

Official Lit. Crit. Outline: A Biographical Criticism of The Shawl: Final Draft

Thesis: The sympathetic diction in the short story "The Shawl" reflects Cynthia Ozick's, compassionate understanding and ability to sympathize for those whom experienced the Holocaust.

The contrast between the relationships of the Ozick's and her brother and Stella and Magda show the devastating effects the Holocaust had upon the characters' childhood. In the short story, it can be inferred that the relationship between the siblings has been strained by their imprisonment. Rosa observes the siblings' selfishness thinking, "Stella gave nothing; she was ravenous, a growing child herself, but not growing much" (527). This shows that the lack of resources the characters have during their imprisonment strains their moral upbringing. The children's selfish nature continues with Magda not sharing her mother's shawl. "Stella was not allowed. The shawl was Magda's own baby, her pet, her little sister...Then Stella took the shawl away and made Magda die" (528). This shows additional signs of possessive hostility and competition between the siblings. Ozick felt fortunate to have grown up having all her needs met while other children during her childhood were struggling to survive. When reflecting on how she became interested in reading and writing, her biography states, "From older brother, she received the perfect birthday present - books" (Hyman, Moore). The books that her brother bought for her show his attention to her interests in their close relationship. Stella and Magda lack this close-knit relationship due to the hardships they face in the Holocaust. In another biography, Ozick reflects upon the gratitude she had for her economically and emotionally stable childhood saying, "but I think one of the reasons from earliest childhood I felt free to be a writer is that if I had been a boy, I would have had to go be something else" (Lowin). Here, Ozick expresses her gratitude towards her freedoms as a child where she was encouraged to learn when other children, like Magda and Stella, could not. Through the contrast of relationships between Magda and Stella and Ozick and her brother, she expresses great empathy for the children of the Holocaust whom were denied their childhood.

The strong female role of Rosa is a reflection upon the Ozick's generous and hardworking mother. Throughout the short story, Rosa exhibits great strength when dealing with both the physical and mental torture that prisoners endure in captivity. From the beginning, "Rosa did not feel hunger; she felt light, not like someone walking but like someone in a faint, in a trance, arrested in a fit, someone who is already a floating angel, alert and seeing everything, but in the air, not there not touching the road" (526). This shows that although she feels as though she could depart, she knows she has to try to live for her children. Similarly, Ozick's mother devoted great time and energy into her business when her children were still young. Ozick's remembers, "It was not unusual for them to put in a fourteen-hour day at the drugstore, often closing the store at one in the morning" (Hyman, Moore). The dedication that Ozick's mother gave to her pharmacy was an example for her children. In addition to Ozick's mother's hard work ethic, Ozick also shows her mother's generosity by bestowing the trait in Rosa. According to her biography, "Ozick describes her mother's life as a life of total generosity, of lavishness, of exuberance, of untrammelled laughter" (Lowin). This description clearly shows how highly Ozick saw her mother. Characterizing Rosa after her mother, Rosa is definitely observant of the moral upbringing her children lack. She notes to herself as she saw, "[that]

Contemporary Literary Theory Raman Selden, Peter Widdowson, Peter Brooker, 2016-12-19 A Reader's Guide to Contemporary Literary Theory is a classic introduction to the complex yet crucial area of literary theory. This book is known for its clear accessible style and its thorough logical approach guiding the reader through the essentials of literary theory. It includes two new chapters: New Materialisms which incorporates ecocriticism, animal studies, posthumanism and thing theory; 21st Century and Future Developments which includes technology, digital humanities, ethics and affect. New Essays in Ecofeminist Literary Criticism Glynis Carr, 2000 The present volume gathers new essays in ecofeminist literary criticism and theory that extend this critical trajectory for ecocriticism in the context of social eco feminist theory and practice. BOOK JACKET The Literary Criticism of T.S. Eliot, 2014-01-13 In his time T.S. Eliot established a new critical orthodoxy by which no major modern critic in England or America remained unaffected but a decade has passed since his death and a generation or more since his extraordinary influence was at its height. It has therefore seemed worth attempting a fresh historical revaluation of Eliot's critical achievement and the nine distinguished scholars whom Dr Newton De Molina approached responded readily to his invitation that they undertake such a project. Their essays range widely over the various aspects of Eliot's critical activity and place it in the context not only of his endeavours as poet and dramatist but also of his formal training as a philosopher and of his conversion to Christianity. They contrast the early and later work not forgetting Eliot's own retrospective comments on the former, consider its relation to the English critical and poetic tradition and seek to show in what ways criticism may derive new impetus from the example both of Eliot's strengths and of his limitations.

Questioning the Master Peggy McCormack, 2000 This is the first collection to bring together previously unpublished essays exploring James's depictions of gender and his use of sexual imagery that is balanced, objective and critically diverse. Nine articles examine James's fiction, films made from his works, his own literary criticism, letters and travel writing. These essays represent a range of theoretical perspectives: cultural studies, feminist and gender studies, queer theory, Lacanian and deconstructive psychoanalytic studies and historicism. This volume will be a valuable resource for readers in the fields of James, American literature, the novel and gender studies. BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc. French Thought and Literary Theory in the UK Irving Goh, 2019-10-21 This collection presents a sort of counter history or counter genealogy of the globalization of French thought from the point of view of scholars working in the UK. While the dominating discourse would attribute the US as the source of that globalization particularly through the 1966 conference on the Languages of Criticism and the Sciences of Man at Johns Hopkins University this volume of essays serves as a reminder that the UK has also been a principal motor of that globalization The essays take into account how French thought and literary theory have institutionally taken shape in the UK from the 70s to today highlight aspects of French thought that have been of particular pertinence or importance for scholars there and outline how researchers in the UK today are bringing French thought further in terms of teaching and research in this twenty first century In short this volume traces how the country has been behind the reception and development of French thought in Anglophone worlds from the late 70s to the present

Formation of Periodical Authorship in 1920s Korea Jae-Yon Lee, 2023-06-06 Formation of Periodical Authorship in 1920s Korea argues that Korean authors who entered the literary scene during modern literature's formative years were the subject mediated by periodicals However it has been difficult to substantiate this statement because periodicals including magazines were open to different groups of writers various social literary religious and cultural discourses and dissimilar genres The multi level interactions between terms knowledge and writing styles in circulation unfolded at a larger scale at some times and at other times in such an ordinary manner that one can hardly identify and synthesize them to make any sense Employing not only conventional close reading but also modes of distant reading developing out of cultural analytics Lee investigates the specific ways in which patterns of social semantic and stylistic interactions in Korea's major magazines configured three kinds of authorship namely the narcissistic author the prophetic critic and the everyday reviewer He rereads artist stories leftist social discourses religious cosmology and joint reviews through quantitative analyses and offers an engaging account on the importance of repetitions in creating literary originality This book extends periodical studies through cultural analytics and opens up a new horizon for the next generation of literary scholars seeking innovative experiments in a digital age

Literary Criticism of Matthew Arnold Flemming Olsen, 2014-09-01 Many of the ideas that appear in Arnold's Preface of 1853 to his collection of poems and in his later essays are suggested in the letters that Arnold wrote to his friend Arthur Hugh Clough Analysis of the Preface reveals a poet who found a theoretical basis for poetry by which he means literature in general in the dramas of the Greek tragedians particularly Sophocles action is stressed as an indispensable ingredient wholes are preferred to parts the didactic function of literature is promoted in short the Preface reads like the recipe for a classical tragedy It is a young poet's attempt to establish criteria for what poetry ought to be He found the Romantic idiom outworn Literature was in Arnold's perception meant to communicate a message rather than impress by its structure or by formal sophistication Modern theories of coalescence between content and form were outside the contemporary paradigm T S Eliot's ambivalent attitude to Arnold now reluctantly admiring now decidedly patronizing is puzzling Eliot never seemed able to liberate himself from the influence of Arnold What in Arnold's critical oeuvre attracted and at the same time repelled Eliot That question has led to an in depth analysis of Arnold as a literary critic This book

begins with an examination of Arnold's letters to Clough where it all started and proceeds with a close reading of the 1853 Preface. A look at some of the later literary essays rounds off the picture of Arnold as a literary critic. This work is the result of Reader and Review comments of the author's well-received Eliot's Objective Criticism Tradition or Individual Talent. Yet he is in some respects the most satisfactory man of letters of his age. T. S. Eliot, The Use of Poetry and the Use of Criticism. A Readers Guide to Contemporary Feminist Literary Criticism Maggie Humm, 2015-07-17 This introduction to feminist literary criticism in its international contexts discusses a broad range of complex critical writings and then identifies and explains the main developments and debates within each approach. Each chapter has an easy-to-use format comprising an introductory overview, an explanation of key themes and techniques, a detailed account of the work of specific critics, and a summary which includes critiques of the approach. Each chapter is accompanied by a guide to the primary texts and further reading. Lectures on the Five-foot Shelf of Books: Criticism & the essay, 1913 A History of Feminist Literary Criticism Gill Plain, Susan Sellers, 2007-08-30 Feminism has transformed the academic study of literature fundamentally, altering the canon of what is taught and setting new agendas for literary analysis. In this authoritative history of feminist literary criticism, leading scholars chart the development of the practice from the Middle Ages to the present. The first section of the book explores protofeminist thought from the Middle Ages onwards and analyses the work of pioneers such as Wollstonecraft and Woolf. The second section examines the rise of second-wave feminism and maps its interventions across the twentieth century. A final section examines the impact of postmodernism on feminist thought and practice. This book offers a comprehensive guide to the history and development of feminist literary criticism and a lively reassessment of the main issues and authors in the field. It is essential reading for all students and scholars of feminist writing and literary criticism. The Cambridge History of Literary Criticism: Volume 7, Modernism and the New Criticism George Alexander Kennedy, 1989 The history of the most hotly debated areas of literary theory, including structuralism and deconstruction. Introduction to Ethical Literary Criticism Nie Zhenzhao, 2023-09-15 The title is a thorough introduction to ethical literary criticism, a critical methodology designed to interpret literature from the perspective of ethics, including a whole set of concepts, theories, and working mechanisms. Drawing on ideas from both Western ethical criticism and the Chinese tradition of moral criticism, ethical literary criticism contrasts with the former in its occasional lack of a theoretical foundation and applicable methodologies and the latter that tends to make subjective moral judgments. Its most groundbreaking argument is that while natural selection answers how humans are different from animals, physically, ethical selection endows human beings with reason and ethical consciousness. The ethical nature and edifying function of literature is therefore asserted, seeking to unfold in the literary text the ethical choices of human beings as a way to complete ethical selection in society within historical context. The arguments and theoretical toolbox inject a unique ethical dimension into literary criticism and help understand anew the ethical and social potency of literature. The theoretical elucidation exemplary
