

Living (reproductive)

Female _____
Genotype (what they inherit)

1. When using living individuals, and when doing crosses to test the validity of predictions? (Mendel's 2nd law) use true-breeding parents. This is because we like "parents all joined up" because of the early experiments with pea plants. We could just pick a random one from a population, and a random one from another one, and offspring in a short period of time.

2. What is the Law of Segregation?

Segregation: separation of alleles during gamete formation

Source: genetic information: this allele (two seeds) parent segregates (separate) at fertilization. Each parent carries only one allele for each gene.

3. What is Law of Independent Assortment? and of Mendel's principle that states that genes for different traits are segregated independently during the formation of gametes.

Look up the square for another trait (unrelated trait). The trait being studied is round seeds (dominant) and wrinkled seeds (recessive).

4. Do it.

	RR	rr
RR	RR	Rr
Rr	Rr	rr

What percentage of the offspring will be round? 75%
