Annual Report of the Illinois Courts Administrative Office of Illinois Courts, 2015 The U.S. Supreme Court and Racial Minorities Leslie F. Goldstein, 2017-07-28 The U S Supreme Court and Racial Minorities offers an in depth chronologically arranged look at the record of the U S Supreme Court on racial minorities over the course of its first two centuries It does not pose the anachronistic standard Did the Supreme Court get it right but rather How did the Supreme Court compare to other branches of the federal government at the time Have these Justices prevented against removal from office by discontented voters in contrast to the President and the members of Congress done any better than the elected branches of government at protecting racial minorities in America Disillusioned Benjamin Herold, 2024-01-23 Astonishingly important Alex Kotlowitz The Atlantic Through the stories of five American families a masterful and timely exploration of how hope history and racial denial collide in the suburbs and their schools Outside Atlanta a middle class Black family faces off with a school system seemingly bent on punishing their teenage son North of Dallas a conservative white family relocates to an affluent suburban enclave but can t escape the changes sweeping the country On Chicago s North Shore a multiracial mom joins an ultraprogressive challenge to the town s liberal status quo In Compton California whose suburban roots are now barely recognizable undocumented Hispanic parents place their gifted son s future in the hands of educators at a remarkable elementary school And outside Pittsburgh a Black mother moves to the same street where author Benjamin Herold grew up then confronts the destructive legacy left behind by white families like his Disillusioned braids these human stories together with penetrating local and national history to reveal a vicious cycle undermining the dreams upon which American suburbia was built For generations upwardly mobile white families have extracted opportunity from the nation s heavily subsidized suburbs then moved on before the bills for maintenance and repair came due leaving the mostly Black and Brown families who followed to clean up the ensuing mess But now sweeping demographic shifts and the dawning realization that endless expansion is no longer feasible are disrupting this pattern forcing everyday families to confront a truth their communities were designed to avoid The suburban lifestyle dream is a Ponzi scheme whose unraveling threatens us all How do we come to terms with this troubled history How do we build a future in which all children can thrive Drawing upon his decorated career as an education journalist Herold explores these pressing debates with expertise and perspective Then alongside Bethany Smith the mother from his old neighborhood who contributes a powerful epilogue to the book he offers a hopeful path toward renewal The result is nothing short of a journalistic masterpiece The Statesman's Yearbook 2015 B. Turner, 2016-12-27 Now in its 151st edition The Statesman s Yearbook continues to be the reference work of choice for accurate and reliable information on every country in the world Covering political economic social and cultural aspects the Yearbook is also available online for subscribing institutions <http://www.statesmansyearbook.com> Atlas of Material Worlds Matthew Seibert, 2021-08-17 Atlas of Material Worlds is a highly designed narrative atlas illustrating the agency of nonliving

materials with unique ubiquitous and often hidden influence on our daily lives Employing new materialism as a jumping off point it examines the increasingly blurry lines between the organic and inorganic engaging the following questions What roles do nonliving materials play Might a closer examination of those roles reveal an undeniable agency we have long overlooked or disregarded If so does this material agency change our understanding of the social structures ecologies economies cosmologies technologies and landscapes that surround us And perhaps most importantly why does material agency matter This is the story of the world's driest nonpolar desert pink flamingos and cerulean blue lithium ponds industrial shipping logistics pudding like jiggling substrates and monuments of mud galactic bodies radioactive sheep and the yellowcake of uranium Put simply this book dares readers to see the world anew from material up Atlas of Material Worlds offers this new relationship to our host environment in a time of mounting crises accelerating climate change ballooning socioeconomic inequality and rising toxic nationalism uniquely telling materialist stories for practitioners and students in landscape architecture and other built environment disciplines

Transnational Evaluation of Constitutions Ali

Shirvani, 2021-07-09 This book provides a hypothetical classification of constitutions through international law and human rights values used in any constitution which draws connections between the inclusive standards of international law and human rights contained in the constitutions Consequently an evaluation method will be available for users to rank any constitution potentiality of analysis for grounds of any commitment and responsibility of the states concerning international law and human rights This important study uses novel quantitative and qualitative methods to explore the relationship between constitutional and international law It is a significant contribution to the literature and pushes us further toward rigorous analysis of transnational legal regimes Tom Ginsburg Professor of Political Science Chicago Law School

Television Regulation and Media Policy in China Yik-Chan Chin, 2016-08-12 Since the late 1990s there has been a crucial and substantial transformation in China's television system involving institutional structural and regulatory changes Unravelling the implications of these changes is vital for understanding the politics of Chinese media policy making and regulation and thus a comprehensive study of this history has never been more essential This book studies the transformation of the policy and regulation of the Chinese television sector within a national political and economic context from 1996 to the present day Taking a historical and sociological approach it engages in the theoretical debates over the nature of the transformation of media in the authoritarian Chinese state the implications of the ruling party's political legitimacy and China's central local conflicts upon television policy making and market structure and the nature of the media modernisation process in a developing country Its case studies include broadcasting systems in Shanghai and Guangdong which demonstrate that varied policies and development strategies have been adopted by television stations reflecting different local circumstances and needs Arguing that rather than being a homogenous entity China has demonstrated substantial local diversity and complex interactions between local national and global media this book will be of interest to students and scholars of Chinese media politics and policy and international communications
