Built to Thrive: Using Innovation to Make Your Mark in a Connected World Jay van Zyl, 2011-11-12 Built to Thrive is about unpacking the drivers that I have noticed in the landscape that do not yet have a place in our existing vocabulary It is about ceasing to ignore the signs and beginning to embrace the changes that are becoming more tangible with every day that passes It is about recognizing the amplified importance of the human as a social being in this dawning age of transparency and systemic activity The individual becomes the collective as we move into a sphere of shared value creation ideation and knowledge dissemination Existing in this new business landscape is not about eliminating the competition but rather working together in a bid to share resources and expand far beyond what we could ever hope to achieve as individual organizations Through Built to Thrive I hope to open your mind and introduce you to a way of thinking that will fundamentally shift your views and may provide a lifeline in a world where the new school will rule

Put Your Money Where Your House Is Fred Solomon, 2008-10 Best Seat in the House: A Father, a Daughter, a Journey Through Sports Christine Brennan, 2022-06-17 From the best known and most widely read woman sports columnist in the United States comes a remarkable memoir of a father and a daughter the story of a girl who would turn her love for sports into a trailblazing career Christine Brennan grew up in Toledo Ohio spending her summers playing with the boys on her block memorizing baseball statistics accompanying her dad to countless baseball and football games and falling in love with everything about sports While other girls were playing with Barbie dolls Chris was collecting baseball cards and listening to the radio for the play by play accounts of her favorite teams The eldest of four children Chris was her father's daughter from the beginning For a girl growing up in the 1960s and 70s in the days before Title IX changed the playing fields of America

there were few opportunities to play organized sports But Jim Brennan encouraged his daughter to believe she could play anything she wanted to and when she couldn't be on the field he was by her side in the stands she always thought the seat next to her father was the best seat in the house usually cheering for the underdog and making sure Chris knew there was a place for her in the world of sports In her warm and inspiring memoir the first of its kind by a female sports journalist Brennan takes readers from her neighborhood ball fields to the press boxes and locker rooms of stadiums around the world Guided by her father's unfailing sense of loyalty honor and fairness at the age of twenty two she became the first female sportswriter for The Miami Herald and in 1985 was the first woman to cover the Washington Redskins as a staff writer for The Washington Post Over the past quarter century Brennan has reported on many of the biggest stories in sports and led the coverage of both the 1994 Tonya Harding Nancy Kerrigan saga and the pairs figure skating scandal at the 2002 Salt Lake Olympics Her USA Today column on Augusta National Golf Club home of the Masters triggered a nationwide debate about the club's lack of female members Told in the spirited friendly voice that readers of her column have come to love Best Seat in the House is the heartwarming chronicle of a girl who came of age as women's sports were coming of age encouraged every step of the way by her beloved father Make It BIG! Frank E. Creating the Land of the Sky Richard D. Starnes, 2010-03-12 A sophisticated inquiry into tourism's social and economic power across the South In the early 19th century planter families from South Carolina Georgia and eastern North Carolina left their low country estates during the summer to relocate their households to vacation homes in the mountains of western North Carolina Those unable to afford the expense of a second home relaxed at the hotels that emerged to meet their needs This early tourist activity set the stage for tourism to become the region's New South industry After 1865 the development of railroads and the burgeoning consumer culture led to the expansion of tourism across the whole region Richard Starnes argues that western North Carolina benefited from the romanticized image of Appalachia in the post Civil War American consciousness This image transformed the southern highlands into an exotic travel destination a place where both climate and culture offered visitors a myriad of diversions This depiction was further bolstered by partnerships between state and federal agencies local boosters and outside developers to create the attractions necessary to lure tourists to the region As tourism grew so did the tension between leaders in the industry and local residents The commodification of regional culture low wage tourism jobs inflated land prices and negative personal experiences bred no small degree of animosity among mountain residents toward visitors Starnes's study provides a better understanding of the significant role that tourism played in shaping communities across the South
