children access to good quality basic education. But it will only happen if we have the political commitment at the country as well as at the international level to give priority to achieve this first in human history. And it will only happen if also those who cannot afford to pay school fees can benefit from a complete cycle of good quality primary education. Investment in good quality fee free primary education should be a cornerstone in any government's poverty reduction strategy.
