Labor's Power and Industrial Performance Stavros Gavroglou,1998 Constructs an analytical framework of production politics within which to address such phenomena as the erosion of wages and lost of good jobs in the US in the 1980s the emulation by US companies of production methods from elsewhere and differences and similarities between Japanese and German industrial relations Narrowing the study to the automobile industry argues that variations in labor s fortunes and competitive success can be explained by distinct patterns of labor inclusion in corporate decision making Distributed in the US by Taylor and Francis Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR Catalog of Copyright Entries. Trushel,2020-08-02 There are many books on how to succeed in F I Experts are everywhere trying to give you advice on how to be successful You see magazines blogs podcasts and even TV shows telling you how to maximize your profits and overcome any objection Yet something is still missing Customer satisfaction is incredibly low People dislike the buying process Nearly 6 out of every 10 customers skip buying a vehicle service contract from their selling dealer while third party competition is thriving on selling to those same customers With the advent of DealerTrack and RouteOne coupled with the evolution of the desk submitting deals before F I involvement even begins people should be delighted with the overall transaction times but they re not Another problem we face is that most F I training offered today follows an old model of trying to simply overcome objections The focus on objections made F I development companies a solution for dealers wanting to create their own F I departments in the 1970 s And it worked They created an industry But the world keeps moving Today endlessly debating with customers by overcoming every objection is a problem We must be as Bruce Lee said Like water and adapt to each customer individually For instance today a menu presentation with every product bundled into the Complete or Platinum column may be the best way to present your payments or it may not be Do you know what sales process is most effective in YOUR store Or are you just doing what the trainer tells you works best More importantly can they bring data Can they demonstrate effective results in YOUR store If not why are they giving you advice Catalogue of Copyright Entries Subcommittee for Consumers,1978 Managing Risk in Developing Countries Barbara C. Samuels,2014-07-14 In light of the increasing global competition among both multinational companies and national economies Barbara Samuels examines a source of economic tension that has broad social implications as multinational companies MNCs strive for cheaper labor and new markets less developed countries LDCs are becoming more concerned with extracting benefits from these companies to achieve their development objectives Samuels centers her study on the variables shaping the responses of MNCs to national demands while considering current debates on country risk global competitiveness and national industrial policy Advancing a micro view of the MNC and its host country in two case studies Samuels shows how an MNC subsidiary s integration with headquarters and its closeness with local government affect its management of risk and its ability to deal with LDC demands Here the author investigates the labor and investment policy changes brought about when various automotive subsidiaries interacted with national interest groups in Brazil and with the government in Mexico Both cases illustrate how the policy response of one subsidiary creates the dynamics for defensive policy changes of its competitors MNC managers and LDC policymakers can draw important conclusions Originally published in 1990 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print
